HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 64.

WHEREAS, From some cause great numbers of fish in the rivers and waters of the State of Illinois have died and are dying within the aforesaid waters and rivers, and

WHEREAS, Such destruction of fish of all species is a great loss in human food, and a menace to the health of the inhabitants along and adjacent to the aforesaid rivers and streams, as well as being an unbearable nuisance caused by the stench from the dead fish in the water, and those cast upon the banks of the rivers and streams, and

WHEREAS, The very few fish remaining alive are unfit for food because of their being tainted; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the officials of the Game and Fish Department of the State of Illinois be requested to furnish the House of Representatives an explanation for the causes of this destruction of this great number of fish in the said rivers and streams, why such causes are permitted to exist, the possible remedy, and whether the laws governing the pollution of streams within the State are being enforced, whether the present laws are adequate to protect the fish in the rivers and streams of the State from this wanton destruction of fish, and such other information as may be of value to the General Assembly.

With the recommendation that the original resolution lie on the table and the substitute resolution be adopted.

And the question being, "Shall the House concur in the recommendation of the committee?" it was decided in the affirmative, and House Resolution No. 40 was ordered to lie on the table, and the substitute, House Resolution No. 64, was adopted.

The House proceeding on the order of resolutions, Mr. O'Brien offered the following resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 65.

WHEREAS, There is at the present time the impending danger of a street car strike in the city of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, Practically every year there have been difficulties between the street car companies and their employees over working conditions and wages; and

WHEREAS, Street car strikes in Chicago mean an enormous loss financially to the people of the city, besides the almost intolerable inconvenience to the people of the city; and

WHEREAS, There is a widespread belief among the people of the city of Chicago, that there exists a conspiracy between the leaders of street car labor unions in Chicago and the officials of the street car companies to raise wages on the one hand and the rates of fare on the other; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of seven representatives be appointed by the Speaker to investigate and inquire into all phases of street car operation in the city of Chicago, including rates of fare, wages of employees, relations with labor unions, costs of operation, profits, etc., with a view of taking such steps as are necessary to avoid further street car strikes in the city of Chicago. And be it further

Resolved, That the said committee be and is hereby specially authorized and empowered to summon before said committee as witnesses any and all persons who may in the judgment of the committee be possessed of any information deemed valuable by said committee, this to include the power to summon by subpoena duces tecum, all books, documents and papers desired as evidence by said committee; and said committee shall have and it hereby has the same power or powers possessed by the General Assembly to enforce its orders and to compel attendance of witnesses and the production of books, documents and papers; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have the power to employ assistants; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall continue its inquiry and investigation and report its recommendations together with any bill or bills to the Fifty-third General Assembly, and that the said committee shall receive no compensation but shall be paid its actual expenses, and that all necessary expenses of the said committee shall be paid out of the contingent fund on vouchers certified to by the chairman of the said committee.

Mr. O'Grady moved that the rules be suspended for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

And the question being on the motion to suspend the rules, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 48; nays, 41.

The motion having failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote, the House refused to suspend the rules.

And House Resolution No. 65 was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

Mr. Pierce offered the following resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 66.

WHEREAS, On May 26, 1923, at the State Fair Grounds in Sangamon County, Illinois, there was held an initiation ceremony by the organization known as the Ku Klux Klan, at which time there were initiated into said organization approximately 700 candidates; and

WHEREAS, Said ceremony was held upon property owned and maintained by the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, At that said ceremony there was consumed and used property owned and belonging to the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Many of the employees of the State of Illinois participated; and

WHEREAS, It is unlawful to either use or consume property of the State of Illinois for any private purpose; and

WHEREAS, It is reported in the Illinois State Register of May 27, 1923, that the entire grounds were illuminated by electric current paid for by the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, At the time and place mentioned said organization maintained approximately 200 armed guards appearing in the full regalia of the order for the purpose of refusing permission to said State Fair Grounds at the time and place mentioned of all persons who were not members of the Ku Klux Klan; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five (5) members of the House of Representatives be appointed by the Speaker of the House to investigate the facts hereinabove set forth and to report the same back to the House within the shortest possible time; be it further

Resolved, That the committee herein appointed be authorized and empowered to issue subpoenas over the signature of the chairman of said committee compelling the attendance of all persons deemed material as witnesses in the above investigation and to compel the production of all books and papers deemed important in said investigation of said subject.

Resolved, That such expense connected with the foregoing as shall be necessary shall be certified by the chairman of said committee and the chairman of the Contingent Expense Committee of the House of Representatives and shall be payable out of the funds for committee expenses of the Fifty-third General Assembly.

Mr. Pierce moved that the rules be suspended for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

And the question being on the motion to suspend the rules, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 95; nays, 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 765 on page 6, in section 3, after line 53 by adding the following paragraph:

"In such counties, in any city which is co-extensive with a township a deputy assessor for such township shall be elected at the same time as the officers of such city. His term shall commence on the first day of January following his election and shall end on the thirty-first day of December following the election of his successor. His compensation shall be the same and shall be paid in the same manner as deputy assessors appointed by the board of assessors. Until the first day of January following the next regular election of such city officers, the deputy assessor appointed by the board of assessors shall continue to make the assessments. In any such city which is co-extensive with a township, additional deputy assessors may be appointed with the same qualifications and in the same manner as in other townships in such counties except that they shall be appointed only upon the nomination of the town assessor of such township instead of the town board of auditors."

And the amendment was adopted.

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the bill do pass.

The report of the committee was concurred in and the bill ordered to a first reading.

The Speaker laid before the House the following veto message of the Governor on House Bill No. 281:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 1, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 281 entitled, "An Act relating to civil service in park systems," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

The emergency which inspired the passage of this Act has passed; the amendment to the pension law for park employees has been approved and is now a law and there is now upon the statute books a park civil service law, the terms of which are substantially the same as those of this bill.

This bill, like the law in force, prescribes civil service regulations for park systems of more than 150,000 population, and therefore applies exclusively to several park systems in the city of Chicago.

At the outset I may say that I am in full sympathy with any enactment that honestly and effectively promotes efficiency and integrity in the discharge of official duties and maintains proper discipline in the public service. This bill covers a few positions, failing to extend to hundreds of others of equal or greater importance. The employees in the park systems consist largely of persons who care for grounds, trim shrubbery, attend to lighting apparatus, act as guards, policemen, and a few in clerical positions.

There are in Cook County hundreds of other places with important duties, not covered by this bill. In the county offices are employed persons who record important legal documents upon which titles to property of great value depend; the safe-keeping and preservation of legal instruments concerning the descent and distribution of estates is entrusted to employees in those offices. Other county employees extend taxes, note and record the proceedings and judgments of the courts, while still others execute summonses, levies and other important writs. The Sanitary District of Chicago employs persons who deal with the technical problems of sanitation and waste disposal. If park employees are placed under civil service, why should employees whose duties directly affect health, liberty and property, be exempted therefrom? Is not the keeping of court records, the recording of title papers and the serving of legal writs as important as duties in the parks? This bill has overlooked hundreds of places of great importance.

If the General Assembly desires to enact civil service legislation, I suggest the consideration of bills requiring appointments to places in the Sanitary District of Chicago, in the county offices of Cook County and in the offices of the clerks and bailiffs of the courts of that county to be made by civil service examination.

To place positions in park systems under civil service, while permitting appointments to more important and difficult positions to be made, irrespective of civil service examinations, would seem to place both the General Assembly and the Governor in an inconsistent position.

I therefore veto House Bill No. 281 and return the same herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL
Governor.

Mr. Thon moved that House Bill No. 281, a bill for "An Act relating to civil service in park systems," pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor thereto."

Pending discussion, Mr. Scholes moved that further consideration of House Bill No. 281 be postponed until tomorrow.

And the motion prevailed.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Little called up House Bill No. 656, in the order of third reading; and House Bill No. 656, a bill for "An Act to amend an Act entitled, 'An Act to create sanitary districts and to provide for sewage disposal,' approved June 22, 1917, as amended, by adding thereto four additional sections to be known as sections 19, 20, 21 and 22."

Having been transcribed and typed, and all amendments adopted thereto having been printed, was taken up and read at large a third time.

And the question being, "Shall this bill pass?" it was decided in the affirmative by the following vote: Yeas, 78; nays, 25.

Those voting in the affirmative are: Messrs.

				Nays—25.

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

By unanimous consent, Mr. A. O. Arnold called up House Bill No. 588, in the order of second reading; and House Bill No. 588, a bill for "An Act to amend section 17 of 'An Act in relation to the construction, operation and maintenance of a deep waterway from the water power plant of the Sanitary District of Chicago at or near Lockport to a point in the Illinois River at or near Utica, and for the development and utilization of the water power thereof,' approved June 17, 1919."

Having heretofore been read at large a second time on May 10th, and consideration postponed, was again taken up in the order of second reading.

The pending question being Amendment No. 1, offered by Mr. A. O. Arnold, the same was again taken up.

Whereupon, Mr. Browne offered the following as a substitute for Amendment No. 1:

SUBSTITUTE.

Amend House Bill No. 588 by striking out all of lines 8 to 74, both inclusive, and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 17. Before the construction of any dam to be located below any city or village is begun, and before any gates or movable structures are installed in any such dam, plans and specifications for such dam and for such gates and movable structures, shall first be submitted to and filed with the city council or village board of any city or village on, adjacent or contiguous to the pool created by such dam and situated on said Illinois Waterway as well as to the county board of any county and boards of education owning, possessing or controlling any real property abutting on, adjacent or contiguous to any pond to be created by such dam. With such plans and specifications the Department of Public Works and Buildings shall also submit to said respective public bodies maps, profiles, soundings, plans and specifications showing the lands, public works, public property, sewers, sewer systems, creeks, drains, streets, highways and bridges, with the approaches thereto, which will be damaged or affected by such proposed construction, and also plans and specifications showing how lands, public works and public property submerged or damaged by such proposed construction and belonging to or under the control of any of said respective public bodies will be compensated for; taken care of or protected, which, in the case of land belonging to or under the control of a board of education, shall be by dyking, filling with sand, earth or other material including a top surface of not less than eighteen inches of good soil suitable for growing a good grass sod thereon, and also showing how sewers, sewer systems, creeks, drains, streets, highways and bridges, with the approaches thereto, must be altered, rebuilt or reconstructed, together with a detailed, itemized estimate of the cost of such altering, rebuilding or reconstructing so that they will perform the same service as before the elevation of the water is increased as proposed by the construction of such dam.

Within thirty days of the submission and filing of such plans and specifications with said respective public bodies any of said public bodies may file objections thereto in writing with the Department of Public Works and Buildings on the ground that such plans and specifications, with the maps, profiles and soundings accompanying the same:

(a) Are inadequate, insufficient, inaccurate or incomplete and do not afford the requisite information and data;

(b) Do not provide proper and adequate protection against damage from overflow or flood waters;

(c) Do not provide adequately for compensating, taking care of or protecting lands to be submerged or damaged and belonging to or under the control of such objecting public bodies.

(d) Do not provide adequately for altering, rebuilding or reconstructing sewers, sewer systems, creeks, drains, streets, highways and bridges, with the approaches thereto, or other public works, which will be damaged, destroyed or materially interfered with by such construction;

(e) Provide for the creation of unsanitary and dangerous conditions menacing to the public health;

(f) Do not provide for the proper location of public landing places, in case the Department of Public Works and Buildings shall, in its discretion, provide for a public landing place in a city or village.

Upon the filing of such objections the Department of Public Works and Buildings shall adjust any differences that may exist. It shall, if such differences cannot be adjusted amicably and to the satisfaction of all parties, review and check such plans and specifications with an engineer selected by the objecting public body, but compensated by the Department of Public Works and Buildings. If the Department of Public Works and Buildings and the engineer of the objecting public body cannot agree, then the Department of Public Works and Buildings and such engineer of the objecting public body shall agree upon a third engineer, who shall be compensated by the State, and such respective engineers shall constitute an arbitration board to consider such plans and specifications and the objections thereto. In case the Department of Public Works and Buildings and the engineer of the objecting public body cannot agree upon a third engineer, then such third engineer shall be designated and appointed by the resident circuit judge, if there be one, otherwise by the presiding judge of the Circuit Court of the county within which the objecting public body is situated.

If no objections are filed the plans and specifications submitted to and filed with the respective public bodies shall be the plans and specifications in accordance with which the work described therein shall be executed. If objections are filed such work shall be executed in accordance with plans and specifications adjusted and approved by the respective public bodies as herein provided. All changes and alterations in plans and specifications shall follow the same course of procedure as is hereinabove provided.

Before or at the time of letting any contract for the construction of any dam, or any part thereof, or work connected therewith, the Department of Public Works and Buildings shall let contracts for the doing of all the things necessary to take care of and protect lands to be submerged or damaged by the proposed construction of such dam, and for all the things necessary to be done in altering, rebuilding or reconstructing sewers, sewer systems, creeks, drains, streets, highways and bridges, with the approaches thereto, all such contracts to be let and executed in accordance with the plans and specifications as approved and adjusted by the respective public bodies as herein provided and the work thereon to be completed, approved and accepted by said respective public bodies before any gates or movable structures are installed in any such dam.

The compensation of any engineer employed by any such public body and that of the engineer on any arbitration board shall be fixed by the Department of Public Works and Buildings in advance of employment.

Each public body to which plans and specifications are submitted, as aforesaid, shall at all times have the right to examine and inspect the work being done for such public body in order to ascertain if such work is being prosecuted in accordance with the plans and specifications.

The datum used on all maps, plans, profiles and specifications shall be the Chicago city datum.

Mr. Church, from the Committee on Elections, submitted the following report:

IN THE FIFTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, }
STATE OF ILLINOIS } ss.
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES }

In the matter of the determination of the result of the election for representative in the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois from the Eighth, Eleventh, Twenty-first,
Twenty-seventh, Twenty-ninth and Forty-first Senatorial Districts of said State. } Report of Committee on Elections.

To the Honorable David E. Shanahan, Speaker, and Members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

Your Committee on Elections to which were referred the contests of the eighth, eleventh, twenty-first, twenty-seventh, twenty-ninth and forty-first Senatorial Districts, begs leave to submit the following report:

EIGHTH DISTRICT.

In the matter of the contest of Charles F. Hayes vs. Charles H. Francis, William F. Weiss, William L. Pierce and Owen E. Hammond, your committee recommends that said contest be dismissed, and that the aforesaid Charles H. Francis, William F. Weiss and William L. Pierce be declared entitled to seats in this House.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT.

In the matter of the contest of Philip M. Geiseler vs. David I. Swanson, John M. Lee, George A. Fitzgerald, Henry Groenier, Roy L. Wolfe and George W. O'Neil, your committee recommends that said contest be dismissed, and that the aforesaid David I. Swanson, John M. Lee and George A. Fitzgerald be declared entitled to seats in this House.

TWENTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

In the matter of the contest of James Vignola vs. William F. Daley, Michael F. Maher, Benjamin B. Mitchell, H. W. Harris and M. J. Moriarity, your committee recommends that said contest be dismissed and that the aforesaid William F. Daley, Michael F. Maher and Benjamin M. Mitchell be declared entitled to seats in this House.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DISTRICT.

In the matter of the contest of Ignatz Stankiewicz vs. Albert Rostenkowski, Joseph A. Trandel and William Lipka, your committee recommends that said contest be dismissed and that the aforesaid Albert Rostenkowski, Joseph A. Trandel and William Lipka be declared entitled to seats in this House.

TWENTY-NINTH DISTRICT.

In the matter of the contest of Bernard J. Conlon vs. Michael R. Durso, Ernest W. Turner, Lawrence C. O'Brien and William Acker, your committee recommends that said contest be dismissed and that the aforesaid Michael R. Durso, Ernest W. Turner and Lawrence C. O'Brien be declared entitled to seats in this House.

FORTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

In the matter of the contest of Michael F. Hennebry vs. William R. McCabe, John L. Walker, Lottie Holman O'Neill and Ernest Bourrie, your committee recommends that the aforesaid John L. Walker, Lottie Holman O'Neill and Michael F. Hennebry, instead of Wm. R. McCabe, be declared entitled to seats in this House. The report of the sub-committee and the tally sheets prepared by its clerks are made a part of this report.

RULES.

Your committee also submits, for the information of the House, the rules adopted by the Committee on Elections for its guidance in the consideration of the contests, as follows:

Resolved, by the Committee on Elections of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly of Illinois, The said committee be and the same is hereby governed and controlled in the hearing of all contested election matters by the following rules:

1. That each contestant be and he hereby is required to file his petition or notice or other papers heretofore filed by him with the Secretary of State, before this committee, setting forth the specific allegations and reasons for his contest.

2. That all rules governing pleadings in courts of chancery be and the same are hereby adopted as the rules governing pleadings before this committee.

3. That the facts alleged in said petition or notice or other papers of the contestant shall be supported by affidavits of the specific allegations of fraud or other reasons upon which the contest is based.

4. That all such pleadings, notice or other papers of contestant be filed with this committee by Tuesday, February 20, 1923.

5. That the petitions, notices or other papers of all contestants must set out with distinctness and certainty all the reasons and causes for the contest.

6. That all contests shall be heard:

First, upon jurisdictional questions;

Second, upon the petition or notice and prima facie showing;

Third, upon the merits.

7. That any contest may be dismissed by the committee for want of jurisdiction or for want of sufficient petition or notice or for failure on the part of any contestant or his attorney to comply with the rules and regulations of this committee.

8. That all contests not dismissed for want of jurisdiction shall then be heard by this committee to ascertain whether the petition, notice or other papers, together with its accompanying affidavits, and oral proof makes out a prima facie case.

9. That the testimony of witnesses (the number to be determined by the committee) may be heard tending to make out such prima facie showing on the part of contestant, and such witnesses may be subjected to cross-examination by any contestee, or his attorney.

10. That any contest may be dismissed if in the judgment of this committee such contestant fails to make out his prima facie case.

11. That all contests having been heard upon the question of a prima facie showing and not dismissed shall then be heard upon the merits.

12. That in the hearing upon the merits of any contest the ballots shall be recounted upon a rule being entered by this committee to such effect, and a sub-committee may be appointed by the chairman (subject to the approval of the committee) to recount such ballots and report their findings together with their conclusions, to this committee, and such sub-committee shall, when so appointed, have all the power to employ clerks, stenographers, and messengers and do any and all things necessary in and about counting the ballots, and all the power to send for and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, ballots, documents, records, and to place under oath and examine such witnesses, the same as the whole committee, and to issue commissions under the hand of its chairman to any officer authorized to take the depositions of any necessary witnesses as is by law vested, or may hereafter be vested, in this committee.

13. That the time for taking up the hearing in any contest matter shall be determined by the chairman of this committee.

14. That in all contest hearings the contestant, or his attorney, shall have the opening and closing, the time to be fixed by the chairman of this committee.

15. That in case of the appointment of a sub-committee to open and count the ballots, where there is a disagreement among the members of the sub-committee as to the method of counting and tallying any particular ballot or ballots in that contest, that that question shall not be determined by the sub-committee, but shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole for its deliberation.

16. The words, "The contestant shall, within thirty days after the result of the election shall have been determined," in lines one and two of section

106, chapter 46, on Elections, of the Reised Statutes of Illinois, are hereby construed to mean, "The contestant shall, within thirty days after the result of the election shall have been proclaimed by the State Convassing Board, as provided by law."

That in any election contest now pending or hereafter filed against a sitting member of this House, no attorney fee or expenses whatever shall be paid to or on behalf of the contestant unless he shall be successful in such contest, and not to exceed five hundred dollars may be allowed to any sitting member against whom a contest has been filed and in which a recount of the ballots is made, and not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars where the contest is dismissed without a recount of the ballots, whether such dismissal is on the motion of the contestant, contestee, or of the House, or of the Elections Committee, or any sub-committee of the same. No expenses as such shall be allowed to any attorney in any case for either contestant or contestee, but expenses may be allowed in his behalf as hereinafter stated. No expenses shall be allowed to any successful contestant, or to a contestee who is a sitting member of the House, except the account therefor shall be itemized in detail, and shall be verified. A successful contestant or a contestee who is a sitting member of the House, may pay the actual railroad fare and hotel bills of his attorney, and include the amount in such account. Where any necessary expense of a successful contestant, or of a contestee who is a sitting member of the House, may be incurred but not paid they may be included in the amount to be allowed, but in such event the account therefor shall be itemized in detail by the party to whom it is due, and shall be verified by him. No attorney fee or expenses whatever shall be paid to or on behalf of any contestee who is not a sitting member of the House.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

RALPH E. CHURCH,
Chairman, Committee on Elections.

IN THE FIFTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, }
STATE OF ILLINOIS, } ss.
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }

In the matter of the determination of the result of the election for Representative in the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois from the Forty-first Senatorial District of said State. } Report of Said Committee.

To the Chairman and the members of Election Committee of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly:

We, the sub-committee appointed by the Chairman of the Elections Committee to determine whether Michael F. Hennebry, petitioner, or William R. McCabe, respondent, was duly elected a representative in the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, from the Forty-first Senatorial District of the said State at the general election held on the seventh day of November, A. D. 1922, respectfully submit the following report:

The counties of Will and DuPage constitute the Forty-first Senatorial District of the State of Illinois, and your sub-committee pursuant to their appointment and the power in them vested by the constitution and the House of Representatives proceeded to Joliet in Will County and Wheaton in DuPage County, and after hearing evidence, both oral and documentary, as to the preservation of the ballots in said two counties, your sub-committee recounted all the ballots cast in said senatorial district at said election on the seventh day of November, A. D. 1922, for Michael F. Hennebry and William R. McCabe for members of, or Representatives in the General Assembly of Illinois, and from such recount your committee find that: In the county of Will the said Michael F. Hennebry received 19,611½ votes and in the county of DuPage the said Michael F. Hennebry received 5,226 votes, that the total number of votes cast for said Michael F. Hennebry in said district at said election was 24,837½ votes. That the total number of votes cast for William R. McCabe in the county of Will was 17,838½ votes and that the total number of votes cast for said William R. McCabe in the county of DuPage was 6,740½ votes, and that the total number of votes cast for William R. McCabe in the said Forty-first Senatorial District was 24,579 votes. That the said Michael F. Hennebry received at said election 258½ votes more than did William R. McCabe, and that the said Michael F. Hennebry, and not the said William R. McCabe, was duly and legally elected at said election a member of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, from the Forty-first Senatorial District of said State.

Your sub-committee does, therefore, recommend that the said Michael F. Hennebry, and not the said William R. McCabe, be declared to have been duly and legally elected at said election, a member of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, from the Forty-first Senatorial District of said State, and that he, the said Michael F. Hennebry, is entitled to be and should be seated in the House of Representatives of said Fifty-third General Assembly for or from said Forty-first Senatorial District.

The tally-sheets prepared by the Clerks of your sub-committee submitted herewith, are made a part of this report.

Dated at Springfield, Illinois, this fifth day of June, A. D. 1923, all of which is respectfully submitted.

A. L. STANFIELD, Chairman,
P. S. KRUMP,
REED F. CUTLER,
THOMAS F. FROLE,
JOHN F. BERRY,
J. W. RAUSCH,

Sub-committee of the General Assembly to determine the election for Representative in the Forty-first Senatorial District of the State of Illinois.

And the question being on the adoption of the report of the committee, it was decided in the affirmative.

The report of the Committee on Elections seating Michael F. Hennebry in place of William R. McCabe from the Forty-first Senatorial District, having been adopted, the Speaker announced that Mr. Hennebry was present.

Whereupon, Justice William M. Farmer, of the Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to Hon. Michael F. Hennebry, of the Forty-first Senatorial District.

The Speaker, thereupon, directed the Clerk of the House to strike the name of Hon. William R. McCabe from the official roster, and substitute in lieu thereof that of Hon. Michael F. Hennebry.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Lyon called up House Bill No. 820, in the order of second reading; and House Bill No. 820, a bill for "An Act to amend section 4 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to deadly weapons,' filed July 11, 1919."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, Mr. Browne offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend House Bill No. 820 by striking out the enacting clause.

Mr. Castle moved to lay the amendment on the table.

And the question being on the motion to table, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 55; nays, 62.

And the motion to table was lost.

The question recurring on the adoption of the amendment, on demand of five members, a call of the roll was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 62; nays, 65.

Those voting in the affirmative are: Messrs.

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, the Committee on Revenue offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend House Bill No. 125, on pages 20 and 21 of the printed bill, by striking out all of lines 575 to 585 inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

In counties containing less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants now having an elected board of assessors, and an elected board of review as heretofore provided by law for counties containing over one hundred and twenty-five thousand inhabitants, the county board may by resolution submit to the legal voters of the county at any general election or at a special election which it is hereby authorized to call, the question of abolishing the elected board of assessors and the elected board of review. Such election shall be held and returns made all in the manner now provided by the general election laws and the ballots shall be in substantially the following form:

Shall the offices of the elected board of assessors and the elected board of review be abolished.	YES
	NO

If a majority of the voters voting on such question vote in favor of the proposition, then the offices of the elected board of assessors and the elected board of review shall be abolished, to take effect on the first day of December following the date of such election. On that date, all records, books and papers pertaining to said offices shall be transferred and delivered by said boards to their successors in office, and thereafter all the powers and duties conferred upon assessors, supervisors of assessment and board of review in counties of less than one hundred and twenty-five thousand inhabitants, shall be exercised and performed by assessors, supervisors of assessment and boards of review as provided by law for counties containing less than one hundred twenty-five thousand inhabitants.

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing amendment was ordered printed.

And the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Maher called up House Bill No. 366, in the order of second reading, and House Bill No. 366, a bill for "An Act concerning pool halls."

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 1.

Resolved, by the Senate of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That pursuant to section 2 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Illinois, it is proposed that section 2 of Article 14 of the Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either house of the General Assembly, and if the same shall be voted for by two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendments together with the yeas and nays of each house hereon shall be entered in full on their respective journals and said amendments shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection at the next election of members of the General Assembly in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The proposed amendments shall be published in full at least three months preceding the election and if a majority of the electors voting at said election shall vote for the proposed amendments, they shall become a part of this Constitution. But the General Assembly shall have no power to propose amendments to more than two articles of this Constitution at the same session, nor to the same article oftener than once in four years.

Adopted by a two-thirds vote June 6, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

SENATE BILL No. 437.

A bill for "An Act to amend section 82 of 'An Act to establish and maintain a system of free schools,' approved June 12, 1909, as amended."

SENATE BILL No. 438.

A bill for "An Act concerning declaratory judgments and decrees and to make uniform the law relating thereto."

SENATE BILL No. 530.

A bill for "An Act to create the Illinois Educational Commission, to define its powers and duties and to make an appropriation therefor."

Passed by the Senate June 6, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing bills, numbered 78, 122, 220, 437, 438 and 530, were taken up, read by title, ordered printed and to a first reading.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 229.

A bill for "An Act to amend section 9 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to recorders,' approved March 9, 1874, as amended."

Together with the following amendments thereto, in the adoption of which amendments I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 229 in Senate on pages 1 and 2 by striking out the period after the word "instruments" in line 9 of the printed bill and inserting the following: "and provided further, that in counties of the third class of five hundred thousand population, or over, two distinct series of document numbers may be used for recording documents filed for record, one series of numbers to be preceded with a letter "B" in each case, which series shall be used only for bills of sale of personal property and chattel mortgages, and the other series of documents numbered shall be used for all other instruments filed for record other than bills of sale of personal property and chattel mortgages. When two series of document numbers are thus used, a separate filing place may be provided in the recorder's office for each kind of documents to which such serial numbers apply.

In counties of the third class of five hundred thousand population, or over, the recorder, in recording at length instruments in writing in his office, may transcribe the same in handwriting or typewriting, or make photographic reproductions of such instruments, or may transcribe the same partly in handwriting or typewriting and make photographic reproductions of the remaining portions of such instruments, provided that every document shall appear spread upon the records in a complete and intelligible manner. When photographic reproductions are used the recorder shall first be satisfied that such photographic reproductions shall be as practical, lasting and durable as handwritten or typewritten copies, and the photographic reproductions shall be upon sheets bound together in well bound books, or placed in books which are permanently locked so that said sheets cannot be tampered with or removed.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed House Bill No. 229 in Senate by striking out in line 36 of the printed bill the word "receieve" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "receive."

Passed by the Senate with amendments on June 6, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate amendments to House Bill No. 229, was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 218.

A bill for "An Act to amend section 9 of Article IV of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to roads and bridges,' approved June 27, 1913, as amended, and to add section 9a thereto."

Mr. F. A. McCarthy gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move to reconsider the vote by which the motion to postpone was lost.

The attention of the House was called to the absence of Mr. Igoe, who was called to Chicago for the day.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Doyle called up House Bill No. 546 in the order of third reading, and House Bill No. 546, a bill for "An Act to amend sections 2, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 24, 29, 30, 34, 35, 38, 47, 52 and 53 of 'An Act for the assessment of property and providing the means therefor, and to repeal a certain Act therein named,' approved February 25, 1898, as amended."

Having been transcribed and typed, and all amendments adopted thereto having been printed, was taken up and read at large a third time.

Pending roll call, on motion of Mr. Doyle, further consideration of House Bill No. 546 was postponed.

Mr. Ben L. Smith moved to recall Senate Bill No. 440 to the order of second reading for the purpose of amendment.

The motion prevailed.

And Senate Bill No. 440, a bill for "An Act to amend sections 40 and 127 of 'An Act to establish and maintain a system of free schools,' approved June 12, 1909, as amended."

Was again taken up in the order of second reading.

Whereupon, Mr. Ben L. Smith offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend Senate Bill No. 440 in House on page 1 of the printed bill in section 40, line 2, by inserting after the word "site" a comma and striking the word "or" and inserting after the word "building" the following "or site with buildings thereon."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 440 in House, on page 2, section 40, by striking all of lines 27, 28 and 29 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"But whenever the board of directors or board of education of any school district shall determine that any school house site with or without a building thereon is of no further use to said district, and shall agree with the board of directors or board of education of any other school district within the boundaries of which such site is situated, upon the sale thereof to such district, and shall agree upon the price to be paid therefor, and such site shall be selected by such purchasing district in the manner required by law, then after the payment of such compensation the township trustees of schools shall, by proper instrument in writing, transfer the use of such site to such purchasing district."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 440 in House, on page 3, section 127, by striking lines 11, 12 and 13, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Fifth—To buy or lease one or more sites for school houses with necessary ground, and to purchase, build or move a school house, but it shall not be lawful for such school board of education to purchase or locate a school house site, or to purchase, build or move a school house, unless authorized by a majority of all."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 440 in House, on page 3, section 127, line 26, by inserting after the word "price" a comma, and the following: "or in case condemnation proceedings are contemplated, the maximum estimated price."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 6.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 440 in House, on page 3, section 127, line 29, by striking the period after the word "ballot" and inserting in lieu thereof a comma, and the following: "And in no case shall the board of education purchase any such property for a greater sum than the price or maximum estimated price stated upon the ballot."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 7.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 440 in House on page 4, section 127, line 40, by inserting after the comma after the word, "studies" the following: "the number of persons between the ages of twelve and twenty-one unable to read and write."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 8.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 440 in House on page 4, section 127, by striking all of line 48 after the word "site" and all of lines 49 and 50.

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing amendments numbered 1 to 8, both inclusive, were ordered printed, transcribed and typed.

And the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be again ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Rentchler called up Senate Bill No. 457 in the order of second reading, and Senate Bill No. 457, a bill for "An Act to amend sections 2a, 2b, 3 and 4 and the title of 'An Act provided for the licensing of dogs and for the payment of damages done by dogs to sheep out of the license fee,' approved May 29, 1879, as amended, and to add section 3a thereto."

Was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, the Committee on Agriculture offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 457 in the House on page 2, line 16, by striking out the word "seventy-five" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "fifty".

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 457 in the House on page 2, line 17, by striking out the words "one hundred" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "seventy-five".

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 457 in the House on page 3, Sec. 3a, line 1, by striking out the word "first" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "thirtieth".

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 457 in the House on page 3, section 3a, lines 2 and 3 by striking out the words after the figures "($2,000)" as follows: "that have been in such county dog license fund for two years."

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing amendments, numbered 1, 2, 3 and 4 were ordered printed, transcribed and typed.

And the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Rentchler, from the Committee on Enrolling, Transcribing and Typing of Bills, reported that bills of the following titles have been correctly transcribed and typed and are returned herewith:

HOUSE BILL No. 220.

"An Act making appropriations for the pay of officers and members of the next General Assembly and certain officers of the State government."

The foregoing bills, numbered 220, 841, 845 and 846, were placed in the order of House bills on third reading.

By unanimous consent, on motion of Mr. Castle, Senate Bill No. 384, reported to the House on June 8th, without recommendation, was placed on the calendar in the order of second reading.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 27.

WHEREAS, The present condition of industry, and especially transportation is partially the result of the present controversy between railway managements and their employees; and,

WHEREAS, The welfare of the citizens of the State and Nation is involved; and,

WHEREAS, The President of the United States by recent utterances wherein he mentions the suffering that has been brought to his attention, a coal shortage in some places, which not only affects all citizens, but industry in general, has given it as his opinion that a continuance of the present controversy will have a greater demoralizing effect if settlements are not soon made on the balance of the railroads of the country in the very near future; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the State Senate of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring therein, That in the interests of American industry and shipping, and in the interests of all of the people of this great nation, that we not only urge, but in the name of the people of the State of Illinois, request that both parties to the present controversy, the managements and their employees meet immediately and set in operation machinery that will bring about an early adjustment of the questions in dispute, and we further request that this meeting between employees and management be entered into in a spirit of cooperation and compromise for the best interests of all of the people of our State and nation; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be immediately forwarded to the management of the various railroads of Illinois, and to the representatives of the Federated Shop Crafts of each road effected.

Adopted by the Senate on June 12, 1923.

A message from the Governor, by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 13, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 226, entitled, "An Act to amend sections 9, 10, 35, 46 and 58 of 'An Act to provide for the holding of primary elections by political parties,' approved March 9, 1910, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

I believe that the main purpose which the proponents of this bill hoped to accomplish was to give women voters representation upon the party central committees by doubling the number of committeemen and providing that half of the number should be women and the other half men. I am in hearty accord with this aim.

This bill, however, incidentally and apparently by oversight, includes and seems to re-enact provisions whereby delegates to the national nominating conventions are to be elected by the congressional committees instead of by the people themselves. It will be noted on page six of the engrossed bill, which I return herewith, that the statement is made that the congressional convention shall have power to choose and select delegates and alternate delegates to national nominating conventions. I feel it to be my duty to veto any measure which curtails or takes away the right of the people to select their own representatives. It has, for many years, been the policy of this State to extend to its people, wherever possible and practicable, the fullest power in the nominating and electing of public officials and in the determination of questions of public importance. This policy has my unqualified endorsement and the fullest measure of my support. Wherever and in whatever manner, possible the government should be brought closer to the people, their voice in the selection of public servants should be made more potent, their right to determine questions of government should be extended. My confidence in the intelligence and high purposes of the American people is such that I cannot knowingly give my approval or lend my support to any enactment which deprives them to any extent of the control of their governments, local, State or national.

House Bill 226, as I have pointed out, endangers the right of the people themselves to select their delegates to the national conventions. The approval of this bill might, and I fear would, make it possible for politicians to select the delegates instead of leaving the selection to the people themselves. These considerations move me to veto this bill.

However, I shall be glad to approve any measure which gives to women voters representation upon their party committees without endangering the remaining provisions of the Primary Act.

I have, therefore, undertaken and have had a frank discussion with the very worthy women who are supporting House Bill 226. They have called my attention to the fact, and I now direct the attention of the House to the same fact, that there is pending in the Senate, House Bill 766, which has already passed the House and which makes certain changes in the Primary Law. It has been suggested that House Bill 766 be amended in the Senate to include those provisions of the vetoed bill which extend to women the right of representation on party committees. With this in mind my office has cooperated in the drafting of amendments to House Bill 766, which, in the main, retain the substance of that bill, include the provisions of House Bill 226, giving to women the right to be represented on the party committees, but at the same time make it very clear that delegates to the national conventions are to be elected by the people and not by the party congressional committee. I attach hereto a copy of the suggested amendments to House Bill 766 in Senate.

It will be noted that the suggested amendments also clarify the section of the Primary Act, dealing with the expression of presidential preference. Heretofore, there has existed some confusion in the law with reference to the number of signers required on a petition of a presidential candidate. These amendments remove all such confusion.

Having these purposes in mind, I have addressed to the Senate a brief message calling their attention to this situation and recommending the amendment of House Bill 766 so as to include women on the party committees and to make it clear that delegates to the national conventions are to be elected directly by the people, and recommending that House Bill 766 so amended be passed. In case this is done by the Senate, I earnestly recommend that the House concur in the passage of that bill so amended and in that way accomplish the principal purpose which inspired the introduction and passage of House Bill 226, which I veto and return herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL.
Governor of Illinois.

AMENDMENTS TO PRINTED HOUSE BILL NO. 766 IN SENATE.

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title to printed House Bill No. 766 in Senate by striking out the word and figure "Section 9" and inserting in lieu thereof the following words and figures: "Sections 9, 10, 29, 30, 35, 46 and 58."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed House Bill No. 766 in Senate by striking out everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following words and figures:

"Section 1. Sections 9, 10, 29, 30, 35, 46 and 58 of 'An Act to provide for the holding of primary elections by political parties,' approved March 9, 1910, as amended, are amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. (1) The State central committee shall be composed of two members, one man and one woman, from each congressional district in the State, and shall be elected as follows:

At the April primary held in the year 1924 and at the April primary held every four years thereafter, each primary elector may vote for two candidates, one man and one woman, of his party for members of the State central committee for the congressional district in which he resides. The State central committee of each political party shall be composed of members elected from the several congressional districts of the State as herein provided, and of no other person or persons whomsoever. The members of the State central committee shall, within thirty days after their election, meet in the city of Springfield, and organize by electing from among their own number a chairman and a vice-chairman, of opposite sex and may, at such time elect such other officers from among their own number or otherwise as they may deem necessary or expedient. The outgoing chairman of the State central committee of his party shall, ten days before the meeting, notify each member of the State central committee elected at the primary of the time and place of such meeting.

(2) At the April primary held in April, A. D. 1924, and at the April primary held every four years thereafter, each primary elector may write or attach in the space left on the primary ballot for that purpose the names of two qualified electors (one man and one woman) of his party in the precinct for members of his political party precinct committee. The two (one man and one woman) having the highest number of votes shall be such committeeman of such party for such precinct. In case of a tie, the primary judges shall cast lots. The official returns of the primary judges shall show the names and addresses of the committeemen of such political party in the county; Provided, however, the provisions of this sub-section two (2) of section nine (9) shall not apply to precincts within the territorial limits of an incorporated city or village having a population of two hundred thousand or over.

(3) The county central committee of each political party shall consist of the members of various precinct committees and ward committees, if any, of such party in the county. In the organization and proceedings of the county central committee each precinct committeeman shall have one vote and one additional vote for each one hundred votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in his precinct for Governor at the last general election and each ward committeeman shall have two votes for each precinct in his ward and one additional vote for each fifty votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in each precinct of his ward for Governor at the last general election. The committee, at its first meeting, shall elect a chairman and a vice-chairman of the opposite sex.

(4) The congressional committee of each political party shall be composed of the chairman and vice-chairman of the county central committees of the counties composing the congressional district, excepting that in congressional districts wholly within the territorial limits of one county, or wholly within the territorial limits of one county and partly within the territorial limits of another county, then the members of the precinct committees of the party residing within the limits of the congressional district shall compose the congressional committee; Provided, however, that in congressional districts wholly within the territorial limits of an incorporated city or village having a population of two hundred thousand or over, or partly within the limits of such city or village and partly without the limits of such city or village, then the members of the precinct and ward committees of the party of the precincts and wards within the limits of the congressional district shall compose the congressional committee.

In the organization and proceedings of congressional committees, composed in whole or in part of precinct committeemen, each precinct committeeman shall have one vote and one additional vote for each one hundred votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in his precinct for Governor at the last general election, and in the organization and proceedings of congressional committees, composed in whole or in part of ward committeemen, each ward committeemen shall have two votes for each precinct in his ward, and one additional vote for each fifty votes or major fraction thereof of his party as cast in each precinct of his ward located in such congressional district for Governor at the last general election.

(5) The city central committee of each political party shall be composed of the precinct committeemen of such party residing in such city, excepting that in incorporated cities or villages having a population of two hundred thousand or over, then the city central committee shall be composed of the ward committeemen residing within the territorial limits of such city or village, which said ward committeemen shall be elected at large in their respective wards. Such ward committeemen shall be elected at the April primary held in the year 1924, and shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. Successors to such ward committeemen shall be elected at the April primary held in the year 1928 and at the April primary held every four years thereafter.

The word "Ward" in this section shall be construed to mean a division for which aldermen are elected in such last mentioned cities or villages.

(6) Each committee and its officers shall have the powers usually exercised by such committees and by the officers thereof, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. The several committees herein provided for shall not have power to delegate any of their powers or functions to any other person, officer or committee, but this shall not be construed to prevent a committee from appointing from its own membership proper and necessary sub-committees, and particularly defining, by resolution, the duties of such sub-committees.

(7) The various political party committees now in existence are hereby recognized and shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until committeemen are chosen, in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 10. (a) On the first Monday next succeeding the April primary, the county central committee of each political party shall meet at the county seat of the proper county and proceed to organize by electing from its own number a chairman and a vice chairman of the opposite sex, and either from its own number or otherwise, such other officers as said committee may deem necessary or expedient. Such meeting of the county central committee shall be known as the county convention. The county convention of each political party shall choose delegates to the congressional and State conventions of its party; provided, only precinct and ward committeemen of the respective precincts and wards within the limits of a congressional district shall participate in the selection of delegates to a congressional convention; and, provided, further, that each of such precinct committeemen in the county convention shall have one vote and one additional vote for each one hundred votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in his precinct for Governor at the last general election, and that each of such ward committeemen shall have two votes for each precinct in his ward and one additional vote for each fifty votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in each precinct of his ward for Governor at the last general election.

(b) All congressional conventions shall be held on the first Wednesday after the first Monday next succeeding the April primary. The congressional convention of each political party shall have power to recommend to the State convention of its party the nomination of candidate or candidates from such congressional district for elector or electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

(c) All State conventions shall be held on the first Friday after the first Monday next succeeding the April primary. The State convention of each political party shall have power to make nominations of candidates for the electors of President and Vice President of the United States and for trustees of the University of Illinois, and to adopt any party platform.

(d) Each convention may perform all other functions inherent to such political organization and not inconsistent with this Act.

(e) At least thirty-three (33) days before the April primary the State and congressional committee respectively of each political party shall file in the office of the county clerk in each county of the State, or in each county of the congressional district, a call for the State and congressional conventions. Said call shall state, among other things, the time and place (designating the building or hall) for holding the State and congressional conventions, respectively, the total number of delegates which shall compose each of said conventions, and the call for State conventions shall state, among other things, the number of delegates to which each county is entitled in the State convention and the call for the congressional convention shall state, among other things, the number of delegates to which each county or political subdivision of any county, as the case may be, is entitled to in the congressional convention. Such call shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of the respective committees.

Sec. 29. Any candidate for President of the United States may have his name printed upon the primary ballot of his political party by filing in the office of the Secretary of State not less than forty (40) days prior to the date of the April primary, in any year, a petition signed by not less than two thousand five hundred (2500) nor more than four thousand (4000) primary electors, members of and affiliated with the party of which he is a candidate, and no candidate for President of the United States, who fails to comply with the provisions of this Act shall have his name printed upon any primary ballot: Provided, that the vote for President of the United States, as herein provided for, shall be for the sole purpose of securing an expression of the sentiment and will of the party voters with respect to candidates for nomination for said office, and the vote of the State at large shall be taken and considered as advisory to the delegates and alternates at large to the National Conventions of respective political parties; and the vote of the respective congressional districts shall be taken and considered as advisory to the delegates and alternates of said congressional districts to the National Conventions of the respective political parties.

Sec. 30. All petitions for nominations shall be filed as follows:

(1) Where the nomination is to be made for a State, congressional, judicial or appellate court office, or for any office a nomination for which is made for a territorial division or district which comprises more than one county or is partly in one county and partly in another county or counties then such petition for nomination shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not more than sixty (60) and not less than forty (40) days prior to the date of primary.

(2) Where the nomination is to be made for a county office, trustee of a sanitary district (except clerk of the appellate court of the first district) or ward committeeman, then such petition shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk not more than sixty (60) nor less than forty (40) days prior to the date of the primary.

(3) Where the nomination is to be made for an office to be filled by the electors of an entire city or village, including aldermen, such petitions for nomination shall be filed in the office of the city or village clerk not more than thirty (30) nor less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the primary.

(4) Where the nomination is to be made for an office to be filled by the electors of a town, then such petition for nomination shall be filed in the office of the town clerk not more than thirty (30) and not less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the primary.

(5) The petitions of candidates for State Central committeeman shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not more than sixty (60) and not less than forty (40) days prior to the date of the primary.

(6) The Secretary of State and the various clerks with whom such petitions for nominations are filed shall endorse thereon the day and hour on which each petition was filed.

(7) Any person for whom a petition for nomination for a committeeman has been filed may cause his name to be withdrawn by request in writing, signed by him and duly acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, not less than thirty-five (35) days, or with the proper clerk not less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the primary, and no names so withdrawn shall be certified by the Secretary of State to the county clerk, or printed on the primary ballot.

(8) Each person seeking to be elected as delegate or alternate delegate to the national nominating convention of his party shall file, along with his nominating petition, a statement in writing signed by him in which he shall state the name of the candidate of his choice for nomination for President of the United States, or, in lieu thereof, may file a statement to the effect that he has no preference for candidates for President of the United States. The Secretary of State shall not permit a petition of a candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to the national nominating convention to be filed unless accompanied by the statement required in paragraph 8 of this section.

Sec. 35. The primary ballot of each political party for each precinct shall be arranged and printed substantially in the manner following:

1. At the top of the ballot shall be printed in large capital letters words, designating the ballot—if a Republican ballot, the designating words shall be “REPUBLICAN PRIMARY BALLOT,” if a Democratic ballot, the designating words shall be, “DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY BALLOT,” and in like manner for each political party.

2. Beginning not less than one inch below designating words the name of each office to be filled shall be printed in capital letters and in the following order, to-wit: President of the United States, State offices, congressional offices, judicial offices, clerks of the appellate courts, members of the State central committee, trustees of sanitary districts, county offices, city and village offices, town offices, or of such of the said offices as candidates are to be nominated for at such primary, and ward committeemen.

Below the name of each office shall be printed in small letters the direction to voters: “Vote for one”; “Vote for two”; “Vote for three”; or a spelled number designating how many persons under that head are to be voted for.

Below the name of each office shall be printed in capital letters the names of all candidates, arranged in the order in which their petitions for nomination were filed, except as otherwise provided in section 33 of this Act, for the nomination for said offices which are entitled to be placed upon the respective party primary ballot. Below the name of each candidate for delegate and alternate delegate to National nominating conventions shall be printed the name of the candidate for President of the United States for whom such delegate or alternate delegate has expressed a preference, or if no choice has been expressed shall be printed the words "No preference." The names of all candidates upon the primary ballot shall be printed in a column. Immediately opposite and in front of the name of each candidate shall be printed a square and all squares upon the primary ballot shall be of uniform size. Spaces between the names of candidates under each office shall be uniform and sufficient spaces shall separate the names of candidates for one office from the names of candidates for another office, to avoid confusion.

3. At the bottom of the primary ballot and under the heading, "for precinct committeemen," a space sufficiently large shall be left in which the primary electors may write or attach the names of two primary electors (one man and one woman) of his party in the precinct, as his choice for precinct committeemen. No square need be placed in front of the names of the persons voted for, for precinct committeemen. Under the heading "for precinct committeemen" shall be printed in small letters the direction to voters, "Vote for one man and one woman." Provided, however, the provisions of this sub-section three (3) of section 35, shall not apply to precincts within the territorial limits of an incorporated city or village having a population of two hundred thousand (200,000) or over.

Sec. 46. On receiving from the primary judges a primary ballot of his party, the primary elector shall forthwith and without leaving the polling place retire alone to one of the voting booths and prepare such primary ballot by marking a cross (X) in the square in front of and opposite the name of each candidate of his choice for each office to be filled. At the primary at which precinct committeemen are to be elected the primary elector may write or attach at the bottom of his primary ballot, in the space provided for that purpose, the names of two primary electors (one man and one woman) of his precinct, members of and affiliated with his political party, for precinct committeemen. No other mark or designation shall be necessary to indicate the primary elector's choice for precinct committeemen.

Any primary elector may, instead of voting for any candidate for nomination or for committeemen whose name is printed on the primary ballot, write in the name of any other person affiliated with such party as a candidate for the nomination for any office, or for committeeman, and indicate his choice of such candidate or committeeman by placing to the left of and opposite the name thus written a square and by placing in the square a cross (X). And at the primary at which precinct committeemen are to be elected he shall write or attach at the bottom of his primary ballot, in the space provided for that purpose, the names of two primary electors (one man and one woman) of his precinct, members of and affiliated with his political party, for precinct committeemen. No squares need be placed in front of the names of persons so voted for, for precinct committeemen.

Sec. 58. The person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary as a candidate of a party for the nomination for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot at the election then next ensuing; provided that where there are two or more persons to be nominated for the same office or board, the requisite number of persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be nominated and their names shall be placed on the official ballot at the following election.

In the case of candidates for nomination for members of the board of assessors, where five are to be elected, four of whom are to be elected from any one city and the city has the requisite number, then the candidate for nomination living outside of such city having the highest number of votes of his party shall be nominated and his name shall be placed on the official ballot at the following election.

The persons (one man and one woman) receiving the highest number of votes of their party for State central committeemen of their congressional district shall be declared elected State central committeeman from said congressional district.

The requisite number of persons receiving the highest number of votes of their party for delegates and alternate delegates to National nominating conventions shall be declared elected delegates and alternate delegates to the National nominating convention of their party.

The person receiving the highest number of votes of his party for ward committeeman of his ward shall be declared elected ward committeeman from said ward.

When two or more persons receive an equal and the highest number of votes for the nomination for the same office or for committeeman of the same political party, or where more than one person of the same political party is to be nominated as a candidate for office or committeeman if it appears that more than the number of persons to be nominated for an office or elected committeeman have the highest and an equal number of votes for the nomination for the same office or for election as committeemen the board by which the returns of the primary are canvassed shall decide by lot which of such persons shall be nominated or elected, as the case may be. In such case such canvassing board shall issue notice in writing to such persons of such tie vote, stating therein the place, the day, (which shall not be more than five days (5) thereafter) and the hour when such nomination or election shall be so determined."

The foregoing message from the Governor was received and ordered placed on file.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Marinier called up House Bill No. 778, in the order of third reading; and House Bill No. 778, a bill for "An Act to extend the licensing powers of incorporated towns."

Having been transcribed and typed, and all amendments adopted thereto having been printed, was taken up and read at large a third time.

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

A message from the Governor, by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Springfield.

June 13, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill Number 341, entitled, "An Act to add section 6¾ to 'An Act in relation to State finance,' approved June 10, 1919, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

The provisions of this bill are included word for word in House Bill 523, which passed your House on April 19 and the Senate on May 16, and which was approved by me on June 2, 1923. I have caused to be made a careful comparison of this bill and the provisions of said House Bill 523, which is now on file in the office of the Secretary of State. This comparison discloses the absolute similarity above pointed out. To approve this bill would be merely to repeat provisions already enacted into law by a bill passed at this session. It would cause unnecessary labor in the office of the Secretary of State, and would tend to bring about confusion in the Session Laws and the Statutes. I therefore veto and withhold my approval from this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL,
Governor of Illinois.

The foregoing message from the Governor was received and ordered placed on file.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Scholes called up Senate Bill No. 376, in the order of third reading; whereupon, Senate Bill No. 376, a bill for "An Act relating to the construction by the State of Illinois of a second State-wide system of durable hard-surfaced roads upon public highways of the State and the provision of means for paying the cost thereof by an issue of bonds of the State of Illinois."

Was taken up, and all amendments adopted thereto having been transcribed, typed and printed, was read at large a third time.

And the question being, "Shall this bill pass?" it was decided in the affirmative by the following vote: Yeas, 100; nays, 43; answering present but not voting, 3.

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend printed House Bill No. 334 on page 5 by striking out lines 108 to 116 inclusive.

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend printed House Bill No. 334 on page 5 by striking out lines 133 to 167 inclusive and inserting in lieu thereof the following section:

Section 16. Within six months after the taking effect of this Act the attorney-in-fact of all exchanges now authorized to do business in this State shall accumulate and keep on hand at all times advance deposits in excess of liabilities at the exchange which shall be invested in such class of securities as are permitted by the laws of this State applying to life insurance companies in accordance with the kinds of business transacted in the amounts as follows: If authorized to do the business described in subdivision one or three of section two, twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00); and if authorized to write Employer's Liability or Workmen's Compensation insurance, fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00); and if authorized to do only Automobile or Public Liability insurance, twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00); and if authorized to do any other kind of business, for each other kind of business twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00). If an attorney-in-fact is authorized to transact more than one of the kinds of business described in section two of this Act such, advance deposits for each kind of business must be so accumulated and kept on hand. Such securities, amounting to twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) when approved by the Director of Trade and Commerce shall be duly made or assigned to him in trust by the attorney-in-fact for the benefit and protection of the subscribers at the exchange and so long as any such exchange continues solvent, the Director of Trade and Commerce shall permit the attorney-in-fact to collect the interest or dividends thereon, and from time to time withdraw such securities, or any part thereof, on depositing with said Director of Trade and Commerce other securities of the kind heretofore named and of equal value with those withdrawn. If such exchange shall at any time cause all unexpired policies to be paid or cancelled and all liabilities under such policies thereby be extinguished then the Director of Trade and Commerce, on the application of such attorney-in-fact, on satisfying himself by examination of the condition and affairs of the exchange that all policies are so paid, cancelled or extinguished, shall return such securities. If upon examination or otherwise, it shall appear that the amount of funds required in this section has not been accumulated by the attorney-in-fact then the subscribers by means of assessments to be levied against them or the attorney-in-fact for them shall immediately advance such sums as are needed to comply with the provisions of this section and the funds so advanced shall not be treated as a liability at such exchange, nor shall such advances be repaid only out of the surplus funds of the exchange. All exchanges having their central offices in this State hereafter authorized to do business under the provisions of this Act shall within six months from the date of license meet the requirements of this section. Exchanges having their central offices in other states shall be deemed to have complied with the trust provision of this section by filing with the Director of Trade and Commerce of this State a certificate from the proper

State official showing that the amount and kind of securities are held in trust by such official as required by this section, provided that in states where the laws do not authorize the proper state official to receive and hold securities as herein provided, such securities shall be deposited with a national or state bank or trust company of such other state as trustee subject to the joint control of such official and the attorney-in-fact of such exchange under a trust agreement to like effect and a certified copy of such agreement may be so filed in lieu of such certificate.

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing amendments, numbered 1, 2, 3 and 4, were ordered printed.

And the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

And the House concurred with the Senate in the adoption of Senate Joint Resolution No. 27.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication, which was received and ordered placed on file:

"CHICAGO, June 11, 1923.

Hon. David E. Shanahan, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Springfield, Illinois.

DEAR SIR: The Fifty-third General Assembly is about to adjourn sine die. In one respect it has failed so completely to perform its sworn duty as to invoke the earnest protest of every right minded citizen in Illinois, in the matter of the apportionment of representation in the General Assembly and in Congress.

Section 6, Article 4 of our Constitution directs that "The General Assembly shall apportion the State every ten years, beginning with the year 1871, by dividing the population of the State, as ascertained by the Federal Census, by the number 51, and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in the Senate.

Section 5 of the same article 4 imposes an oath of more than ordinary strictness upon the members of the General Assembly which they must take and subscribe before they enter upon their official duties, and is as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and will faithfully discharge the duties of Senator (or Representative) according to the best of my ability."

(By these provisions we clearly see the duty and the solemn oath pledging its faithful discharge.) This question is very dear to every true American. It was this very question that impelled the Colonists to rebel against the Government of Great Britain and to the success of their cause they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

The Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation, and the Constitution of the United States all provided for this right of representation.

And the Ordinance of 1787 governing the Northwest Territory and out of which Illinois is formed, expressly provides in section 14, Article II, "The inhabitants of said territory shall always be entitled to the benefits of the writs of habeas corpus and of the trial by jury; of a proportionate representation of the people in the Legislature." 'Is this also a mere scrap of paper.'

The Federalist abounds in language commenting on this inestimable right of freemen. And publicists and jurists have always accepted proportionate representation as the very corner stone of our government. All of the states of the Union have yielded their assent to this principle. Is there any valid reason why the State of Illinois should be any exception? In the past our forefathers laid down their lives to preserve this principle.

Under the Constitutional rule, in article 4, the ratio in 1901 was 94,540, while in 1921 the ratio by the same rule becomes 127,162. From this rule there is no escaping. The people made it a rule of action for the General Assembly to follow and the members of the General Assembly have each solemnly sworn to discharge such duty.

(The census of 1920 shows that the population of the State of Illinois has increased 1,663,730. Of this increase Cook County shows 1,214,282, and the rest of the State 449,448. This increase of population is being governed without representation in violation of this fundamental principle of American Government, the express mandate of our Constitution and the oath of office of the members of the General Assembly.)

Of the 102 counties in Illinois 51 show gains and 51 show losses. In most of these counties that are largely rural these gains and losses are small and show a conservative population. The gains are largely in the cities and a few mining counties. Is this latter fact a reason why they should be unrepresented? 1,663,730 people equals half of the entire population of the 13 colonies at the close of the Revolution. Has the representation that this number fought for so faithfully then, now become insignificant simply because they work in mines or dwell in cities?

I ask you what is to be done concerning this right to representation? Of the 1,663,730 many are newly acquired American citizens and have come to this land fully resolved to make American citizens, and one of the earliest lessons they learn in our Americanism is that they have the right of representation and that they will be represented in Springfield. How can we teach these citizens what true Americanism is when the General Assembly so flagrantly violates their oath of office and the plain mandate of the Constitution and totally disregards their plain duty? It is just such breaches of official duty as this one that is breeding anarchy in this country. (Must the courts be invoked to assist us before the Legislature will consent to act in this matter, or are we without remedy against this great wrong?)

There has been only one reply to this demand for proportion representation and that is specious merely. To say that this increase is already represented in the General Assembly is to say that 94,540 is equal to 127,162. Who says this to the people of Illinois? The answer is clear, the members of the General Assembly of Illinois. | Since when have they been given the power and authority to amend the Constitution which directs and prescribes their official action?) There is no answer to such an inquiry. Their duty is unmistakably plain and so clear that the wayfaring man, though a fool, shall not err therein. "The General Assembly shall apportion the State every ten years beginning with the year 1871, by dividing the population of the State, as ascertained by the federal census, by the number 51, and the quotient shall be the ratio in the Senate."

Very respectfully,

JOHN B. FERGUS."

The Speaker took from his table and laid before the House, Senate amendments to House Bill No. 655, reported to the House on June 14th, and the same, having been printed, were taken up for consideration.

Whereupon, Mr. Keane moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of said amendments.

Mr. Schnackenberg moved as a substitute that the House non-concur with the Senate in the adoption of said amendments.

Whereupon, Mr. Igoe moved that the substitute motion to non-concur lie on the table.

Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Hill offered the following resolution, and asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 71.

WHEREAS, Hon. Charles Brainard Taylor Moore, formerly of Decatur, Illinois, departed this life in the city of Baltimore, Maryland, during the past winter; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Moore was a public servant of the State and Nation during almost his entire life, having been in active service in the United States navy for more than forty-five years and risen therein to the rank of Admiral; having served from 1905 to 1908 as Governor of Tuituila, his term of office having been prolonged on petition of the people of the island; having been a member of the Fifth Constitutional Convention of the State of Illinois, from the Decatur district; and having been actively engaged during the dark days of the recent World War as Chairman of the Four Minute Men, of Decatur, as a member of the Executive Committee of the Council of Defense for Macon County; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Moore's accomplishments and activities merit the respect and admiration of all the citizens of this State; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly. That we express our deep regret at the loss to the State and to his community of this honored citizen and public servant, and extend our sincere sympathy to the members of his family; and be it further Resolved. That this preamble and resolution be spread on the Journal of the House; that a suitably engrossed copy thereof be forwarded to the family; and, as a further mark of respect to his memory, that the House do now adjourn.

Nays—2.

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence in the House amendment adopted thereto.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Flagg called up Senate Bill No. 302 in the order of second reading, and Senate Bill No. 302, a bill for "An Act to amend sections one (1), two (2), three (3), four (4) and five (5) of an Act entitled, 'An Act in regard to elections, and to provide for filling vacancies in elective offices,' approved April 3, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, as subsequently amended."

Was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, the Committee on Elections offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 302 in House by striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting the following:

"Section 1. That sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 of an Act entitled 'An Act in regard to elections, and to provide for filling vacancies in elective offices,' approved April 3, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, as amended, are amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 1. That there shall be elected by general ticket in the manner hereafter provided, on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November preceding the expiration of the term of office of each president of the United States, as many electors of president and vice president of the United States as this State may be entitled to elect; which election shall be conducted and returns thereof made as hereinafter provided: Provided, that if Congress should hereafter fix a different day, then the election for electors shall be held on such day as shall be named by Act of Congress.

Candidates for electors shall be nominated, their nominations certified vacancies filled, and objections to nominations determined in the manner provided by law.

The names of candidates for electors of president and vice president shall not be printed on the official ballot. The names of candidates for president and vice president of any political party or group nominating electors in the manner provided by law shall be printed upon the ballot within a bracket, with a single square to the left of such bracket. All candidates for electors of any political party or group shall be deemed to have received the vote of any voter who places a cross in the square to the left of any such bracket, or indicates his choice in the manner provided by law by placing a cross in the circle at the beginning of the line in which the party appellation or title is printed on such ballot. Voting on candidates for president and vice president appearing upon the ballot shall not be deemed a direct vote for such candidates, but shall only be deemed a vote for the entire list or set of electors nominated by that political party or group.

Sec. 2. The county clerks of the several counties shall within eight days next after holding an election for electors of president and vice president of the United States, as is provided for in this Act, make three copies of the abstract of the votes cast on candidates for president and vice president by each political party or group, as indicated by the voter as aforesaid, and transmit by mail one of said copies to the Governor, another to the office of the Secretary of State, and retain the third in his office, to be sent for by the Governor in case both the others should be mislaid. Within twenty days after the holding of such election, and sooner if all the returns are received by either the Governor or by the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts and Treasurer, or any two of them, shall, in the presence of the Governor, proceed to open and canvass said election returns, and to declare which set of candidates for president and vice president received as aforesaid the highest number of votes cast at such election as aforesaid; but should two or more sets of candidates for president and vice president be returned with an equal and highest vote, the said Secretary of State shall cause a notice of the same to be published, which notice shall name some day and place, not less than five days from the time of publication of such notice, upon which the said Secretary, Auditor of Public Accounts and State Treasurer will decide by lot which of said sets of candidates for president and vice president so equal and highest shall be declared to be highest. And upon the day and at the place so appointed in said notice, the said Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer, or any two of them, shall, in the presence of the Governor, so decide by lot and declare which is deemed highest of the said sets of candidates for president and vice president so equal and highest.

The canvass on candidates for president and vice president shall be the canvass for the candidates for electors of the same political party or group, and the result shall be so declared.

Sec. 3. Within five days after the votes shall have been canvassed and the result declared, the Governor shall cause the result of said election to be published, and shall transmit by mail certificates of election in triplicate to the candidates for electors belonging to the political party or group whose candidates for president and vice president shall have received the highest vote, as provided in section 2 of this Act, and shall also transmit under seal of State to the Secretary of State of the United States the certificate of the election of said electors as required by Act of Congress.

Sec. 4. The electors chosen as aforesaid, shall meet at the office of the Secretary of State in a room designated by him in the Capitol at Springfield in this State, at the time appointed by the laws of the United States at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of such day, and give their votes for president and vice president of the United States, in the manner therein provided, and perform such duties as are or may be required by law. Each elector shall receive for every twenty miles necessary travel in going to the seat of government to give his vote and returning to his residence, to be computed by the most usual route, the sum of three dollars ($3.00), to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and any person appointed by the electors assembled to fill a vacancy shall also receive the compensation provided for electors chosen as herein provided.

Sec. 5. In case any person duly elected an elector of president and vice president of the United States shall fail to attend at the Capitol on the day on which his vote is required to be given, it shall be the duty of the elector or electors of president and vice president, attending at the time and place, to appoint a person or persons to fill such vacancy; Provided, that should the person or persons chosen by the people as aforesaid arrive at the place aforesaid before the votes for president and vice president are actually given, the person or persons appointed to fill such vacancy shall not act as elector of president and vice president.

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend title of Senate Bill 302 by striking out the word "subsequently" in said title.

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing amendments, numbered 1 and 2, were ordered printed, transcribed and typed.

And the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

Nays—1.

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Flagg called up Senate Bill No. 432 in the order of second reading, and Senate Bill No. 432, a bill for "An Act to amend sections 3, 4, 9a, 22, 23 and 42d of the Motor Vehicle law, approved June 30, 1919, as amended, and to add sections 21a, 24a, 41a and 42a thereto."

Was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, the Committee on Judiciary offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title of printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, to read as follows: "A bill for 'An Act to amend sections 9a, 22 and 23 of the Motor Vehicle Law,' approved June 10, 1919, as amended, and to add sections 21a, 24a and 41a thereto."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, on page 1, by striking all of section 1 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Sections 9a, 22 and 23 of the Motor Vehicle Law, approved June 10, 1919, as amended, are amended, and sections 21a, 24a and 41a are added thereto, the amended and added sections to read as follows:"

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, on pages 1, 2 and 3, by striking all of sections 3 and 4.

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, on pages 7, 8, 9 and 10, by striking all of sections 42a and 42d.

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, by amending on page 3, section 9a to read as follows:

Sec. 9a. All vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers used for carrying freight, when used for hire, and all vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers of the second division as described in section 2 of this Act, used for carrying passengers when used for hire, operating regularly over fixed or definite routes between two or more municipalities, or from a point or points outside of a municipality into a municipality or between two or more points outside of a municipality or between two or more points inside of a municipality over improved State highways, and with fixed schedules or rates shall pay the following additional license fees for each one hundred pounds gross weight of vehicle and load:

(1) For vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers used for carrying freight, and with fixed or definite routes, one dollar ($1.00);

(2) For all such vehicles of the second division used for carrying passengers for hire, one dollar ($1.00).

In determining such gross weight of vehicle and load for cars designed and used for carrying passengers, the weight of passengers shall be computed at one hundred twenty-five pounds for each passenger, according to the number of seats for adults actually provided, and such weight so computed added to the weight of the vehicle fully equipped. In determining the gross weight of vehicle and load in the case of trucks and trailers, the manufacturers rated carrying capacity shall be added to the weight of the vehicle fully equipped.

Such additional license fee shall be payable annually to the Secretary of State on or before the first of January or within ten days from the time any person enters into the business of operating such vehicles for hire, but the fee herein provided for shall be reduced by one-half for the first year any person engages in such business if he begins operations after July 1st of such year. Whoever violates the provisions of this section shall be subject to a fine of not less than $100, or more than $500.

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing amendments numbered 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 were ordered printed, transcribed and typed.

And the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be ordered to a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Hair called up Senate Bill No. 544, in the order of second reading; and Senate Bill No. 544, a bill for "An Act to enable cities, villages and towns along the course of the west fork of the south branch of the Chicago River to fill up the bed of same for the purpose of extending and constructing a public highway over its course, and for the purpose of such extension and construction of a public highway to authorize the acquisition and condemnation of property by such cities, villages and towns."

Was taken up, read at large a second time and ordered to a third reading.

By unanimous consent, Mr. John R. Moore called up Senate Bill No. 403, in the order of second reading; and Senate Bill No. 403, a bill for "An Act to amend section 6 of 'An Act to provide for the certification of teachers,' approved June 28, 1913, as amended."

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Smejkal, from the Committee on Appropriations, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 448, being a bill for "An Act to provide for a survey and report by the Department of Public Welfare of the numbers, location and types of specially handicapped children of school age within the State of Illinois, to be known as the Survey of Specially Handicapped Children."

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the bill do pass.

The report of the committee was concurred in and the bill ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Smejkal, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the following resolution, with the recommendation that it be adopted:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 36.

WHEREAS, Certain rooms have been set apart for the exclusive use of the officers, committees and members of the House of Representatives and the Senate; and,

WHEREAS, Provision has been made for remodeling, furnishing and equipping quarters on the third floor of the Capitol to be used as reception rooms for members of the Senate and House of Representatives; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That the Secretary of State be, and he is hereby, directed to keep and preserve intact and undisturbed in every respect, after the adjournment of the Fifty-third General Assembly and until the convening of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, the offices of the Speaker and Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate, and the rooms occupied by the respective committees on appropriations of the House and Senate; and of the reception rooms for the members of the Senate and House of Representatives when completed; and,

Resolved, further. That the use and occupancy of the said offices and committee rooms and of the said reception rooms when completed shall not be permitted by any persons other than the respective officers above referred to and the committees on appropriations of the House and Senate; and if necessity arises for temporary use of any of the other rooms of either the House or Senate, the Secretary of State shall first obtain written permission of the respective presiding officer of the House or Senate for the temporary use of such room or rooms.

And the question being, "Shall the House concur in the recommendation of the committee?" it was decided in the affirmative, and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Mr. Smejkal, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the following resolution, with the recommendation that it be adopted:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 37.

WHEREAS, The Fifty-third General Assembly has been greatly hampered in its work by the failure on the part of various officers of the State Government to furnish reports concerning their respective offices or departments at the time required by law; and

WHEREAS, The value of requiring such reports to be made lies largely in the assistance which they give to the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, The General Assembly has reduced the appropriations to the Department of Public Works and Buildings, Division of Printing for the use of the several State officers and departments with the view of securing full service for the money expended and this reduction will necessitate the exercise of economy in all offices and departments in their requests for printing, binding, printing paper and stationery; now therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly, the Senate concurring herein, That the several officers of the State government who are required by law to make reports concerning their respective offices, or departments be and they are hereby urged to make their reports at the time required by law; and be it further

Resolved, That the offices, departments, institutions, boards and commissions for whose use appropriations, for printing, binding, printing paper and stationery have been made, be requested and advised to scrutinize carefully their various requests for printing, binding, printing paper and stationery so that money appropriated for this purpose will be used with the view of securing to the State the greatest return for the money expended and particularly so that money will not be expended for the printing of pamphlets and reports for which there is little or no demand and so that in the case of pamphlets and reports for which there is a demand, more copies than reasonably are needed for public distribution will not be printed; and be it further

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to send a copy of this preamble and resolution to the following offices, departments, institutions, boards and commissions of the State Government: the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary of State, the Auditor of Public Accounts, the State Treasurer, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Attorney General, the Supreme Court, the Clerk of the Supreme Court, the Appellate Court, First District, the Appellate Court, Second District, the Appellate Court, Third District, the Appellate Court, Fourth District, the Department of Finance, the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Labor, the Department of Mines and Minerals, the Department of Public Works and Buildings, the Department of Public Welfare, the Department of Public Health, the Department of Trade and Commerce, the Department of Registration and Education, the Adjutant General, the Civil Service Commission, the Legislative Reference Bureau, the Illinois Farmers' Institute, the Illinois State Library, the Illinois State Historical Library, the Uniform Laws Commission, and the Service Recognition Board.

And the question being, "Shall the House concur in the recommendation of the committee?" it was decided in the affirmative, and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Williston, from the Committee on Municipalities, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 498, being a bill for "An Act in relation to carnivals, street fairs and other amusements."

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the bill do not pass.

Whereupon, Mr. Scholes moved that the House non-concur in the report of the committee.

And the question being on the motion to non-concur, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 69; nays, 41.

The motion prevailed.

And Senate Bill No. 498 was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, Mr. Browne offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend Senate Bill No. 498 in House, by adding after the period at the end of section 1, the following:

"Provided, however, this Act shall not apply to a carnival, street fair or other transient amusement or minstrelsy of like character, where same is operating under the auspices and by the open direct procurement of any religious organization, or fraternal or other permanent and reputable organization or society."

Mr. Castle offered the following as a substitute for Amendment No. 1:

Amend Senate Bill No. 498 in the House by striking out in line two of section 1, the words "manage or participate in" and by inserting after the word "any" the word "transcient" and by striking out after the word "fair" the words "or other transient amusement or minstrelsy of like character."

Mr. Browne moved to lay the substitute amendment on the table.

And the question being on the motion to table, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 59; nays, 63.

And the motion to table was lost.

The question recurring on the adoption of the substitute, it was decided in the affirmative.

And the substitute for Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Mr. O'Grady offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend Senate Bill No. 498 by striking out the enacting clause.

And the amendment was lost.

Mr. Browne offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend section 1, as amended, as follows: Strike out "manage or participate in" in line 2, section 1, and also in lines 2 and 3, section 1, "Street fair or other transient amusement or minstrelsy by the character," and by inserting after the word "any" in line 2 of section one "itinerant street."

Mr. Schnackenberg moved to lay the amendment on the table.

And the question being on the motion to table, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 69; nays, 43.

The motion prevailed and Amendment No. 3 was ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Durso offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend Senate Bill No. 498 as printed in the House in section one by striking out the words "street Fair" in line 2.

Mr. Scholes moved to lay the amendment on the table.

And the question being on the motion to table, a division of the House was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 58; nays, 37.

The motion prevailed.

And Amendment No. 4 was ordered to lie on the table.

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has refused to recede from their amendments to a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 795.

A bill for "An Act to revise the law in relation to the conservation of fish, mussels, frogs and turtles in the State of Illinois, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and to repeal all Acts in conflict with this Act."

I am further directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate requests a Committee of Conference to consist of five members from each House to consider the differences of the two Houses in regard to the amendments to the bill.

The President of the Senate has appointed as such committee on the part of the Senate Messrs. Schulze, Carlson, Duvall, Hanson and Boehm.

Action taken by the Senate June 19, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Smejkal moved that the House accede to the request of the Senate for a Committee of Conference to adjust the differences arising between the two Houses on Senate amendments to House Bill No. 795.

And the motion prevailed.

The Speaker, thereupon, appointed as such committee on the part of the House: Messrs. Abbey, Scholes, Weiss, Maucker and Lohmann.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has refused to recede from their amendments to a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 220.

A bill for "An Act making appropriations for the pay of officers and members of the next General Assembly and certain officers of the State government."

I am further directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate requests a Committee of Conference to consist of five members from each House to consider the differences of the two Houses in regard to the amendments to the bill.

The President of the Senate has appointed as such committee on the part of the Senate Messrs. Turnbaugh, Buck, Dunlap, Meents and Hughes.

Action taken by the Senate June 19, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Smejkal moved that the House accede to the request of the Senate for a Committee of Conference to adjust the differences arising between the two Houses on Senate amendments to House Bill No. 220.

And the motion prevailed.

The Speaker, thereupon, appointed as such committee on the part of the House: Messrs. Smejkal, Curran, C. L. McMackin, McClugage and Williamson.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has refused to concur with the House in the adoption of the amendments of the House of Representatives to a bill of the following title:

SENATE BILL No. 432.

A bill for "An Act to amend sections 3, 4, 9a, 22, 23 and 42d of the Motor Vehicle Law, approved June 30, 1919, as amended, and to add sections 21a, 24a, 41a and 42a thereto."

Which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title of printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, to read as follows: "A bill for An Act to amend sections 9a, 22 and 23 of the Motor Vehicle Law, approved June 10, 1919, as amended, and to add sections 21a, 24a and 41a thereto."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, on page 1, by striking all of section 1, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Sections 9a, 22 and 23 of the Motor Vehicle Law, approved June 10, 1919, as amended, are amended, and sections 21a, 24a and 41a are added thereto, the amended and added sections to read as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, on pages 1, 2 and 3 by striking all of sections 3 and 4.

AMENDMENT No. 4.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House on pages 7, 8, 9 and 10 by striking all of sections 42a and 42d. ..

AMENDMENT No. 5.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 432 in House, by amending on page 3, section 9a to read as follows:

Sec. 9a. All vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers used for carrying freight, when used for hire, and all vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers of the second division as described in Section 2 of this Act, used for carrying passengers when used for hire, operating regularly over fixed or definite routes between two or more municipalities, or from a point or points outside of a municipality into a municipality or between two or more points outside of a municipality or between two or more points inside of a municipality over improved State highways, and with fixed schedules or rates shall pay the following additional license fees for each one hundred pounds gross weight of vehicle and load:

(1) For vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers used for carrying freight, and with fixed or definite routes, one dollar ($1.00);

(2) for all such vehicles of the second division used for carrying passengers for hire, one dollar ($1.00).

In determining such gross weight of vehicles and load for cars designed and used for carrying passengers, the weight of passengers shall be computed at one hundred twenty-five pounds for each passenger, according to the number of seats for adults actually provided, and such weight so computed added to the weight of the vehicle fully equipped. In determining the gross weight of vehicle and load in the case of trucks and trailers, the manufacturers rated carrying capacity shall be added to the weight of the vehicle fully equipped.

Such additional license fee shall be payable annually to the Secretary of State on or before the first day of January or within ten days from the time any person enters into the business of operating such vehicles for hire, but the fee herein provided for shall be reduced by one-half for the first year any person engages in such business if he begins operations after July 1st of such year. Whoever violates the provision of this section shall be subject to a fine of not less than $100, or more than $500.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Flagg moved that the House refuse to recede from the House amendments to Senate Bill No. 432, and asked that a Committee of Conference be appointed to consider the difference between the two Houses in reference to said amendments.

And the motion prevailed.

The Speaker, thereupon, appointed as such committee on the part of the House: Messrs. Cutler, Dahlberg, Flagg, Fahy and Garesche.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 615.

A bill for "An Act to amend an Act entitled, 'An Act to enable cities, towns and villages to contract with each other for sewerage,' approved May 14, 1879, in force July 1, 1879, by amending section 1 and section 2 thereof and to add section 3 thereto."

Together with the following amendment thereto, in the adoption of which amendment I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 615 in the Senate by inserting after the word "district" in line 10 thereof, the following:

"any such city, incorporated town or village and any such sanitary district."

Passed by the Senate with amendment, June 19, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing amendment having been printed, was taken up for consideration.

Whereupon, Mr. Williston moved that the House non-concur with the Senate in the adoption of said amendment.

The question being on the motion to non-concur, it was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 766.

A bill for "An Act to amend section 9 of 'An Act to provide for the holding of primary elections by political parties,' approved March 9, 1910, as amended."

Together with the following amendments thereto, in the adoption of which amendments I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend the title to printed House Bill No. 766 in Senate by striking out the word and figure "section 9" and inserting in lieu thereof the following words and figures: "Sections 9, 10, 29, 30, 35, 46 and 58."

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed House Bill No. 766 in Senate by striking out everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following words and figures:

Section 1. Sections 9, 10, 29, 30, 35, 46 and 58 of 'An Act to provide for the holding of primary elections by political parties,' approved March 9, 1910, as amended, are amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. (1) The State central committee shall be composed of two members, one man and one woman, from each congressional district in the State, and shall be elected as follows:

At the April primary held in the year 1924 and at the April primary held every four years thereafter, each primary elector may vote for two candidates, one man and one woman, of his party for members of the State central committee for the congressional district in which he resides. The State central committee of each political party shall be composed of members elected from the several congressional districts of the State as herein provided, and of no other person or persons whomsoever. The members of the State central committee shall, within thirty days after their election, meet in the city of Springfield, and organize by electing from among their own number a chairman and vice-chairman, of opposite sex and may, at such time elect such other officers from among their own number or otherwise as they may deem necessary or expedient. The outgoing chairman of the State central committee of his party shall, ten days before the meeting, notify each member of the State central committee elected at the primary of the time and place of such meeting.

(2) At the April primary held in April, 1924, and at the April primary held every four years thereafter each primary elector may vote for two candidates of his party, one man and one woman in the precinct, for members of his political party precinct committee.

The name of any candidate for precinct committeeman shall be printed on the primary ballot and a square shall be placed in front of such name when any such candidate shall have filed a nominating petition with the county clerk of the county wherein such candidate resides, not less than forty days nor more than sixty days prior to the date of the primary, containing the signatures of not less than ten nor more than twenty-five primary electors of his party residing in the precinct for which the election is sought, such petition to be in the form provided by section 28 of this Act. The names of all candidates for man precinct committeeman shall be printed under a heading "For Man Precinct Committeeman" and the names of all candidates for woman precinct committeeman shall be printed under the heading "For Woman Precinct Committeeman."

If no name is printed under such heading the primary elector may write or attach the name of a primary elector of his party in the precinct for precinct committeeman.

The two (one man and one woman) having the highest number of votes shall be such committeemen of such party for such precinct. The official returns of the primary judges shall show the names and addresses of the committeemen of such political party in the county: Provided, however, the provisions of this sub-section two (2) of section 9 shall not apply to precincts within the territorial limits of an incorporated city or village having a population of two hundred thousand or over.

(3) The county central committee of each political party shall consist of the members of various precinct committees and ward committees, if any, of such party in the county. In the organization and proceedings of the county central committee each precinct committeeman shall have one vote and one additional vote for each one hundred votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in his precinct for Governor at the last general election and each ward committeeman shall have two votes for each precinct in his ward and one additional vote for each fifty votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in each precinct of his ward for Governor at the last general election. The committee, at its first meeting, shall elect a chairman and a vice-chairman of the opposite sex.

In case any State, precinct or ward committeeman shall die, resign or refuse to accept the position for which he is elected, or shall remove his legal residence from the district, precinct or ward which he was elected to represent, the vacancy thus created, and all vacancies in any such office arising from any cause, shall be filled by the committee in which such vacancy occurs electing a duly qualified elector of the party residing in the district wherein such vacancy occurs to fill such vacancy.

(4) The congressional committee of each political party shall be composed of the chairman and vice-chairman of the county central committees of the counties composing the congressional district, excepting that in congressional districts wholly within the territorial limits of one county, or wholly within the territorial limits of one county and partly within the territorial limits of another county, then the members of the precinct committees of the party residing within the limits of the congressional district shall compose the congressional committee: Provided, however, that in congressional districts wholly within the territorial limits of an incorporated city or village having a population of two hundred thousand or over, or partly within the limits of such city or village and partly without the limits of such city or village, then the members of the precinct and ward committees of the party of the precincts and ward within the limits of the congressional district shall compose the congressional committee.

In the organization and proceedings of congressional committees, composed in whole or in part of precinct committeemen, each precinct committeemen shall have one vote and one additional vote for each one hundred votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in his precinct for Governor at the last general election, and in the organization and proceedings of congressional committees, composed in whole or in part of ward committeemen, each ward committeemen shall have two votes for each precinct in his ward, and one additional vote for each fifty votes or major fraction thereof of his party as cast in each precinct of his ward located in such congressional district for Governor at the last general election.

(5) The city central committee of each political party shall be composed of the precinct committeemen of such party residing in such city, excepting that in incorporated cities or villages having a population of two hundred thousand or over, then the city central committee shall be composed of the ward committeemen residing within the territorial limits of such city or village, which said ward committeemen shall be elected at large in their respective wards. "Such ward committeemen shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1923, and shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. Special ballots shall be prepared and the election of such committeemen shall be conducted in accordance with the general primary election laws. Successors to such ward committeemen shall be elected at the primary held on the last Tuesday in February, 1927, and every four years thereafter."

The word "Ward" in this section shall be construed to mean a division for which aldermen are elected in such last mentioned cities or villages.

(6) Each committee and its officers shall have the powers usually exercised by such committees and by the officers thereof, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. The several committees herein provided for shall not have power to delegate any of their powers or functions to any other person, officer or committee, but this shall not be construed to prevent a committee from appointing from its own membership proper and necessary sub-committees, and particularly defining, by resolution, the duties of such sub-committees.

(7) The various political party committees now in existence are hereby recognized and shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until committeemen are chosen, in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 10. (a) On the first Monday next succeeding the April primary, the county central committee of each political party shall meet at the county seat of the proper county and proceed to organize by electing a chairman and a vice-chairman of the opposite sex, and such other officers as said committee may deem necessary or expedient. Such meeting of the county central committee shall be known as the county convention. The county convention of each political party shall choose delegates to the congressional and State conventions of its party; provided, only precinct and ward committeemen of the respective precincts and wards within the limits of a congressional district shall participate in the selection of delegates to a congressional convention; and, provided further, that each of such precinct committeemen in the county convention shall have one vote and one additional vote for each one hundred votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in his precinct for Governor at the last general election, and that each of such ward committeemen shall have two votes for each precinct in his ward and one additional vote for each fifty votes or major fraction thereof of his party cast in each precinct of his ward for Governor at the last general election.

(b) All congressional conventions shall be held on the first Wednesday after the first Monday next succeeding the April primary. The congressional convention of each political party shall have power to recommend to the State convention of its party the nomination of candidate or candidates from such congressional district for elector or electors of President and Vice-President of the United States.

(c) All State conventions shall be held on the first Friday after the first Monday next succeeding the April primary. The State convention of each political party shall have power to make nominations of candidates for the electors of President and Vice-President of the United States and for trustees of the University of Illinois, and to adopt any party platform.

(d) Each convention may perform all other functions inherent to such political organization and not inconsistent with this Act.

(e) At least thirty-three (33) days before the April Primary the State and congressional committee respectively of each political party shall file in the office of the county clerk in each county of the State, or in each county of the congressional district, a call for the State and congressional conventions. Said call shall state, among other things, the time and place (designating the building or hall) for holding the State and congressional conventions respectively, the total number of delegates which shall compose each of said conventions, and the call for State conventions shall state, among other things, the number of delegates to which each county is entitled in the State convention and the call for the congressional convention shall state, among other things, the number of delegates to which each county or political subdivision of any county, as the case may be, is entitled to in the congressional convention. Such call shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of the respective committees.

Sec. 29. Any candidate for President of the United States may have his name printed upon the primary ballot of his political party by filing in the office of the Secretary of State not less than forty (40) days prior to the date of the April primary, in any year, a petition signed by not less than two thousand five hundred (2,500) nor more than four thousand (4,000) primary electors, members of and affiliated with the party of which he is a candidate, and no candidate for President of the United States, who fails to comply with the provisions of this Act shall have his name printed upon any primary ballot: Provided, that the vote for President of the United States, as herein provided for, shall be for the sole purpose of securing an expression of the sentiment and will of the party voters with respect to candidates for nomination for said office, and the vote of the State at large shall be taken and considered as advisory to the delegates and alternates at large to the National conventions of respective political parties; and the vote of the respective congressional districts shall be taken and considered as advisory to the delegates and alternates of said congressional districts to the National conventions of the respective political parties.

Sec. 30. All petitions for nominations shall be filed as follows:

(1) Where the nomination is to be made for a State, congressional, judicial or appellate court office, or for any office a nomination for which is made for a territorial division or district which comprises more than one county or is partly in one county and partly in another county or counties then such petition for nomination shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not more than sixty (60) and not less than forty (40) days prior to the date of primary.

(2) Where the nomination is to be made for a county office, trustee of a sanitary district (except clerk of the appellate court of the first district), ward or precinct committeeman, then such petition shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk not more than sixty (60) nor less than forty (40) days prior to the date of the primary.

(3) Where the nomination is to be made for an office to be filled by the electors of an entire city or village, including aldermen, such petitions for nomination shall be filed in the office of the city or village clerk not more than thirty (30) nor less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the primary.

(4) Where the nomination is to be made for an office to be filled by the electors of a town, then such petition for nomination shall be filed in the office of the town clerk not more than thirty (30) and not less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the primary.

(5) The petitions of candidates for State Central committeeman shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not more than sixty (60) and not less than forty (40) days prior to the date of the primary.

(6) The Secretary of State and the various clerks with whom such petitions for nominations are filed shall endorse thereon the day and hour on which each petition was filed.

(7) Any person for whom a petition for nomination for a committee-man has been filed may cause his name to be withdrawn by request in writing, signed by him and duly acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgment of deeds, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, not less than thirty-five (35) days, or with the proper clerk not less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the primary, and no names so withdrawn shall be certified by the Secretary of State to the county clerk, or printed on the primary ballot.

(8) Each person seeking to be elected as delegate or alternate delegate to the national nominating convention of his party shall file, along with his nominating petition, a statement in writing signed by him in which he shall state the name of the candidate of his choice for nomination for President of the United States, or, in lieu thereof, may file a statement to the effect that he has no preference for candidates for President of the United States. The Secretary of State shall not permit a petition of a candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to the national nominating convention to be filed unless accompanied by the statement required in paragraph 8 of this section.

Any candidate for President of the United States for whom a preference is stated by any candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a nominating convention, may, at any time after the filing of such petition and before the name of such candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national nominating convention is certified to the various county clerks for printing, file in the office of the Secretary of State an instrument in writing disavowing the candidacy of the person who has so filed a nominating petition for delegate or alternate delegate to a national nominating convention and in case such candidate for President of the United States shall disavow the candidacy of the candidate for delegate or alternate delegate, as aforesaid, the name of such candidate for delegate or alternate delegate so disavowed shall not be certified to the various county clerks for printing upon the official primary ballot.

Sec. 35. The primary ballot of each political party for each precinct shall be arranged and printed substantially in the manner following:

1. At the top of the ballot shall be printed in large capital letters words, designating the ballot—if a Republican ballot, the designating words shall be "REPUBLICAN PRIMARY BALLOT," if a Democratic ballot, the designating words shall be, "DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY BALLOT," and in like manner for each political party.

2. Beginning not less than one inch below designating words the name of each office to be filled shall be printed in capital letters and in the following order, to-wit: President of the United States, State offices, congressional offices, judicial offices, clerks of the appellate courts, members of the State central committee, trustees of sanitary districts, county offices, city and village offices, town offices, or of such of the said offices as candidates are to be nominated for at such primary, and ward and precinct committeemen.

Below the name of each office shall be printed in small letters the direction to voters: "Vote for one"; "Vote for two"; "Vote for three"; or a spelled number designating how many persons under the head are to be voted for.

Below the name of each office shall be printed in capital letters the names of all candidates, arranged in the order in which their petitions for nomination were filed, except as otherwise provided in section 33 of this Act, for the nomination for said offices which are entitled to be placed upon the respective party primary ballot. Below the name of each candidate for delegate and alternate delegate to national nominating conventions shall be printed the name of the candidate for President of the United States for whom such delegate or alternate delegate has expressed a preference, or if no choice has been expressed shall be printed the words "No preference." The names of all candidates upon the primary ballot shall be printed in a column. Immediately opposite and in front of the name of each candidate shall be printed a square and all squares upon the primary ballot shall be of uniform size. Spaces between the names of candidates under each office shall be uniform and sufficient spaces shall separate the names of candidates for one office from the names of candidates for another office, to avoid confusion.

Sec. 46. On receiving from the primary judges a primary ballot of his party, the primary elector shall forthwith and without leaving the polling place retire alone to one of the voting booths and prepare such primary ballot by marking a cross (X) in the square in front of and opposite the name of each candidate of his choice for each office to be filled.

Any primary elector may, instead of voting for any candidate for nomination or for committeemen whose name is printed on the primary ballot, write in the name of any other person affiliated with such party as a candidate for the nomination for any office, or for committeeman, and indicate his choice of such candidate or committeeman by placing to the left of and opposite the name thus written a square and by placing in the square a cross (X).

Sec. 58. The person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary as a candidate of a party for the nomination for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot at the election then next ensuing; provided that where there are two or more persons to be nominated for the same office or board, the requisite number of persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be nominated and their names shall be placed on the official ballot at the following election.

In the case of candidates for nomination for members of the board of assessors, where five are to be elected, four of whom are to be elected from any one city and the city has the requisite number, then the candidate for nomination living outside of such city having the highest number of votes of his party shall be nominated and his name shall be placed on the official ballot at the following election.

The persons (one man and one woman) receiving the highest number of votes of their party for State central committeemen of their congressional district shall be declared elected State central committeeman from said congressional district.

The requisite number of persons receiving the highest number of votes of their party for delegates and alternate delegates to National nominating conventions shall be declared elected delegates and alternate delegates to the National nominating convention of their party.

The person receiving the highest number of votes of his party for ward committeeman of his ward shall be declared elected ward committeeman from said ward.

When two or more persons receive an equal and the highest number of votes for the nomination for the same office or for committeeman of the same political party, or where more than one person of the same political party is to be nominated as a candidate for office or committeeman if it appears that more than the number of persons to be nominated for an office or elected committeeman have the highest and an equal number of votes for the nomination for the same office or for election as committeemen the board by which the returns of the primary are canvassed shall decide by lot which of such persons shall be nominated or elected, as the case may be. In such case such canvassing board shall issue notice in writing to such persons of such tie vote, stating therein the place, the day, (which shall not be more than five days (5) thereafter) and the hour when such nomination or election shall be so determined.

"Fourth—When there is a widow or a surviving husband and also a child or children or descendants of such child or children of the intestate, the widow or surviving husband shall receive as his or her absolute personal estate, one-third of all the personal estate of the intestate; and he or she shall also receive as his or her absolute estate, in lieu of dower therein, one-third of each parcel of real estate of which the intestate died seized and in which such widow or surviving husband shall waive his or her right of dower. Such waiver may be affected by either or both of the following methods:

(a) By filing or recording, within one year after the death of the intestate, in the manner hereinafter provided, an instrument in writing duly signed and acknowledged by the surviving widow or husband expressing his or her intention to waive dower in such real estate; and

(b) By failing to file or record within one year after the death of the intestate, in the manner hereinafter provided, an election to take dower in such real estate.

Such election to take dower in such real estate shall be by instrument in writing duly signed and acknowledged by the widow or surviving husband, which shall state in substance that he or she elects to take dower in such real estate instead of an absolute one-third thereof. Except as hereinafter provided as to registered real estate, each of said instruments shall be effective as to all real estate of which intestate died seized, lying in the county in which it is filed or recorded, but shall not be effective for any purpose as to any other real estate.

Each such instrument whether electing to take or waive dower, shall be filed in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of the county in which the real estate sought to be effected lies, except that where the title to such real estate is registered under the provisions of 'An Act concerning land titles,' approved May 1, 1897, such instrument shall be filed in the office of the Registrar of Titles of the county in which such registered real estate lies, and shall, by legal description, specifically describe such registered real estate, and shall be entered as a memorial on each folium of the register of titles relating to the title of such registered real estate, or any part thereof, and shall affect no other registered real estate not so specifically described, and no non-registered real estate.

No such instrument whether electing to take or waive dower shall be of any effect unless filed or recorded within the time, in the manner, and in the office herein provided.

Nothing herein provided shall bar the right of any widow or surviving husband to dower existing at the date of death of the intestate, in real estate of which the intestate did not die seized."

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Hart submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 18, 1923.

To the Honorable House of Representatives, Fifty-third General Assembly:

The committee appointed under and by virtue of House Resolution 58 to investigate appropriations made by the General Assembly for the past twelve years have completed their work in so far as the same was possible, and beg leave to make the following report to the House:

Said committee was appointed in the closing days of the session and almost immediately upon its appointment the House through the rush of bills, was compelled to take up two sessions a day, thus further limiting the accomplishments of said committee. However, your committee has succeeded in getting a fair idea of the constantly increasing appropriations from session to session; your committee had for examination and report of the appropriations made to each department of the State government and each State officer during the past twelve years, and also an itemized statement of every dollar paid in salary and in traveling expenses during the past two years; three particular sets of State employees were called before this committee and asked to bring in all reports and papers connected with their work, and some thirty witnesses were examined in this manner and the committee obtained, principally through them, the material with which to make this report.

All district health superintendents, a division under the Department of Public Health; all social hygiene inspectors, also under the Department of Public Health; and the vocational education investigators of the Board of Educational Rehabilitation, appeared before this committee and were examined at length upon their work.

Under this evidence this committee gathered the information that probably in every department of the State government there were employees who were not devoting their entire time, or even a fair share of their time to the work of the State, considering the compensation they received. Among the district health superintendents and the investigators of the other two divisions, this committee found that as a general rule the most capable and hardest working employees did not receive the highest compensation. In addition to this, scandalous neglect of duty, and in many cases, no attempt at performance of duty by some one or more member of a division brought discredit to the entire division and to the members of that division who were honestly endeavoring to return service to the State.

Your committee found that this situation caused a breaking down in the morale of the employees of the department, when the hardest working employees failed to receive equal compensation to those who were notoriously neglecting their duties, and that it became the tendency of all members of the division to let down in their work.

This committee also found a tendency on the part of some department heads and State officials toward placing newspaper publishers upon their payrolls in positions where little work was done and small service returned and large compensation paid from the appropriations of the department. This can only be accounted for by the fact that such department head or State official was desirous of receiving favorable comment from the press and upon the work of his department, and this committee heartily condemns this practice of spending the peoples' money for private political propaganda.

Your committee also found that there was a lack of knowledge by the heads of departments of the kind of men working in their departments, their ability, work they accomplished and in some cases even of the knowledge that such men were in the department.

In the examination of the vocational education investigators your committee found a woeful lack of responsibility in any single person and for this reason perhaps we might attribute the fact that many of these investigators not only differed as to the nature and scope of their employment, but some even frankly admitted that they did not know what was expected of them, what were the regulations of the department and what were the rules by which they should abide.

This committee found an inclination among department heads and State officers toward the enlargement of their staff of employees and the limiting of such employees to a single line of work.

Your committee found not only that there was often a duplication of duties by employees from different department but found that at certain times as many as five employees of one department were traveling about the State to the same places at the same times when any one of the five could have accomplished the work done by the entire number.

The desire of department heads and State officers for this specilization and duplication gives rise to the necessity of this Legislature, as guardian of the tax payers rights in Illinois, to establish some sort of a check upon the constant increase.

This committee found that in many cases department heads were prone to pass responsibility for the accomplishment of department employees along to the heads of the division under which the men worked, but on the other hand, this committee found, also, that department heads and State officials, although they placed the responsibility for neglect of work upon division chiefs, seldom, if ever, consulted with such division chiefs in the appointment or discharge of employees.

After such examination and investigation as this committee has found it possible to make, we desire to make the following recommendations to this General Assembly:

First: That at the outset of the next General Assembly a committee of like character should be appointed for the purpose of securing information to be used by the Appropriation Committee and the House. The offices of the department heads and those under so-called State officers, have grown so large and the work of the State so great that it is almost impossible for the Appropriation Committee to secure definite information as to the actual needs of State departments. In some cases the department heads and State officers have knowingly asked for larger appropriations than were absolutely necessary, and in other cases made requests for appropriations when they themselves were unfamiliar with the actual items necessary for the carrying on of the work of the department of office. The work of such committee, if said committee should be appointed we believe should be directed for the avoiding of the duplication of the duties among State employees and we feel that recommendations of a nonpartisan committee coming out of a complete and impartial survey and investigation would save the people of Illinois, in traveling appropriations alone, more than a half million dollars, and an additional two or three million dollars in salaries paid to unnecessary employees.

Second: We believe that future Legislators should insist upon receiving from each department head and State official a complete and comprehensive report made to the department by every person in the employ of that department outside of its main office. From the present investigation it is apparent that there is a tendency toward little or no work by traveling investigators and by other employees located and doing their work throughout the State, and not in the chief office of said department. Each department head and State officer should sufficiently acquaint himself with the employees of his office and the duties of the same so that he might be responsible for their work and back up the appointment and the services rendered by each employe in his department.

Each department head and State officer should be required to find means by which he could be able at any time to explain to the Representatives of the people of this State, why employees' salaries were high or low and how much service was rendered by each.

Your committee recommends that future General Assemblies should be particularly thorough in their examination of requests for appropriations by departments who have upon their payrolls newspaper editors or owners, when it is apparent that these men are upon State payrolls more for the purpose of the private political propaganda of individuals rather than of the service that they tender to the State.

This committee feels that its work has been of value not only to this Legislature but also to the taxpayers of Illinois; the publicity received from the investigation carried on by this committee and the facts revealed has called the attention of the people and Legislature alike, to the need of some kind of regulation of the constantly increasing appropriations, and the tendency of department heads and State officers to continuously request the establishment of new positions. The recognition of this situation by the Press and of both branches of this Legislature, has caused close and minute scrutiny of the appropriations requested by various departments and resulted in the reduction of all those items which either branch of the General Assembly considered unnecessary. In the slicing of some appropriations it is possible that such reduction was done without full knowledge, but the same only portrays the needs of some information of a definite character about the appropriations spent by each department.

As a result of the work of this committee and their request from department heads and State officers for information, many department heads and State officers learned for the first time how much work their department accomplished, where the appropriations to the department went, and the calibre and services of many of their employees. It also furnished a needed safety valve upon the enthusiastic demands of department heads and State officers for increased appropriations and new jobs, and it further served as an information bureau to the people and members of the General Assembly and department heads and State officers alike.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN P. HART, Chairman.
W. B. WEISS,
DAVID I. SWANSON,
CHAS. E. FLACK,
ROBERT SCHOLES,
PETER F. SMITH,
JOHN P. DEVINE.

And the question being on the adoption of the report, it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Pierce submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS, June 18, 1923.

To the Speaker and the Members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly:

We, your committee, appointed pursuant to House Resolution No. 66, beg leave to submit the following report:

Six sessions of your committee were held in the city of Springfield and about thirty witnesses were examined, among them State officials, members of the Ku Klux Klan and disinterested citizens. From the examination of these witnesses under oath we find the following facts:

That, from about 7:30 p. m., May 26, 1923, to 4 a. m., May 27, 1923, the State fair grounds situated in Sangamon County and solely owned and controlled by the State of Illinois were exclusively used by the Ku Klux Klan, otherwise known as the Invisible Empire, for the purpose of conducting a naturalization ceremony; that approximately 5,000 members of this organization took possession of said grounds without license or permit, and that about 700 candidates were initiated or naturalized; that one of the main buildings of the fair grounds known as the Coliseum, was used for the naturalization ceremony; that this building was lighted by electricity paid for by the State of Illinois; that during this ceremony in the Coliseum a large cross forty feet by ten feet lighted by acetylene gas was used, increasing the fire hazard of this building, the floor of which, at that time, was covered by tan bark for use by the calvary troops of the Illinois National Guards; that armed guards and Klansmen in full regalia of robes and masks were stationed immediately outside the main gate of the fair grounds, and that no one was permitted to enter this main gate without first giving to a Klansman the password of the order; that additional guards surrounded the Coliseum and refused permission to the Custodian of the State fair grounds, after he had informed them of his official position; that officials of the local branch of the Ku Klux Klan known as the Abraham Lincoln Klan 3, Realm of Illinois, testified that they did not obtain permission from any State official or employee to use the fair grounds on this night; that it has been customary in the past for any organization desiring to use the State fair grounds, to first obtain permission to do so from the manager of said grounds; that it was customary to keep the fair grounds open for the use of the public in general as a park and for small picnics, that on this night in question all the gates of the park were locked; that this same organization used the State fair grounds for the purpose of holding the same character of ceremony on the 12th day of October, 1922, at which time the same State officials were in charge and control of the State fair grounds.

We find from a fair consideration of all the evidence before us, that public officials in charge and custody of said fair grounds, have at least acquiesced in or have passively acceded to encroachments upon such public property by unauthorized persons or assemblages, and that the custodian, Charles F. Muttera, who is in charge of said grounds, is wholly incompetent, and is an unsafe person in which such valuable property rights of the people of the State of Illinois should be entrusted, and we recommend that he be immediately discharged and removed from the occupancy of the dwelling house provided by the State for the use of the custodian of said grounds.

We beg leave to recommend to the members of the House of Representatives, that the attention of the public officials of the State of Illinois, having in charge and control the public property of this State, be called to the resolution herewith submitted, and that this House adopt the same as a part of this report and that a copy thereof be supplied to the managers and custodians of all State property used or accessible for public gathering places by societies, organizations or associations.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM L. PIERCE,
Chairman.

DAVID MCCLUGAGE,
FRANK E. ABBEY,
THOMAS J. O'GRADY,
LOTTIE HOLMAN O'NEILL.

And the question being on the adoption of the report, it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Pierce offered the following resolution and asked, and obtained, unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 76.

WHEREAS, The State Fair Grounds situated in Sangamon County, State of Illinois, have been used for a private assemblage by the association known as the Ku Klux Klan on at least two occasions, viz: On October 12th, 1922, and on May 26th, 1923; that such use was made by such association in exclusion to the public and the legally constituted Custodian of said grounds and certain buildings were occupied nearly all night of each of said dates by several thousand persons, without any manner or restraint, regulation or control whatever, and without any permit, consent or authority, in accordance with the rules of the State Department having charge and control of said grounds, and

WHEREAS, Such usurpation of State property and unauthorized use thereof is considered as dangerous and unwise, and tends to jeopardize such property in the hands of unknown and irresponsible assemblages and subjects the same to the hazard of fire, injury and destruction; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That hereafter no such State property shall be occupied or used by any society, assemblage, association or organization of persons without first applying in writing to the proper authority having custody and charge of such property for such permit, and obtaining a permit in writing so to do.

And the resolution was adopted.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the attached Conference Committee report.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title:

HOUSE BILL No. 343.

A bill for "An Act to amend section 28 of 'An Act in relation to State finance,' approved June 10, 1919."

Together with the following amendment thereto, in the adoption of which amendment I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives.

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 343 in Senate, on page 1, subdivision (1) of section 28, by striking lines 7 and 8 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"societies which have held annual fairs or have been organized for that purpose prior to the taking effect of this amendatory Act. But if thereafter in any county there is no such county fair or agricultural society, the county board may select one in that county which has been organized after the taking effect of this amendatory Act for the purpose of holding annual fairs. No such".

Passed by the Senate with amendment, June 19, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

And the report of the Conference Committee was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

By unanimous consent, Mrs. O'Neill called up Senate Bill No. 415, in the order of third reading.

And Senate Bill No. 415, a bill for "An Act to amend 'An Act to amend 'An Act concerning child labor and to repeal an Act entitled, 'An Act to regulate the employment of children in the State of Illinois, and to provide for the enforcement thereof,' approved May 15, 1903, in force July 1, 1903,' approved June 25, 1917, in force July 1, 1917."

Was taken up.

Whereupon, Mr. Browne made the following statement to the House:

I now object to the calling of Senate Bill No. 415 in the House for third reading, June 19, 1923, and protest against its being called for third reading, for the reason that its second reading was not concluded, as shown by the record, and that it was not advanced to third reading, as shown by the record, until 12:05 o'clock a. m. on this morning, June 19th. That, therefore, the calling of it on third reading at this time would not be a third reading of it upon a separate or another legislative day than the one upon which it was considered and passed upon on second reading; that, therefore, its call now on third reading on this, June 19, 1923, is unconstitutional and renders its passage absolutely void.

The Speaker ruled, in a statement of some length, that in his judgment, the bill was in order on third reading.

Whereupon, Senate Bill No. 415, was taken up, and all amendments adopted thereto having been transcribed, typed and printed, was read at large a third time.

And the question being, "Shall this bill pass?" it was decided in the negative by the following vote: Yeas, 63; nays, 44.

Sec. 27. An application for a license to operate motor vehicles as a chauffeur, who is hereby defined to mean any person operating a motor vehicle as a motor vehicle as a mechanic or employee, or who directly or indirectly receives pay or any compensation whatsoever for any work or services in connection with the operation of a motor vehicle or the transportation of passengers or merchandise with a motor vehicle for hire or pecuniary profit (not including persons who operate only their own motor vehicles unless such persons employ such vehicles in the transportation of passengers or goods for hire) shall be made by mail or otherwise to the Secretary of State, or his duly authorized agent, upon blanks prepared under his authority."

Concurred in by Senate, on June 19, 1923.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the House amendments to a bill of the following title:

SENATE BILL No. 302.

A bill for "An Act to amend sections one (1), two (2), three (3), four (4) and five (5) of an Act entitled, 'An Act in regard to elections and to provide for filling vacancies in elective offices,' approved April 3, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, as subsequently amended."

Which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed Senate Bill No. 302, in House, by striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting the following:

"Sec. 1. That sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 of an Act entitled, 'An Act in regard to elections, and to provide for filling vacancies in elective offices,' approved April 3, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, as amended, are amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 1. That there shall be elected by general ticket in the manner hereinafter provided, on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November preceding the expiration of the term of office of each President of the United States, as many electors of President and Vice President of the United States as this State may be entitled to elect; which election shall be conducted and returns thereof made as hereinafter provided: Provided, that if Congress should hereafter fix a different day, then the election for electors shall be held on such day as shall be named by Act of Congress.

Candidates for electors shall be nominated, their nomination certified, vacancies filled, and objections to nominations determined in the manner provided by law.

The names of candidates for electors of President and Vice President shall not be printed on the official ballot. The names of candidates for President and Vice President of any political party or group nominating electors in the manner provided by law shall be printed upon the ballot within a bracket, with a single square to the left of such bracket. All candidates for electors of any political party or group shall be deemed to have received the vote of any voter who places a cross in the square to the left of any such bracket, or indicates his choice in the manner provided by law by placing a cross in the circle at the beginning of the line in which the party appellation or title is printed on such ballot. Voting on candidates for President and Vice President appearing upon the ballot shall not be deemed a direct vote for such candidates, but shall only be deemed a vote for the entire list or set of electors nominated by that political party or group.

Sec. 2. The county clerks of the several counties shall within eight days next after holding an election for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, as is provided for in this Act, make three copies of the abstract of the votes cast on candidates for President and Vice President by each political party or group, as indicated by the voter as aforesaid, and transmit by mail one of said copies to the Governor, another to the office of the Secretary of State, and retain the third in his office, to be sent for by the Governor in case both the others should be mislaid. Within twenty days after the holding of such election, and sooner if all the returns are received by either the Governor or by the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts and Treasurer, or any two of them, shall, in the presence of the Governor, proceed to open and canvass said election returns, and to declare which set of candidates for President and Vice President received as aforesaid the highest number of votes cast at such election as aforesaid; but should two or more sets of candidates for President and Vice President be returned with an equal and highest vote, the said Secretary of State shall cause a notice of the same to be published, which notice shall name some day and place, not less than five days from the time of publication of such notice, upon which the said Secretary, Auditor of Public Accounts and State Treasurer will decide by lot which of said sets of candidates for President and Vice President so equal and highest shall be declared to be highest. And upon the day and at the place so appointed in said notice, the said Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer, or any two of them, shall, in the presence of the Governor, so decide by lot and declare which is deemed highest of the said sets of candidates for President and Vice President so equal and highest.

The canvass on candidates for President and Vice President shall be the canvass for the candidates for electors of the same political party or group, and the result shall be so declared.

Sec. 3. Within five days after the votes shall have been canvassed and the results declared, the Governor shall cause the result of said election to be published, and shall transmit by mail certificates of election in triplicate to the candidates for electors belonging to the political party or group whose candidates for President and Vice President shall have received the highest vote, as provided in section 2 of this Act, and shall also transmit under the seal of State to the Secretary of State of the United States the certificate of the election of said electors as required by Act of Congress.

Sec. 4. The electors chosen as aforesaid, shall meet at the office of the Secretary of State in a room designated by him in the Capitol at Springfield in this State, at the time appointed by the laws of the United States at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of such day, and give their votes for President and Vice President of the United States, in the manner therein provided, and perform such duties as are or may be required by law. Each elector shall receive for every twenty miles necessary travel in going to the seat of government to give his vote and returning to his residence, to be computed by the most usual route the sum of three dollars ($3.00), to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and any person appointed by the electors assembled to fill a vacancy shall also receive the compensation provided for electors chosen as herein provided.

Sec. 5. In case any person duly elected an elector of President and Vice President of the United States shall fail to attend at the Capitol on the day on which his vote is required to be given, it shall be the duty of the elector or electors of President and Vice President, attending at the time and place, to appoint a person or persons to fill such vacancy; provided, that should the person or persons chosen by the people as aforesaid arrive at the place aforesaid before the votes for President and Vice President are actually given, the person or persons appointed to fill such vacancy shall not act as elector of President and Vice President.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend title of Senate Bill 302 by striking out the word "subsequently" in said title.

Resolved, That a committee of seven members be appointed, to wait upon his Excellency, Hon. Len Small, Governor, and inform him that the House is ready to receive from him any communication that he may desire to make before its final adjournment.

And the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker, thereupon, appointed as such committee, Messrs. Curran, Flagg, Scholes, Daley, Browne, Barber and McClugage.

Mr. Abbey offered the following resolution, and asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 82.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House inform the Senate that the House is ready to adjourn as soon as all bills are enrolled and laid before the Governor, and to inquire if the Senate has anything further to communicate to the House.

And the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Tice offered the following resolution, and asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 83.

Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed by the Speaker, to approve the last day's Journal, after the adjournment of the House.

And the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker, thereupon, appointed as such committee, Messrs. Smejkal, Little, Sonnemann, Devine and McClugage.

Mr. F. A. McCarthy submitted the following report, which was received and ordered placed on file.

REPORT OF THE HERRIN INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FIFTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

To the Honorable, David E. Shanahan, Speaker, and the Members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

Your committee duly appointed pursuant to House Resolution No. 44, for the purpose of inquiring into the riots and disorders occurring in Williamson County during the month of June, A. D. 1922, and also to inquire into the activities of all State and county officials having relation thereto, beg leave to report that your committee met immediately after its appointment on April 11th, 1923, and proceeded to organize the committee and hear the testimony of witnesses. Over sixty witnesses were called before the committee which met both at Springfield and at Marion in Williamson County and between fifteen and twenty hearings were held.

On April 26th, 1923, the committee met at Marion in Williamson County. An automobile trip was arranged and the committee went over the ground at the Lester strip mine from which the captives were taken before being killed, followed along the route taken by the mob and their captives, past Moke crossing, Crenshaw crossing, the Power House Woods where the main slaughter took place and then proceeded into Herrin past the road near the cemetery where the last six prisoners were shot, then on into Herrin over Thirteenth Street, the route taken by the mob, and then returned to Marion.

All of the law enforcing officials of Williamson County were called and practically everyone of them, with the possible exception of State's Attorney Duty, were unwilling witnesses. They would not volunteer a single statement whatsoever, and information could only be secured after the severest cross-examination. Especially was this true of ex-Sheriff Thaxton, who was sheriff of Williamson County during the time of the riots and who is now the county treasurer of that county; county clerk Storm, who was a deputy sheriff during the time of the riots, and John Shaffer, who was also a deputy sheriff during the riots. In this same category can be placed the chief of police and the police officers of both Marion and Herrin, whose attitude was one of defiance to the committee and who absolutely refused to give any information that might assist the committee in its work.

As a whole, the people of Williamson County were not in sympathy with the work of the committee, were opposed to any further investigation, absolutely refused to give use any help or suggestions and seemed to be in sympathy with those responsible for the killings.

One of the witnesses, Will Warder, an attorney of long experience in Williamson County, in response to questions asking for his personal opinion as to the views on the subject of the massacre as it was reflected in the minds of the people of Williamson County, stated as follows:

"This is a coal mining community. Williamson County is a coal mining county. That is, it is its leading industry. Men have gone into the mines from every other walk in life and particularly from the farms all over the county. It is strongly unionized, not only in the mining occupation but in all other occupations. The union feeling is not solely confined to miners or to hod carriers or to the other thirty-five or forty unions we have in Marion and adjoining towns. The feeling reaches out to other people in other lines of life. The union seeks to protect all the rights of its members. In this matter there is a percentage of our citizens who are so much of the union that they justify all that was done. Many of them are honest and law-abiding men. There are others and they constitute quite a large percentage, who reason something along this line: 'Lester made an agreement with the union to furnish him men. He would strip the coal, have it ready to load but would not load it until the strike was settled and loading began from the other mines; that the union furnish them the men to strip the coal. He had seventy thousand tons stripped and ready to load. Then he broke his agreement with the union and brought men, as they term it 'hired forces' into the community, presented them with guns, placed them around the property, across the public road that had been used for forty years, held up citizens, undertook to load his coal with non-union men and that therefore Lester was responsible for all that happened. The moderate view of it does not reach further than that, and so under those circumstances the moderate vision is not open to any other things that happened, and they justify in a way all that was done. At least, they do not fully justify but they do not consider it.'

"Then there is an element, a minority percentage of the citizens of Williamson County, who view this matter as a murder, a massacre of unarmed men who had thrown up their hands, put up a white flag and had surrendered and they consider it all that the outside world does, but they do not go around making a great big noise about it."

The reasoning of this learned gentleman whose attitude was very open, fair and courageous, is in the opinion of the committee a correct expression of the attitude assumed by the people of Williamson County.

Your committee, after considering all of the testimony before it, respectfully submits herewith the following as a GENERAL STATEMENT OF THE FACTS.

The Southern Illinois Coal Company, controlled by W. J. Lester, with C. K. McDowell, as General Superintendent, began operations on its strip mine located about midway between Herrin and Marion in Williamson County, on or about September 9th, 1921. In operating a strip mine the earth is removed from above the vein of coal by means of a large steam shovel, after which the coal is loaded into cars by means of a smaller steam shovel. The principal operation of the Lester strip mine lay to the north of and east and west highway, but for the purpose of excavating, permission was granted the Lester people by the Board of Supervisors to cut through the highway and to make a detour road to the south thereof for the use of the public.

The Lester people had removed sufficient earth so that the shipment of coal might begin in November, 1921, and in these operations members of the United Mine Workers of America were employed. On April 1st, 1922, a general strike existed in the coal industry throughout the United States. During that month Lester, by his Office Manager, Robert Officer, made arrangements with Hugh Willis, Sub-District President for Williamson County, and State Board Member of the United Mine Workers of America, for permission to repair the steam shovels and other machinery on the coal company's property, which was accordingly done with union labor. Permission was also given the Lester people by the officials of the miners union to strip the coal during the strike but they were not to mine coal or ship it out.

On June 13th, Superintendent McDowell laid off the union men and on or about June 15th non-union labor was brought down from Chicago, consisting of track laborers, engine men, steam shovel operators, pump men and about twenty-five or thirty guards whose duty it was to guard the premises. They brought their own commissary department. The men employed on the two steam shovels were members of the Steam Shovel and Dredgemen's Union, but were not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. From June 15th to June 21st, approximately seventy cars of coal were shipped from the Lester mine.

While these operations were going on, armed guards patrolled the mining property and along the highway. Numerous complaints were made to the sheriff and other county officials and to the union officials that these guards were holding up people on the highway and otherwise mistreating and insulting passersby; that they trespassed upon adjoining property and in general assumed an arrogant and defiant attitude toward the people near the mine and the citizens of the county in general. Several citizens traveling along the highway were stopped, ordered off the highway and were even struck in the face by these guards. The farmers adjoining the mine complained that their cows were milked and chickens stolen by these guards and also complained of trespassing upon their premises in order to secure water for the mine. The committee saw two houses located about one-half mile from the mine, where bullets from the guards had struck.

This was the first time in many years that a mine owner had undertaken to operate a mine in Illinois with non-union labor. The section of Illinois in which Williamson County is located is one of the strongest union labor sections in the United States. Practically every line of employment is unionized and the great majority of the citizens are members of labor unions. The animosity of the people of Williamson County was naturally very much stirred up and was greatly intensified by the use of armed guards and their treatment of the adjoining farmers and the citizens on the highway.

On Saturday, June 17th, State's Attorney Duty, Sheriff Thaxton and Deputy Sheriff Storm and Shaffer, drove out to the Lester strip mine to investigate the complaints about the armed guards and their actions. As they drove north on the road which leads to the mine office from the detour road they were stopped by a guard who jumped on the running board and escorted them to the mine office. There were twenty-five armed guards in the immediate vicinity. The State's Attorney informed McDowell, Superintendent of the Mine that he had received several complaints with regard to the action and conduct of the guards and requested McDowell to take them off the highway. He also advised him to stop operating the mine during the strike. McDowell replied that he would see that the guards would not approach the highway, but that he would continue the mining operations.

On Saturday, June 17th, the trouble in Williamson County first came to the attention of the Adjutant General's Office at Springfield. Colonel Samuel N. Hunter read an article in the Chicago papers to the effect that the Lester mine was attempting to operate and that serious consequences might follow. He then endeavored to get in touch with Adjutant General Black, who was at Camp Grant or Waukegan, but was unable to reach him. Being the next highest officer in charge of the office at Springfield, he called State's Attorney Duty and learned from him that the mine was being operated with non-union labor under protection of armed guards and that it might develop into a serious situation. He then telegraphed the State's Attorney to arrange a conference between Sheriff Thaxton and the others interested in the situation, and notified them that he would arrive at Marion at 12:30 noon Sunday, June 18th. He also telegraphed Major Robert W. Davis, of the 130th Infantry, at Carbondale, Illinois, to meet him at that time. Colonel Hunter arrived at Marion at 1:45 p. m. Sunday, accompanied by Major Davis. Both officers were in uniform.

Sunday evening, June 18th, Colonel Hunter, accompanied by police officer Thornton of Marion, drove to the Lester mine. When they reached a point leading north from the detour road they were halted by four guards, two of whom carried guns. They were asked to get out of the automobile and when the guards saw the uniform they permitted the automobile to go up the private road to the mine where Hunter met McDowell. McDowell stated that they had not been molested but requested Hunter to call a company of troops; that if the troops were called he would discharge the guards. Hunter, however, informed McDowell that in his opinion the patrolling of public highways, holding up traffic, operating a non-union mine in a highly organized field constituted a menace to the community. McDowell said however that he was determined to operate the mine as he had done so under similar conditions in other localities. He told Hunter that he had heard several shots in the vicinity but could not tell at whom they were fired. Before leaving Hunter told McDowell that he would keep in touch with him and would advise the sheriff to call for troops if an emergency arose.

Hunter then returned to Marion where, after conversing with numerous persons in and about the streets of Marion, and especially in talking with various miners he was satisfied that there would be serious trouble if the armed guards were not removed and if they continued to operate the mine with non-union workers.

On the morning of Monday, June 19th, a conference was held in the office of the State's Attorney, at which Colonel Hunter, W. J. Lester, Sheriff Thaxton, State's Attorney Duty and Major Davis were present. Lester stated that he was determined to operate the mine and requested the sheriff to swear in the guards he had at the time as deputies, but the sheriff refused. Lester then wrote a letter to the sheriff, suggesting that trouble was brewing and that the sheriff appoint ten or twenty of the guards at the mine as special deputies. Hunter informed Lester that the sheriff was making no effort to prevent trouble and Lester replied that he had his money invested in this property and that he proposed to continue to operate.

Adjutant General Black returned from Camp Logan and Waukegan on Monday, June 19th, and after the conference held by Colonel Hunter with Lester and the sheriff at Marion, he called General Black at Springfield, advising him that the situation was serious; that he did not have any confidence in the sheriff; that the sheriff was a candidate for public office and that two companies should be held in readiness as Lester was determined to operate the mine and that trouble could be expected. General Black's reply to Hunter was, according to Hunter's testimony, "Lay down on that damn sheriff. Have him do his full duty. I cannot send troops until requested by the sheriff."

Immediately after this telephone conversation, Hunter called upon the sheriff and requested him to swear in a sufficient number of deputies to control the situation. The sheriff replied that he had sufficient help with his regular force and that troops would not be needed.

On Monday afternoon, Colonel Hunter, Senator Sneed, Sheriff Thaxton and a newspaper man drove to the Lester mine. The road to the office was blocked by three strands of wire and there was a sign posted "No trespassing allowed." There were guards at this point but they were not armed but had their guns standing against a tree. McDowell again asked for troops and according to Hunter's testimony was willing to pay Hunter fifty dollars a day if he could get them. Hunter replied that he would not recommend troops for that purpose but would not hesitate to recommend them for the protection of lives and property. McDowell said further that he had broken other strikes and was prepared to hold out until troops arrived. At that time Hunter observed about two dozen high-powered rifles and approximately 75,000 rounds of ammunition. Hunter further testified that upon his return to Marion he again requested the sheriff to swear in additional deputies and advised him that the Adjutant General was holding troops in readiness to respond to his request.

On the morning of June 20th, State Senator William J. Sneed received a telegram from John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America stating that the Steam Shovelmen's Union was suspended from affiliation with the American Federation of Labor; that it was an outlaw organization and that they should look upon them the same as any other strike breakers. This telegram provoked intense excitement among the striking miners and by many was interpreted as an order to get rid of the non-union workmen.

A meeting of the miners was held at Sunny Side Mine near Herrin on June 20th, and the telegram from Lewis was there read. The sheriff was advised of this meeting and asked to investigate it.

On Wednesday morning, June 21st, Hunter again visited the sheriff's office and was informed by one of his deputies that everything was quiet; that there had been no disturbance during the night and that the sheriff had not sworn in any additional deputies. Hunter then visited the State's Attorneys office where he met the sheriff. He advised the sheriff to swear in a large force of deputies but the sheriff stated that he had the situation well in hand. Colonel Hunter then called upon C. R. Edrington, Secretary of the Greater Marion Association, stating that he could not impress upon the sheriff the seriousness of the situation and asked Mr. Edrington to organize a citizen's committee, which he did. (Mr. Edrington sought in every way possible, to assist this committee at Marion.) Charles Hamilton, one of the citizen's committee, visited the Lester mine for the purpose of securing McDowell's resignation, and while there learned of a mob forming at the Enterprise Mine. He then returned to Marion and sat in conference with the citizen's committee. It was suggested that Lester be called and advised of the situation. Hamilton finally located Lester at the Great Northern Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, advised him of the impending danger, and finally Lester agreed to close the mine and asked Hamilton to so notify Superintendent McDowell. This he did and McDowell readily agreed.

During the forenoon of Wednesday, the 21st, mobs started forming in the city of Herrin. They visited the hardware stores and demanded arms and ammunition. The general topic of conversation on the streets and in fact, every place, was the fact that they were going to attack the Lester mine. The mob kept increasing and formed in groups in different parts of the down town district. In the city of Marion, a similar condition existed. Word was received that the hardware stores at Herrin had been raided and looted and it was only a short time until mobs went to the hardware stores in Marion and secured arms and ammunition from the owners. Everybody knew what was going to happen, and it was common talk about the streets in Marion that the Lester mine was to be attacked. During the forenoon a load of laborers from Chicago who were being transported from Carbondale to the Lester mine was fired upon from ambush. The truck was riddled with bullets and several of the men were injured. One later died.

About twelve o'clock on that day, Sheriff Thaxton and the State's Attorney drove out to investigate this shooting. Not finding the car they drove to Carbondale and there found the truck and learned of the details of the shooting. It was while in Carbondale on this trip that Sheriff Thaxton made the statement to W. J. Brown, Clerk of the City Court, that the "Sam T. Brush riots wouldn't be one, two three with what is going to happen in the next few hours." This statement was denied by Sheriff Thaxton.

During the evening of the 20th and the morning of the 21st shots were exchanged between the guards at the mine and the mob collecting along the highway. About noon, Jordy Henderson, a miner, was killed by the guards. He was shot a distance of about a half mile from the mine. He was very popular among the miners in both Herrin and Marion. A little later, two other miners were shot by the guards. This shooting infuriated the mobs congregating at both Herrin and Marion, and their numbers were gradually increased in both places. At Marion a mob demanded the Legion rifles, and they were finally placed under the care of the police department for protection. During the early part of the evening, automobile loads of armed men passed through the streets of Herrin and Marion, headed toward the Lester mine. Many of these automobiles came from adjoining counties. At Marion the mobs would go up first one street and then another, stopping at the houses and demanding guns. During the afternoon of the 21st the shooting at the Herrin mine had developed into a pitched battle and there were wild rumors about the streets of both Marion and Herrin to the effect that several more miners had been killed and that there was to be a general attack on the mine.

W. J. Lester on the afternoon of the 21st, at about four o'clock, called Adjutant General Black and told him there was trouble at the mine and asked him to send troops. Black then got in touch with Hunter and Hunter advised him that there had been trouble but that everything was quiet and that a truce had been arranged. Lester also called Hunter at Marion and Governor Small at Waukegan, and advised them of the trouble and requested troops. After this telephone message, Black called the commanding officers of the companies of National Guard Troops at Mount Vernon, Cairo and Salem, asking them to get their telephone lists ready and be prepared to call their men on a moment's notice. Hunter had called General Black during the afternoon and advised him of the shooting of the miners and the ambush of the truck near Carbondale.

After returning from investigating the ambush of the truck the State's Attorney, fearing further trouble, requested the sheriff to accompany him to the mine to see what could be done, but the sheriff thought it would be better to go in the morning. At 3:10 in the afternoon of the 21st, McDowell phoned Colonel Hunter that a large mob had attacked the mine and about five hundred shots had been exchanged and asked him to send troops and also asked him to convey this request to the sheriff. Hunter then called the sheriff's office but was unable to locate him. He then instructed Deputy Sheriff Storm who was on duty at the time, to take all available deputies and to go to the mine, stop the fighting and disperse the mob. Storm replied that the sheriff was not in the city but that he could handle the situation.

About 4:30 in the afternoon, Hunter called McDowell again and suggested a truce, which was readily agreed to by McDowell. He then called Fox Hughes, who was in charge of the Miners Union office at Herrin, and made the same suggestion. It was agreed that the men at the mine were to display a white flag and that the attacking mob was to display a white flag. Both sides were to stop firing. The men in the mine were to be permitted to leave the county in safety and the mine was to be closed during the period of the strike. To all of these terms Fox Hughes agreed and Hunter so informed McDowell. McDowell immediately instructed one of his men to raise a white flag on the embankment west of the office within sight of Crenshaw; also instructing his men to keep watch for a white flag coming from the direction of Herrin as agreed upon by Fox Hughes. Fox Hughes claimed that he stuffed a white muslin flag in his shirt and drove out to the mine; that there was considerable firing and failing to see a white flag at the time he did not attempt to display the flag he had.

A conference was called in the State's Attorney's office that evening; at which were present, State's Attorney Duty, Judge D. T. Hartwell, Major Davis, Hugh Willis, John Shaffer, Willson Bond, Deputy Sheriff Storm and Will Davis, a friend of Judge Hartwell. They discussed the events of the day and it was suggested that Thaxton immediately go to the mine with sufficient deputies to see that the truce was carried out. Thaxton replied that he thought it inadvisable to go out in the night time but that he would go out at six o'clock in the morning. Colonel Hunter then called Black on the phone, told him what had occurred and advised him that in his opinion the truce would be carried out and that there would be no further trouble.

During the afternoon of the 21st, an aeroplane circled over the mine, dropping bombs. This aeroplane was supposed to be in the employ of the striking miners. Later in the evening there were several heavy explosions at the Herrin mine and it was found that the steam shovels had been dynamited by the mob. The lights to the mine were cut off and the water supply blown up. McDowell and his men watched until dark for the flag of truce from the attacking miners but failed to see one. The men then crawled under the trucks of the cars and lay there until day-break.

Shortly before midnight and after the conference at the State's Attorney's office in Marion, Hugh Willis drove back to Herrin and there addressed the mob in front of the miners hall. In the course of his speech he said, "We have the mine well guarded and surrounded so no one can get out and there will be nothing more doing before morning when we can see. What I have been most interested in is prevailing on the sheriff not to get troops down here before we can get possession of the fellows. The sheriff has been very loyal to our cause and we must not forget him this fall when election time comes. They should have more sense than to come down here but as long as they did—Damn them—let them take what they get."

At six o'clock on the morning of June 22nd, Colonel Hunter and Major Davis went to the sheriff's office to carry out the arrangement made the night previous, to go out to the mine and to see that the truce be effectively carried out. They were unable to locate the sheriff until about 8:30 when Hunter, Davis, Sheriff Thaxton and Deputy Sheriff Shaffer drove to the mine arriving there about nine o'clock. They learned that the men had been taken out of the mine and were being marched toward Herrin. The buildings at the mine as well as the cars filled with coal were on fire and other property about the mine had been destroyed.

Hunter and Davis then returned to Marion and at 10:15 Hunter had a telephone conversation with General Black in which he told Black that the men had been taken out of the mine in accordance with the truce arrangement. General Black then told Hunter that the papers had reported that several of the men had been killed while on the march to Herrin. Hunter had no knowledge of this at the time.

On the morning of June 22nd, about sunrise, several men approached the mine displaying a white flag. McDowell and one of his men talked with them and they asked McDowell to surrender and they would give him and his men safe passage from the county. McDowell finally agreed to this and the men laid down their arms and marched out of the mine where they were received by a mob of from five hundred to one thousand people. The mob carried every kind of weapons from pistols to shot guns and high-powered rifles. The men were placed two abreast and marched west a short distance, and then north to Crenshaw crossing, a distance of about one-half mile. Here a new leader (reputed to be Otis Clark) took charge of the mob and there made a speech, saying: "The only way to rid the country of these scabs is to take them all out and kill everyone of them, and that will stop the breed." A large crowd awaited the arrival of the captives at this place. They were then marched on to Moke crossing, about one-half mile from Crenshaw crossing, with the mob tormenting and abusing the captives, hitting them with guns and fists, kicking them and throwing stones at them. At Moke crossing, McDowell who was a cripple and had a wooden leg, and unable to keep up, was taken out of line and the top of his head blown off with a shot gun. The rest of the men were then marched to the power house woods, about a mile from Moke crossing, where a halt was made.

It seemed that the leader in charge of the mob at the time the men in the mine surrendered sought to carry out his agreement, and furnish the men safe passage from the county. After leaving Moke crossing the new leader who was determined to kill the men, ordered them taken out of line and placed in squads of four, to be shot. The first leader objected, and said he would go to a telephone and get in touch with Hugh Willis, then in charge of the office at Herrin, and find out what to do with the men. He returned from the telephone and informed the new leader of the mob that Willis would be right cut, and let them know what disposition to make of the captives. A few minutes later somebody in the crowd yelled "Here comes the President" and an automobile drove up and a man got out who several witnesses swore was Hugh Willis, and said to the mob. "Don't kill them on the public road here. There are too many women and children here. Take them over into the woods and don't let any of them escape."

The leader of the mob then led the captives back of the power house and lined them up against a barb wire fence, telling them that he would give them a chance for their lives under fire. He then lined the mob up a short distance away and the shooting began. The captives in order to get away were first compelled to go through the barb wire fence. Many were caught in the barbs and shot while trying to get loose. Others escaped into the woods. About fifteen were killed at the power house and several more were wounded. Of those who escaped the first fire, one man was re-captured and hung and three shot to death at his feet in Harrison Woods, on the outskirts of the city of Herrin. Six others were captured and conducted by the mob up Thirteenth Street to the city of Herrin. When they reached the south side school they forced the captives to crawl on the ground a short distance. These men were wounded and bleeding, were without hats or shoes, and their clothing torn to shreds and covered with blood.

Hundreds of women and children had joined the mob and jeered and laughed at the captives, shaking their fists at them and calling them all sorts of vile names. They were then led north to about the four hundred block, then east to the cemetery. When they reached the west end of the Herrin City Cemetery the mob forced one of the captives, who was a world war veteran, to take off the soldier shirt he had on, after which the six were tied together with a rope around their necks. They were then marched a short distance and again requested to get down on their hands and knees and crawl like dogs. The mob then opened fire on them and kept firing for quite a considerable length of time. The men were lying in the road with the blood running in streams on both sides. Several of the mob stood within a few feet of the captives and emptied their pistols into their bodies, swearing and cursing at them all of the time.

One of the mob then undertook to cut the throats of the wounded and dying with a pocket knife. Only one of these men lived to tell the tale, Patrick J. O'Rourke. He was shot seven times and had his throat cut and still survived to tell his story to the committee. In all, there were twenty-five of the men at the mine killed and approximately fifteen wounded, while the union men had three killed and one wounded.

After leaving the mine on the morning of the 22nd, Sheriff Thaxton and Deputy Sheriff Shaffer proceeded on to the power house woods and there assisted the coroner and the undertaker in taking care of the bodies of those killed and transporting the wounded to Herrin.

The sheriff testified that he spent the day in Herrin talking with the wounded men and walking about the streets. From his testimony and the testimony of the other witnesses, developed the fact that neither the sheriff nor any of his deputies, or the policemen of Herrin and Marion, ever attempted to find out who was responsible for these murders or assisted in any way in securing evidence upon which to convict the guilty parties. On the contrary, it appears that they did everything in their power to protect the men accused and indicted for these murders.

Forty-four persons were later indicted for murder; fifty-eight for conspiracy to commit murder; fifty-eight for rioting and fifty-four for assault to murder. Two trials were held at Marion lasting for months, each resulting in the acquittal of the defendants. It appeared from the sentiment of the people in the community that it was impossible to convict anybody of these murders no matter how strong the testimony. The Attorney General thought it folly to proceed further and nolle prossed the other indictments.

All of the police officers of Herrin and Marion were called as witnesses before the committee. Their testimony was in keeping with the other county officials, very reluctantly given and no testimony whatsoever volunteered. Neither the Marion or Herron police officials attempted in any way to prevent the mobs from forming or did they try to dissuade them from their purpose. It appears to the committee that they had full and complete knowledge of what was going on and what was to be done by the mob, and that their sympathies were entirely with them. It was not shown that they actually participated in the riots, but that acquiesced in it to such an extent and permitted the mobs to form openly and without molestation and interference on their part so that they were just as responsible for what happened as though they had actually participated. We believe that they were absolutely derelict in their duty and not one of them worthy to wear a star or uniform as a police officer.

STATEMENT OF FACTS AND FINDINGS RELATIVE TO PUBLIC AND STATE OFFICIALS AND OTHERS DIRECTLY INVOLVED.

Your committee would respectfully submit the following facts and findings relative to the officials of both State and County, whose duty it was to enforce the law and also with reference to Hugh Willis and Fox Hughes, who were in charge of and assumed the responsibility of the Miners Organization and who were directly involved in this trouble.

CARLOS E. BLACK, ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

Carlos E. Black was appointed Adjutant General on February 7th, 1922. During the week previous to June 19th, he had been at Camp Grant attending at the school for non-commissioned officers. From there he went to Camp Logan to look after some equipment. He returned to his office in Springfield on Monday, June 19th. About 11:00 o'clock, Colonel Hunter advised him by telephone from Marion, that the Southern Illinois Coal Company was operating a mine with non-union miners in the vicinity of Herrin; that there was bitter feeling as a result of this, and he thought that it might cause trouble. He recommended that two companies be held in readiness for any emergency that might arise. Black then instructed him to advise the sheriff to maintain order and that Hunter should make further investigation and report later in the day, which he did at about six o'clock that night. Hunter advised Black that the sheriff had not sworn in any deputies, that he did not anticipate the use of troops at that time, and that everything seemed to be quieted down. Black instructed him to stay on the job, and if troops were necessary to let him know. Hunter called again at 7:35 p. m. on Tuesday. He stated that the feeling was bad and that troops should be held in readiness. He said the situation had quieted down and that there was seemingly no further demand for troops and that the citizens were co-operating. Hunter called again about one o'clock on June 21st, in which he stated that the citizen's committee was co-operating and he thought would bring the desired results. Hunter called again about three o'clock in the afternoon, stating that there had been some trouble and shooting at the mine; that he got in touch with the sheriff's office and advised the sheriff of this trouble and suggested that the sheriff go out and investigate. Hunter expressed the belief that the sheriff could handle the situation.

On the same afternoon Lester called from the Great Northern Hotel in Chicago, advising Black of the trouble at the mine and asked for troops. Black then called the commanding officers at Mount Vernon, Salem and Cairo, advising them to have their telephone lists ready for an emergency. Hunter called again about 6:30 and said there had been some trouble at the mine and that he (Hunter) had arranged a truce; that everything was settled satisfactorily and that there was no cause for alarm. Hunter called again about eleven o'clock and said that everything was quiet and that he thought the trouble had been averted. When Hunter reported at six o'clock he told Black about two union men being killed; that the guards at the mine were armed and that there had been some trouble there. On June 22nd Black put in a call for Hunter at 9:30, talked with him at 10:20. In the meantime Black had read in the newspapers of the murder and communicated that information to Hunter who seemed surprised. Black again called Hunter at 11:33 and Hunter then verified the report that a number of people had been killed and wounded. On June 23rd Black ordered the troops mobilized but they were never moved.

The report of Colonel Hunter to General Black describing in detail the happenings at Herrin, the telephone conversations and the reports made by Hunter to General Black were filed in the office of the Adjutant General on July 5th. Black stated that he read the report but never objected to it. The report stated that Hunter had notified Black that on the afternoon of June 21st approximately 500 shots had been exchanged between those in the mine and those attacking; that Hunter was unable to get in touch with the sheriff and that McDowell wanted troops. The report filed by Hunter states that he gave General Black a detailed report about the killing of the miners, on the 21st, the firing on the truck and the looting of the hardware stores by the mob.

The committee finds that on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Hunter gave Black sufficient information to satisfy any reasonable person that the situation was very serious and that trouble might occur at any time.

George Sutton, Secretary to the Governor, testified that on Monday he told Black that he ought to go down there; that the situation was of such a serious nature that Black ought to be on the ground himself. The testimony produced shows no action taken whatever to discipline or discharge Hunter for neglect of duty or making an alleged false report.

The committee finds that Adjutant General Black was derelict in his duty in not taking personal charge of the situation and in not ordering out the troops; that the conditions reported to General Black were of such a serious nature as to warrant any reasonable person to believe that trouble was sure to come. The committee believe that the responsibility of the situation rested with the Adjutant General; that if he was satisfied to take the judgment of one of his inferior officers instead of being upon the ground himself, he therefore assumed the responsibility and the actions of that officer and is chargeable with any misjudgment or misconduct on the part of such inferior officer. We believe that if General Black had gone to the scene of this trouble when the seriousness of it first came to his attention, that he would have called troops and averted the massacre.

COLONEL SAMUEL N. HUNTER.

During the month of June, 1922, Colonel Samuel N. Hunter was personnel officer of the Military Department of the Illinois National Guard. He held that position for about two years. Hunter arrived at Marion on Sunday, June 18th, after having read of reports of trouble at the Lester Strip Mine and after he had talked with George Sutton, Secretary to the Governor, regarding the seriousness of the situation. He was the highest in rank and in charge of the office at Springfield in the absence of General Black. After some investigation he found that the Lester Strip Mine was being operated by non-union men and that there was considerable feeling among the citizens and union men because of that fact. Colonel Hunter was well acquainted with the activity of the miners organization, and the danger of operating a mine with non-union men. He visited the mine, saw that armed guards were protecting the workmen and that guns and ammunition were held in readiness in the event of trouble. He was in close touch with the sheriff's office, knew that he had only two or three deputies available if anything occurred; that the sheriff was in sympathy with the union miners and would do nothing to prevent trouble if it arose. He was advised by the sheriff and others that troops would not be called in any event and that seemed to be the prevailing sentiment in the entire county. From the facts reported by Colonel Hunter, there was sure to be a clash at the Lester mine and it was only a question of hours as to when it would occur. He knew of the looting of the stores, the killing of the union miners and many other facts from which the average person would know that there would be bloodshed.

The committee finds that the action taken by him was entirely out of keeping with the facts and the circumstances. No sufficient excuse is shown in the record and none can be shown for his failure to call for troops to handle the situation. We believe that he was absolutely incompetent, unreliable and unworthy to perform the duties assigned to him. We believe he is not qualified to hold his present position in the National Guard, and especially a position in the Adjutant General's office where he might be called upon to exercise his judgment under like or similar circumstances.

MELVIN THAXTON, SHERIFF OF WILLIAMSON COUNTY AT THE TIME OF THE RIOTS AND NOW COUNTY TREASURER OF THAT COUNTY.

Melvin Thaxton was serving his last year as sheriff of Williamson County and was nominated at the primaries in April for County Treasurer. He had been a member of the Mine Workers' Union and carried a card in that organization. He had held public office in Williamson County for over twelve years. He was well acquainted with the facts and circumstances surrounding the operation of the Lester mine by non-union workmen, having visited the mine several times and having seen the armed guards patrolling the mine property to protect the non-union workmen. He knew of the feeling among the miners and the citizens against the non-union workmen and knew that an attempt would be made to stop the operation of the mine by force. He had visited the mine with Colonel Hunter and with the State's Attorney; had talked with Lester and had refused to swear in deputies to meet any emergency that might arise. His knowledge of the situation was very clearly evident from the statement he made to the city clerk of Carbondale, that: "The Sam T. Brush riots would not be one, two, three in comparison with what would happen in Williamson County in the next few hours."

The absolute failure on the part of him and his deputies to make one single move to prevent this trouble or to try and ascertain those responsible for the killings after the massacre lead to the conclusion that both the sheriff and his deputies, if not actually participating in the trouble, had full knowledge of the situation and sympathized with and acquiesced in the actions taken by those responsible for the killings.

We find that Melvin Thaxton, then sheriff of Williamson County, and now the county treasurer thereof, and his deputies, John Shaffer and S. D. Storm, now county clerk, are absolutely irresponsible, incompetent and unqualified to hold any office of trust or confidence in that or any other county in the State of Illinois. They were criminally negligent in the discharge of their official duties.

DELOS DUTY, STATE'S ATTORNEY OF WILLIAMSON COUNTY.

The committee finds that Delos Duty, as State's Attorney of Williamson County, did all that any State's Attorney could do under the prevailing circumstances. While it may appear that he did not assume control of the situation on the day previous to the massacre as he might have done, it must be taken into consideration that he was surrounded with officials whom we believe were acting in conjunction with or at least were in sympathy with, those responsible for the killings. His untiring efforts in trying to convict those whom he believed responsible for the murders lead us to the conclusion that he did his full duty, even to the sacrifice of his health. He deserves the commendation of this committee, the people of his county and the State of Illinois.

HUGH WILLIS, STATE BOARD MEMBER OF THE MINER'S ORGANIZATION.

Shortly after your committee was organized, Hugh Willis left the State of Illinois and was reported to be at Hot Springs. When his presence was desired before the committee, his whereabouts could not be ascertained. Subpoenaes were sent to officers of the Miner's Organization and requests made of various persons to have him come before the committee and testify. All efforts in this regard failed however, and he did not appear. About the first day of June he sent word through State Senator Wm. J. Sneed, President of the Mine Workers Local in Williamson County, that he (Willis) would appear before the committee if they would go to Williamson County, but that he would not appear before them in any other locality. Sneed said he, Willis, did not want to be indicted for perjury by testifying in any other place. The testimony with reference to the activities of Hugh Willis just prior to and at the time of the killing is clear and convincing and inasmuch as he did not appear to contradict or explain any of the statements that were published broadcast in the papers against him, we are forced to and do assume them to be correct. Several witnesses testified that on the morning of the massacre he drove up to the power house near Herrin where the mob held the men taken from the mine as captives and told them "not to kill the scabs in front of the women and children, but to take them back in the woods and kill everyone of them."

The statement made by him on the night of the 21st when he made a speech in front of the Miner's Headquarters at Herrin, in which he said, "We have the mine well guarded and surrounded so no one can get out and there will be nothing more done before morning when we can see. Those fellows should have more sense than to come down here but as long as they did—Damn them—let them take what they get," convinces the committee that he had full knowledge of the actions of the mob; that it was within his power to have prevented the massacre but instead of that he did all in his power to carry out the wishes of the mob and actively supervised and directed its operations. We believe that at any time during the entire trouble he could have assumed control of the situation, stopped any further rioting and dispersed the mob.

The activity of Willis on the 21st in this connection is clearly shown when the mob went to one of the hardware stores in Herrin and demanded guns and ammunition. They told one hardware dealer that he did not need to worry, that the miners' local and Hugh Willis would see that he was taken care of. The hardware dealer told them he would not give them anything without a written order from Willis. The men left the hardware store and a few minutes later Hugh Willis called the hardware dealer on the phone and told him to let the men have what they wanted and that he would see that the goods were paid for. This dealer had known Willis for about ten or twelve years, knew his voice and recognized it over the telephone.

The committee is of the opinion that he could be convicted of this murder in any other county in the State, and his actions in refusing to appear before the committee more firmly convince us of the truth of our stand in this regard.

We do not believe that the actions of the officers or those in charge of an organization should be chargeable against its members, but we believe that the miner's organization, after knowing what the facts really are should immediately discharge Mr. Willis and sever all connection with him, and we further recommend and feel that it is the duty of the miner's organization immediately discharge him from any position of trust or confidence and see that such unscrupulous and incompetent men are not placed in charge of their organization.

FOX HUGHES.

There is no direct proof in the record that Fox Hughes who is vice president of the Mine Workers' Organization of Williamson County, actually participated in or was directly connected with the massacre in question. His actions, however, on the evening of June 21st in failing to display a white flag as directed and carrying out the terms of the truce, as he had agreed to do, and his apparent lack of interest in what actually happened, convince us that he knew, or in the exercise of ordinary diligence, could have known, what was going to happen. We believe that he should immediately be discharged by the miners organization as incompetent, unreliable and unworthy.

W. J. LESTER, OWNER OF THE STRIP MINE.

W. J. Lester, who at the time of the trouble in Williamson County was the owner of the strip mine, has had considerable experience in operating mines. He was associated in other properties with C. F. Hamilton, who testified before this committee. Mr. Hamilton stated that he explained fully to Mr. Lester the labor situation in Williamson County when Lester told him he was going to operate this mine with non-union workmen; that he tried in every way to dissuade Lester from carrying out his intentions, explaining to him that it was absolutely impossible and that nothing but harm, bloodshed and destruction of property could follow such a plan. He also testified that others had tried to dissuade Lester from employing non-union labor. Lester stated, however, that he was going to show the mine owners how to operate their mines without consulting the Miners' Union. It was the first time so far as this committee have been able to learn that anyone had undertaken to operate a mine with non-union labor in Illinois.

The committee was unable to locate Mr. Lester but got in touch with his attorney in Chicago. Every effort was made to induce Mr. Lester, who was out of the State, to appear before the committee but his attorney refused to produce him and he did not appear. The committee finds that the action of W. J. Lester in undertaking to run a mine in this highly unionized territory by the use of armed guards to protect the non-union workmen, was one of the chief causes of the massacre; that his plan to operate this mine under the protection of armed guards when a strike was in progress was most foolhardy and unwise. We condemn in every particular his actions in this regard and recommend that some legislation be enacted to prevent a recurrence by another such foolish and incompetent mine owner or employer.

The use of armed guards specially hired for strike breaking is a thing to be discouraged. These men are professional guards or watchmen and in the latter capacity may properly be characterized as a private military or police force. They have been employed frequently by corporations in the case of strikes or other labor troubles and there exists an irreconcilable hostility between them and labor organizations. Nothing is better calculated to incite the latter to deeds of violence than for armed guards or professional watchmen to be brought in contact with them. The use of such guards or watchmen has grown very largely out of the sloth and dilatoriness of the civil authorities to render efficient and prompt protection to persons and property in such cases; but to allow without the consent of the State and to permit individuals or corporations to employ such armed forces is well calculated to produce irritation among the strikers, frequently resulting in hostile demonstrations and bloodshed. Such action upon the part of a corporation or association should never be allowed without the consent first obtained of the State. A contrary course tends to bring the local civil authority into contempt. Exasperated strikers will not molest or resist the officers of the State, when under exactly similar circumstances, they will assault the professional watchmen or guards hired by the corporation.

GENERAL FINDINGS.

The committee finds after a review of all of the facts before and leading up to and resulting in the massacre shown herein, and with the absolute failure on the part of local authorities to enforce the law or to attempt to discourage lawlessness, that the same results might occur in any community in the State of Illinois under similar circumstances. In the case of the Lester mine, operated by non-union labor in this highly unionized territory, there was a natural prejudice against the imported men. The continued abuse of the citizens and the union miners by the armed guards had driven the people almost to exasperation and only a match was needed to start the conflagration and inflame the minds of the community to drastic action. That came after the killing of the union miners about noon on June 31st, and nothing could have prevented what followed except the action of the local authorities in taking drastic steps to prevent bloodshed. Had the sheriff or any other of the authorities of the county organized a force of deputies or citizens and taken over the situation, bloodshed could have been averted. The action of the sheriff, knowing the full situation, by going home and going to bed, and permitting a disorganized mob, infuriated by the murder of three citizens of the community to take control of the situation, is most deplorable and a sad precedent in the history of Illinois.

We believe that the action of the sheriff and his deputies in this regard will lead to other massacres of a like nature and only prompt and efficient action on the part of the Adjutant General and the State Officials in such cases can be relied upon to prevent similar occurrences in the future. After the happenings of June 22nd and the circumstances leading up to them no other results could be expected. Wherever and whenever the same situation occurs it can only be prevented by prompt action on the part of the law enforcing officials of the county and of the State.

THE MINER'S ORGANIZATION.

The committee further finds that Hugh Willis and Fox Hughes the officials of the Miner's Organization in charge of the office at Herrin, had they been prompted by high and lofty motives could have easily prevented this entire disaster. We do not feel that the responsibility of their actions should fall upon the members of that organization, or that they should be accountable for them, but we do feel that they should show the people of Illinois and the world that they repudiate the actions of these officials by immediately removing them from the positions of trust and confidence they now hold in that organization. We deplore the fact that the officials of that organization have done nothing whatever to bring the perpetrators of this ghastly crime to justice. We hope that in the future this organization will place men in charge of their affairs who are worthy to represent the rank and file of that organization and who will use every effort to enforce and respect the law and to uphold the Government of this State and Nation.

CITIZENS OF WILLIAMSON COUNTY.

The committee finds that the spirit of the majority of the people of Williamson County is in sympathy with the actions of the mob. While this to a great extent may have been caused by the ruthless murder of three of their citizens by the armed guards, yet we deplore the fact that after this most atrocious murder the people of that county re-elected to office by large majorities, Melvin Thaxton, the sheriff to the office of county treasurer, and Deputy Sheriff Storm to the office of county clerk. These men were grossly derelict in their duty and in a great measure were responsible for the blot upon the fair name of Williamson County and Illinois.

We regret that the people of that county have again honored these men by electing them to public office for which they were entirely unfitted, unworthy and unqualified.

The committee further finds that while the sentiment in Williamson County appears to be strongly in sympathy with the actions of the mob on June 22nd, we do know that there are a great many citizens who are not in sympathy with the action taken and the results that followed. The thing to be regretted in the passive attitude and acquiescence of many of the reputable citizens of that community in the actions of the mob. Such tragedies will occur again unless the high-minded citizens assert themselves and elect to public office officials who will do their full duty, protect the rights of the citizens of their community and enforce the law.

THE ABSENT WITNESSES.

The committee finds that Deputy Sheriff Laymen, Police Officer, Jake Jones, and the Police Magistrate Six, of the city of Herrin, after learning that subpoenas were issued for their appearance at Springfield, willfully left the county and the State for the sole purpose of preventing their testimony being taken by this committee. These men were all law enforcing officials in that community and their actions in this regard cast a cloud upon the citizens of that city and can only be removed by their being dishonorably discharged from their official positions upon their return home. We are not in sympathy with evaders of the law and especially will this show that the people do not approve of evasion and disrespect of law by those whose duty it is to enforce it.

The committee deplores the unwarranted action on the part of certain members of the Illinois Senate in preventing the bill filed and passed by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly which would have continued the existence of this committee from being voted upon on the last day of the present session. By their acts in this regard, they have cast reflection upon the people of this great State and by their passive action approved and acquiesced in the action of the police magistrate, police officer and deputy sheriff, in departing from the State to wait until the Legislature adjourned.

The committee finds that the failure to bring this bill to a final vote was the result of continuous pressure brought by different members of the Senate upon those charged with the duty of calling this bill for hearing, and this pressure was brought solely because certain members of the Senate declined to go on record either for or against this bill, for fear of the political consequences. The committee hopes that these Senators will be replaced by men of high moral stamina and courage, who will think more of the protection of the fair name of the State of Illinois than their own selfish political ambitions.

Mr. Curran submitted the following minority report, which was received and ordered placed on file.

MINORITY REPORT OF THE HERRIN INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FIFTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

To the Honorable, David E. Shanahan, Speaker, and the Members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

Your committee duly appointed pursuant to House Resolution No. 44, for the purpose of inquiring into the riots and disorders occurring in Williamson County during the month of June, A. D. 1922, and also to inquire into the activities of all State and county officials having relation thereto, beg leave to report that your committee met immediately after its appointment on April 11th, 1923, and proceeded to organize the committee and hear the testimony of witnesses. Over sixty witnesses were called before the committee which met both at Springfield and at Marion in Williamson County and between fifteen and twenty hearings were held.

On April 26th, 1922, the committee met at Marion in Williamson County. An automobile trip was arranged and the committee went over the ground at the Lester Strip Mine from which the captives were taken before being killed, followed along the route taken by the mob and their captives, past Moke crossing, Crenshaw crossing, the Power House Woods where the main slaughter took place and then proceeded into Herrin past the road near the cemetery where the last six prisoners were shot, then on into Herrin over Thirteenth Street, the route taken by the mob, and then returned to Marion.

All of the law enforcing officials of Williamson County were called and appeared as witnesses testifying before your committee and practically everyone of them, with the possible exception of State's Attorney Duty, were unwilling witnesses. They would not volunteer a single statement whatsoever, and information could only be secured after the severest cross-examination. Especially was this true of ex-Sheriff Thaxton, who was sheriff of Williamson County during the time of the riots and who is now the county treasurer of that county; County Clerk Storm, who was a deputy sheriff during the time of the riots, and John Shaffer, who was also a deputy sheriff during the riots. In this same category can be placed the chief of police and the police officers of both Marion and Herrin, whose attitude was one of defiance to the committee and who absolutely refused to give any information that might assist the committee in its work.

As a whole, the people of Williamson County were not in sympathy with the work of the committee, were opposed to any further investigation, absolutely refused to give us any help or suggestions and seemed to be in sympathy with those responsible for the killings.

One of the witnesses, Will Warder, an attorney of long experience in Williamson County, in response to questions asking for his personal opinion as to the views on the subject of the massacre as it was reflected in the minds of the people of Williamson County, stated as follows:

"This is a coal mining community. Williamson County is a coal mining county. That is, it is its leading industry. Men have gone into the mines from every other walk in life and particularly from the farms all over the county. It is strongly unionized, not only in the mining occupation, but in all other occupations. The union feeling is not solely confined to miners or to hod carriers or to the other thirty-five or forty unions we have in Marion and adjoining towns. The feeling reaches out to other people in other lines of life. The union seeks to protect all the rights of its members. In this matter there is a percentage of our citizens who are so much of the union that they justify all that was done. Many of them are honest and law-abiding men. There are others and they constitute quite a large percentage, who reason something along this line: 'Lester made an agreement with the union to furnish him men. He would strip the coal, have it ready to load but would not load it until the strike was settled and loading began from the other mines; that the union furnish them the men to strip the coal. He had seventy thousand tons stripped and ready to load. Then he broke his agreement with the union and brought men, as they term it 'hired forces' into the community, presented them with guns, placed them around the property, across the public road that had been used for forty years, held up citizens, undertook to load his coal with non-union men and that therefore Lester was responsible for all that happened. The moderate view of it does not reach further than that, and so under those circumstances the moderate vision is not open to any other things that happened, and they justify in a way all that was done. At least, they do not fully justify but they do not consider it."

"Then there is an element, a minority percentage of the citizens of Williamson County, who view this matter as a murder, a massacre of unarmed men who had thrown up their hands, put up a white flag and had surrendered and they consider it all that the outside world does, but they do not go around making a great big noise about it."

The reasoning of this learned gentleman whose attitude was very open, fair and courageous, is in the opinion of the committee a correct expression of the attitude assumed by the people of Williamson County.

Your committee, after considering all of the testimony before it, respectfully submits herewith the following as a GENERAL STATEMENT OF FACTS.

The Southern Illinois Coal Company, controlled by W. J. Lester, with C. K. McDowell as General Superintendent, began operations on its strip mine located about midway between Herrin and Marion in Williamson County, on or about September 9th, 1921. In operating a strip mine the earth is removed from about the vein of coal by means of a large steam shovel, after which the coal is loaded into cars by means of a smaller steam shovel. The principal operation of the Lester Strip Mine lay to the north of an east and west highway, but for the purpose of excavating, permission was granted the Lester people by the Board of Supervisors to cut through the highway and to make a detour road to the south thereof for the use of the public.

The Lester people had removed sufficient earth so that the shipment of coal might begin in November, 1921, and in these operations members of the United Mine Workers of America were employed. On April 1st, 1922, a general strike existed in the coal industry throughout the United States. During that month Lester, by his office manager, Robert Officer, made arrangements with Hugh Willis, State Board Member of the United Mine Workers of America for permission to repair the steam shovels and other machinery on the coal company's property, which was accordingly done with union labor. Permission was also given the Lester people by the officials of the miners union to strip the coal during the strike but they were not to mine coal or ship it out.

On June 13th Superintendent McDowell laid off the union men and on or about June 15th, non-union labor was brought down from Chicago, consisting of tract laborers, engine men, steam shovel operators, pump men and about twenty-five or thirty guards whose duty it was to guard the premises. They brought their own commissary department. The men employed on the two steam shovels were members of the Steam Shovel and Dredgemen's Union, but were not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. From June 15th to June 21st, approximately seventy cars of coal were shipped from the Lester mine.

While these operations were going on, armed guards patrolled the mining property and along the highway. Numerous complaints were made to the sheriff and other county officials and to the union officials that these guards were holding up people on the highway and otherwise mistreating and insulting passersby; that they trespassed upon adjoining property and in general assumed an arrogant and defiant attitude toward the people near the mine and the citizens of the county in general. Several citizens traveling along the highway were stopped, ordered off the highway and were even struck in the face by these guards. The farmers adjoining the mine complained that their cows were milked and chickens stolen by these guards and also complained of trespassing upon their premises in order to secure water for the mine. The committee saw two houses located about one-half mile from the mine, where bullets from the guards had struck.

This was the first time in many years that a mine owner had undertaken to operate a mine in Illinois with non-union labor. The section of Illinois in which Williamson County is located is one of the strongest union labor sections in the United States. Practically every line of employment is unionized and the great majority of the citizens are members of labor unions. The animosity of the people of Williamson County was naturally very much stirred up and was greatly intensified by the use of armed guards and their treatment of the adjoining farmers and the citizens of the highway.

On Saturday, June 17th, State's Attorney Duty, Sheriff Thaxton and Deputy Sheriffs Storm and Shaffer, drove out to the Lester Strip Mine to investigate the complaints about the armed guards and their actions. As they drove north on the road which leads to the mine office from the detour road they were stopped by a guard who jumped on the running board and escorted them to the mine office. There were twenty-five armed guards in the immediate vicinity. The State's attorney informed McDowell, superintendent of the mine, that he had received several complaints with regard to the action and conduct of the guards and requested McDowell to take them off the highway. He also advised him to stop operating the mine during the strike. McDowell replied that he would see that the guards would not approach the highway, but that he would continue the mining operations.

On Saturday, June 17th, the trouble in Williamson County first came to the attention of the Adjutant General's office at Springfield. Colonel Samuel N. Hunter read an article in the Chicago papers to the effect that the Lester mine was attempting to operate and that serious consequences might follow. He then endeavored to get in touch with Adjutant General Black, who was at Camp Logan but was unable to reach him. Being the next highest officer in charge of the office at Springfield, he called State's Attorney Duty and learned from him that the mine was being operated with non-union labor under protection of armed guards and that it might develop into a serious situation. He then telegraphed the State's attorney to arrange a conference between Sheriff Thaxton and the others interested in the situation, and notified them that he would arrive at Marion at 12:30 noon Sunday, June 18th. He also telegraphed Major Robert W. Davis, of the 130th Infantry, at Carbondale, Illinois to meet him at that time. Colonel Hunter arrived at Marion at 1:45 p. m. Sunday accompanied by Major Davis. Both officers were in uniform.

Sunday evening, June 18th, Colonel Hunter, accompanied by police officer Thornton of Marion, drove to the Lester mine. When they reached a point leading north from the detour road they were halted by four guards. Two of whom carried guns. They were asked to get out of the automobile and when the guards saw the uniform they permitted the automobile to go up the private road to the mine where Hunter met McDowell. McDowell stated that they had not been molested but requested Hunter to call a company of troops; that if the troops were called he would discharge the guards. Hunter, however, informed McDowell that in his opinion the patrolling of public highways, holding up traffic, operating a non-union mine in a highly organized field constituted a rather dangerous situation in the community. McDowell said, however, that he was determined to operate the mine as he had done so under similar conditions in other localities. He told Hunter that he had heard several shots in the vicinity but could not tell at whom they were fired. Before leaving Hunter told McDowell that he would keep in touch with him and would advise the sheriff to call for troops if an emergency arose.

Hunter then returned to Marion where, after conversing with numerous persons in and about the streets of Marion, and especially in talking with various miners, he was satisfied that there would be serious trouble if the armed guards were not removed and if they continued to operate the mine with non-union workers.

On the morning of Monday, June 19th, a conference was held in the office of the State's attorney, at which Colonel Hunter, W. J. Lester, Sheriff Thaxton, State's Attorney Duty and Major Davis were present. Lester stated that he was determined to operate the mine and requested the sheriff to swear in the guards he had at the time as deputies, but the sheriff refused. Lester then wrote a letter to the sheriff, suggesting that trouble was brewing and that the sheriff appoint ten or twenty of the guards at the mine as special deputies. Hunter informed Lester that the sheriff was making no effort to prevent trouble and Lester replied that he had his money invested in this property and that he proposed to continue to operate.

Adjutant General Black returned from Camp Logan on Monday, June 19th, and after the conference held by Colonel Hunter with Lester and the sheriff at Marion, he called General Black at Springfield, advising him that the situation was serious; that he did not have any confidence in the sheriff; that the sheriff was a candidate for public office and that two companies should be held in readiness as Lester was determined to operate the mine and that trouble could be expected.

Immediately after this telephone conversation, Hunter called upon the sheriff and requested him to swear in a sufficient number of deputies to control the situation. The sheriff replied that he had sufficient help with his regular force and that troops would not be needed.

On Monday afternoon, Colonel Hunter, Senator Sneed, Sheriff Thaxton and a newspaper man drove to the Lester mine. The road to the office was blocked by three strands of wire and there was a sign posted "No trespassing allowed." There were guards at this point but they were not armed but had their guns standing against a tree. McDowell again asked for troops and according to Hunter's testimony was willing to pay Hunter fifty dollars a day if he could get them. Hunter replied that he would not recommend troops for that purpose but would not hesitate to recommend them for the protection of lives and property. McDowell said further that he had broken other strikes and was prepared to hold out until troops arrived. At that time Hunter observed about two dozen high-powered rifles and approximately 75,000 rounds of ammunition. Hunter further testified that upon his return to Marion he again requested the sheriff to swear in additional deputies and advised him that the Adjutant General was holding troops in readiness to respond to his request.

On Wednesday morning, June 21st, Hunter again visited the sheriff's office and was informed by one of his deputies that everything was quiet; that there had been no disturbance during the night and that the sheriff had not sworn in any additional deputies. Hunter then visited the State's attorney's office where he met the sheriff. He advised the sheriff to swear in a large force of deputies but the sheriff stated that he had the situation well in hand. Colonel Hunter then called upon C. R. Edrington, secretary of the Greater Marion Association, stating that he could not impress upon the sheriff the seriousness of the situation and asked Mr. Edrington to organize a citizen's committee, which he did. (Mr. Edrington sought in every way possible, to assist this committee at Marion.) Charles Hamilton, one of the citizen's committee, visited the Lester mine for the purpose of securing McDowell's resignation, and while there learned of a mob forming at the Enterprise mine. He then returned to Marion and sat in conference with the citizen's committee. It was suggested that Lester be called and advised of the situation. Hamilton finally located Lester at the Great Northern Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, advised him of the impending danger, and finally Lester agreed to close the mine and asked Hamilton to so notify Superintendent McDowell. This he did and McDowell readily agreed.

During the afternoon of Wednesday, the 21st, mobs started forming in the city of Herrin. They visited the hardware stores and demanded arms and ammunition. The general topic of conversation on the streets and in fact, every place, was the fact that they were going to attack the Lester mine. The mob kept increasing and formed in groups in different parts of the town district. In the city of Marion, a similar condition existed. Word was received that the hardware stores at Herrin had been raided and looted and it was only a short time until mobs went to the hardware stores in Marion and secured arms and ammunition from the owners. Everybody knew what was going to happen, and it was common talk about the streets in Marion that the Lester mine was to be attacked. During the afternoon a load of laborers from Chicago who were being transported from Carbondale to the Lester mine was fired upon from ambush. The truck was riddled with bullets and several of the men were injured. One later died.

About twelve o'clock on that day, Sheriff Thaxton and the State's Attorney drove out to investigate this shooting. Not finding the car they drove to Carbondale and there found the truck and learned of the details of the shooting. It was while in Carbondale on this trip that Sheriff Thaxton made the statement to W. J. Brown, Clerk of the City Court, that the "Sam T. Brush riots wouldn't be one, two three with what is going to happen in the next few hours." This statement was denied by Sheriff Thaxton.

During the evening of the 20th and the morning of the 21st shots were exchanged between the guards at the mine and the mob collecting along the highway. About noon, Jordy Henderson, a miner, was killed by the guards. He was shot a distance of about a half mile from the mine. He was very popular among the miners in both Herrin and Marion. A little later, two other miners were shot by the guards. This shooting infuriated the mobs congregating at both Herrin and Marion, and their numbers were gradually increased in both places. At Marion a mob demanded the Legion rifles, and they were finally placed under the care of the police department for protection. During the early part of the evening, automobile loads of armed men passed through the streets of Herrin and Marion, headed toward the Lester mine. Many of those automobiles came from adjoining counties. At Marion the mobs would go up first one street and then another, stopping at the houses and demanding guns. During the afternoon of the 21st the shooting at the Herrin mine had developed into a pitched battle and there were wild rumors about the streets of both Marion and Herrin to the effect that several more miners had been killed and that there was to be a general attack on the mine.

W. J. Lester on the afternoon of the 21st, at about four o'clock, called Adjutant General Black and told him there was trouble at the mine and asked him to send troops. Lester called Hunter at Marion and Governor Small at Waukegan, and advised them of the trouble and requested troops. After this telephone message, Black called the commanding officers of the companies of National Guard Troops at Mount Vernon, Cairo and Salem, asking them to get their telephone lists ready and be prepared to call their men on a moment's notice. Hunter had called General Black during the afternoon and advised him of the shooting of the miners and the ambush of the truck near Carbondale.

After returning from investigating the ambush of the truck the State's Attorney, fearing further trouble, requested the sheriff to accompany him to the mine to see what could be done, but the sheriff thought it would be better to go in the morning. At 3:10 in the afternoon of the 21st, McDowell phoned Colonel Hunter that a large mob had attacked the mine and about five hundred shots had been exchanged and asked him to send troops and also asked him to convey this request to the sheriff. Hunter then called the sheriff's office but was unable to locate him. He then instructed Deputy Sheriff Storm who was on duty at the time, to take all available deputies and to go to the mine, stop the fighting and disperse the mob. Storm replied that the sheriff was not in the city but that he could handle the situation.

About 4:30 in the afternoon, Hunter called McDowell again and suggested a truce, which was readily agreed to by McDowell. He then called Fox Hughes, who was in charge of the Miner's Union office at Herrin, and made the same suggestion. It was agreed that the men at the mine were to display a white flag and that the attacking mob was to display a white flag. Both sides were to stop fighting. The men in the mine were to be permitted to leave the county in safety and the mine was to be closed during the period of the strike. To all of these terms Fox Hughes agreed and Hunter so informed McDowell. McDowell immediately instructed one of his men to raise a white flag on the embankment west of the office within sight of Crenshaw; also instructing his men to keep watch for a white flag coming from the direction of Herrin as agreed upon by Fox Hughes. Fox Hughes claimed that he stuffed a white muslin flag in his shirt and drove out to the mine; that there was considerable firing and failing to see a white flag at the mine he did not attempt to display the flag he had.

A conference was called in the State's Attorney's office that evening, at which were present, State's Attorney Duty, Judge D. T. Hartwell, Major Davis, Hugh Willis, John Shaffer, Willson Bond, Deputy Sheriff Storm and Will Davis, a friend of Judge Hartwell. They discussed the events of the day and it was suggested that Thaxton immediately go to the mine with sufficient deputies to see that the truce was carried out. Thaxton replied that he thought it inadvisable to go out in the night time but that he would go out at six o'clock in the morning.

During the afternoon of the 21st, an aeroplane circled over the mine, dropping bombs. This aeroplane was supposed to be in the employ of the striking miners. Later in the evening there were several heavy explosions at the Herrin mine and it was found that the steam shovels had been dynamited by the mob. The lights to the mine were cut off and the water supply blown up. McDowell and his men watched until dark for the flag of truce from the attacking miners but failed to see one. The men then crawled under the trucks of the cars and lay there until day-break.

Much of the evidence submitted to the committee was of ex parte character and the fact that the committee did not continue their hearings in Williamson County in order that the witnesses subpoenaed from Chicago and elsewhere who were working for the Lester Strip Mine up to the time of the riot might be disputed by witnesses who were subpoenaed and testified in the trials at Marion. We were unable to come to a satisfactory conclusion.

At six o'clock on the morning of June 22nd, Colonel Hunter and Major Davis went to the sheriff's office to carry out the arrangement made the night previous, to go out to the mine and to see that the truce be effectively carried out. They were unable to locate the sheriff until about 8:30 when Hunter, Davis, Sheriff Thaxton and Deputy Sheriff Shaffer drove to the mine arriving there about nine o'clock. They learned that the men had left the mine.

Hunter and Davis then returned to Marion and at 10:15 Hunter had a telephone conversation with General Black in which he told Black that the men had been taken out of the mine in accordance with the truce arrangement. General Black then told Hunter that the papers had reported that several of the men had been killed while on the march to Herrin. Hunter had no knowledge of this at the time.

We have no reason to believe that the facts submitted in the subject matter of page 12 are authentic for many reasons. First: Mr. Willis was referred to as the president of the Williamson County District when he is a member of the State board. Also, hearsay, had it that someone telephoned.

After leaving the mine on the morning of the 22nd, Sheriff Thaxton and Deputy Sheriff Shaffer proceeded onto the power house woods and there assisted the coroner and the undertaker in taking care of the bodies of those killed and transporting the wounded to Herrin.

The Sheriff testified that he spent the day in Herrin talking with the wounded men and walking about the streets. From his testimony and the testimony of the other witnesses, developed the fact that neither the sheriff nor any of his deputies, or the policemen of Herrin and Marion, ever attempted to find out who was responsible for these murders or assisted in any way in securing evidence upon which to convict the guilty parties. On the contrary, it appears that they did everything in their power to protect the men accused and indicted for these murders.

Forty-four persons were later indicted for murder; fifty-eight for conspiracy to commit murder; fifty-eight for rioting and fifty-four for assault to murder. Two trials were held at Marion lasting for months, each resulting in the acquittal of the defendants. It appeared from the sentiment of the people in the community that it was impossible to convict anybody of these murders no matter how strong the testimony. The Attorney General thought it folly to proceed further and nolle prossed the other indictments.

STATEMENT OF FACTS AND FINDINGS RELATIVE TO PUBLIC AND STATE OFFICIALS
AND OTHERS DIRECTLY INVOLVED.

Your committee does respectfully submit the following facts and findings relative to the officials of both State and county, whose duty it was to enforce and determine if possible who really was responsible for the riot and what occurred in Williamson County with reference to the Lester Strip Mine trouble.

CARLOS E. BLACK, ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

Carlos E. Black was appointed Adjutant General on February 7th, 1922. During the week previous to June 19th, he had been at Camp Grant attending at the school for non-commissioned officers. From there he went to Camp Logan to look after some equipment. He returned to his office in Springfield on Monday, June 19th. About 11:00 o'clock, Colonel Hunter advised him by telephone from Marion, that the Southern Illinois Coal Company was operating a mine with non-union miners in the vicinity of Herrin; that there was bitter feeling as a result of this, and he thought that it might cause trouble. He recommended that two companies be held in readiness for any emergency that might arise. Black then instructed him to advise the sheriff to maintain order and that Hunter should make further investigation and report later in the day, which he did at about six o'clock that night. Hunter called again about one o'clock on June 21st, in which he stated that the citizen's committee was co-operating and he thought would bring desired results. Hunter called again about three o'clock in the afternoon, stating that there had been some trouble and shooting at the mine; that he got in touch with the sheriff's office and advised the deputy sheriff of this trouble and suggested that the deputy sheriff go out and disperse the mob, to which he agreed.

On the same afternoon, Lester called from the Great Northern Hotel in Chicago, advising Black of the trouble at the mine and asked for troops. Black then called the commanding officers at Mount Vernon, Salem and Cairo, advising them to have their telephone lists ready for an emergency. Hunter called again about 6:30 and said there had been some trouble at the mine and that he (Hunter) had arranged a truce. When Hunter reported at six o'clock he told Black about two union men being killed; that the guards at the mine were armed and that there had been some trouble there. On June 22nd Black put in a call for Hunter at 9:30, talked with him at 10:20. In the meantime Black had read in the newspapers of the murder and communicated that information to Hunter who seemed surprised. Black again called Hunter at 11:33 and Hunter then verified the report that a number of people had been killed and wounded. On June 23rd Black ordered the troops mobilized but they were never moved. He acted upon the recommendation of a board composed of General Foreman and five other National Guard officers who reported no need for troops existing at that time.

The committee finds that Adjutant General Black and Colonel Hunter acted upon the information at hand and were unable to anticipate the action of the mob in the destruction of life and property on the morning of June 21st.

W. J. LESTER, OWNER OF THE STRIP MINE.

W. J. Lester, who at the time of the trouble in Williamson County, was owner of the strip mine, has had considerable experience in operating mines. He was associated in other properties with C. F. Hamilton, who testified before this committee. Mr. Hamilton stated that he explained fully to Mr. Lester the labor situation in Williamson County when Lester told him he was going to operate this mine with non-union workmen; that he tried in every way to dissuade Lester from carrying out his intentions, explaining to him that it was absolutely impossible and nothing but harm, bloodshed and destruction of property could follow such a plan. He also testified that others had tried to dissuade Lester from employing non-union labor. Lester stated, however, that he was going to show the mine owners how to operate their mines without consulting the Miners' Union. It was the first time so far as this committee have been able to find out that anyone had undertaken to operate a mine with non-union labor in Illinois.

The committee was unable to locate Mr. Lester but got in touch with his attorney in Chicago. Every effort was made to induce Mr. Lester, who was out of the State, to appear before the committee but his attorney refused to produce him and he did not appear. The committee finds that the action of W. J. Lester in undertaking to run a mine in this highly unionized territory by the use of armed guards to protect the non-union workmen, was one of the chief causes of the massacre; that his plan to operate this mine when a strike was in progress was most foolhardy and unwise and could only result in bloodshed. We condemn in every particular his actions in this regard and recommend that some legislation be enacted to prevent a recurrence by another such foolish and incompetent mine owner or employer.

The use of armed guards specially hired for strike breaking is a thing to be discouraged. These men are professional guards or watchmen and in the latter capacity may properly be characterized as a private military or police force. They have been employed frequently by corporations in the case of strikes or other labor troubles and there exists an irreconcilable hostility between them and labor organizations. Nothing is better calculated to incite the latter to deeds of violence than for armed guards or professional watchmen to be brought in contact with them. The use of such guards or watchmen has grown very largely out of the sloth and dilatoriness of the civil authorities to render efficient and prompt protection to persons and property in such cases; but to allow without the consent of the State and to permit individuals or corporations to employ such armed forces is well calculated to produce irritation among the strikers, frequently resulting in hostile demonstrations and bloodshed. Such action upon the part of a corporation or association should never be allowed without the consent first obtained of the State. A contrary course tends to bring the local civil authority into contempt. Exasperated strikers will not molest or resist the officers of the State, when under exactly similar circumstances, they will assault the professional watchmen or guards hired by the corporation.

GENERAL FINDINGS.

The committee finds after a review of all of the facts before and leading up to and resulting in the massacre shown herein that under the circumstances and with the absolute failure on the part of local authorities to enforce the law or to attempt to discourage lawlessness that the same results might occur in any community in the State of Illinois. In the case of the Lester mine, operated by non-union labor in this highly unionized territory, there was a natural prejudice against the imported men. The continued abuse of the citizens and the union miners by the armed guards had driven the people almost to exasperation and only a match was needed to start the conflagration and inflame the minds of the community to drastic action. That came after the killing of the union miners about noon on June 21st, and nothing could have prevented what followed.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion it is the opinion that the evidence heard by the committee is of such controversial nature, that we are unable to definitely fix the responsibility, because of the mob spirit prevalent at the time, nor that there was any real or intended neglect of duty on the part of the public officials; furthermore, in accordance with the report of the Board of Officers from the Military Department the committee believes that this massacre could not have been anticipated and that every thing that could be done had been done by the State to forestall this trouble, because as further evidenced by the same report these mobs were composed of people from other towns and localities.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT, JUNE 30, 1923.

To the Honorable the President and Secretary of the Senate, and the Speaker and Clerk of the House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, the special committee on Constitutional Amendment, appointed pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 30, and directed to prepare a brief explanation of the amendment to section 2, Article XIV of the Constitution which the General Assembly has proposed for submission to the electors of the State, a brief argument in favor of the proposed amendment and the form in which the proposed amendment is to appear on the official ballot, submit herewith the report of our recommendations in said matter to the 53rd General Assembly of Illinois.

Respectfully submitted,

AN ADDRESS BY THE FIFTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

To the People of Illinois:

At the general election to be held on the 4th day of November, 1924, you will be called upon in your sovereign capacity as citizens to adopt or reject an amendment to section 2 of Article XIV of the Constitution of Illinois. This section 2, in its present form, is as follows:

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 2. Amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either House of the General Assembly, and if the same shall be voted for by two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendments, together with the yeas and nays of each House, thereon, shall be entered in full on their respective Journals, and said amendments shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection, at the next election of members of the General Assembly, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The proposed amendments shall be published in full at least three months preceding the election, and if a majority of the electors voting at said election shall vote for the proposed amendments, they shall become a part of this Constitution. But the General Assembly shall have no power to propose amendments to more than one article of this Constitution at the same session, nor to the same article oftener than once in four years.

The proposed amendment is popularly known as the "Gateway Amendment," authorizes the General Assembly to submit amendments to not more than two articles of the Constitution at the same election, and prohibits the submission of amendments during time of war or within one year after the Declaration of Peace, and reads as follows:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 1.

Resolved, by the Senate of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That pursuant to section 2 of article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Illinois, it is proposed that section 2 of article 14 of the Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either House of the General Assembly, and if the same shall be voted for by two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendments together with the yeas and nays of each House hereon shall be entered in full on their respective Journals and said amendments shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection at the next election of members of the General Assembly in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The proposed amendments shall be published in full at least three months preceding the election and if a majority of the electors voting at said election shall vote for the proposed amendments, they shall become a part of this Constitution. But the General Assembly shall have no power to propose amendments to more than two articles of this Constitution at the same session, nor to the same article oftener than once in four years: Provided, that no constitutional amendment shall be proposed or voted on during the time that the United States is engaged in war or within one year following the Declaration of Peace.

The form in which the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Illinois is to appear upon the official ballot at the general election on November 4, 1924, is as follows:

The proposed amendment of section 2, Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Illinois:

This amendment makes it easier to amend the Constitution of this State in this: It permits amendments to not more than two articles of the Constitution, instead of one, as at present, to be proposed at the same session of the General Assembly and submitted to the people for adoption or rejection at the next general election of members of the General Assembly: Provided, however, that no amendment may be proposed or voted on during the time that the United States is engaged in war, or within one year following the Declaration of Peace.

For the proposed amendment of Section 2, of Article XIV of the Constitution,
Against the proposed amendment to Section 2, of Article XIV of the Constitution,

BRIEF ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

The proposed amendment makes two changes in the present amending article of the Constitution. First, it permits the amendment of not more than two articles of the Constitution, instead of one, as at present, at the same session of the General Assembly; and second, it prohibits the submission of amendments during the time the United States is engaged in war, or within one year following the Declaration of Peace.

You may ask, "How does this first change help us to modernize our Constitution so as to make it fit existing conditions?" The answer is this: Our Constitution contains fourteen articles, three special sections, and one schedule. It has been claimed, with cause, that the Constitution of 1870, which is the existing Constitution of this State, is too rigid, and is too difficult of amendment. While it is true that a Constitution should have a degree of permanance, yet it should not be incapable of change. There must be some method by which a Constitution can be corrected, or modified to meet changed conditions, and a small minority should not be permitted too long to block a constitutional change favored by the majority. The proposed amendment, if adopted, relaxes the provision which has been in force heretofore, and makes it possible more easily to amend our entire Constitution if circumstances and conditions so require.

The reason for the second change is apparent. It is manifestly unjust, and perhaps unsafe to make changes in the fundamental law of the State during a time when a large portion of its citizenship is necessarily prevented from taking part in the deliberations of framing and the discussions attending the adoption of a constitutional change. We believe this provision to be fair, and that it gives added stability to our institutions.

To adopt this amendment requires the favorable vote of a majority of all the electors voting at the election. A failure to vote for it is equivalent to a vote against it. Indifference, and a refusal to vote on this proposition, simply means that constitutional changes necessary to modernize our basic law must be delayed. It cannot be too strongly urged that every elector should vote for this proposal. It should be remembered that this proposed amendment merely liberalizes the present amending section of our Constitution and will in no way change any other section of that Constitution.

CONCLUSION.

One of the fundamental rights of the men and women of Illinois is so to maintain their Constitution as to make it fit existing and future conditions of our people. By a decisive vote the electorate of this State has decided not to rewrite the entire Constitution through the method of calling a Constitutional Convention. We are now proposing a method of amending the State Constitution without subjecting or exposing the State to the dangers, inconvenience and expenses of another Constitutional Convention called for the purpose of revising the Constitution. Such a convention always exposes the entire Constitution to change, and if the changes are adopted, they may introduce uncertainty and chaos into the basic law, open the flood gate of litigation, unsettle business and disturb social and political relations. We call upon the men and women of Illinois to give careful study to the proposed change and so to discharge, after due consideration and deliberation, this highest political duty of changing the fundamental law of the State as to make it possible to form a more perfect government, establish more complete justice, and promote the general welfare of all our people and to still further secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.

Done by the General Assembly at the Capitol in the city of Springfield on the 30th day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred twenty-three.

In witness whereof the President and the Secretary of the Senate, and the Speaker and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, have hereunto subscribed their names.

FRED E. STERLING,
President of the Senate.

J. H. PADDOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.

DAVID E. SHANAHAN,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

B. H. McCANN,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

And the question being on the adoption of the report, it was decided in the affirmative.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Mr. Devine as the member, on the part of the House, of the commission provided for in House Bill No. 834.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Messrs. Smejkal and Fahy as members, on the part of the House, of the commission provided for in House Bill No. 407.

Mr. Curran, from the committee heretofore appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, reported that they had performed that duty, and that the Governor desired them to state to the House that he had no further communication to make other than through his Secretary, except to extend his thanks for the courtesy shown him during the session.

A message from the Governor, by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives the following communications:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 259, entitled, "An Act to amend section 89a of 'An Act to establish and maintain a system of free schools,' approved June 12, 1909, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill makes certain amendments to section 89a of the School Law. The same section was amended by House Bill 819. Both bills were introduced and supported by the same people. They have suggested that House Bill 259 be vetoed and House Bill 819 approved so that there might be no confusion in the law as to which of these two sections would prevail.

I therefore veto this bill and return the same herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 356, entitled, "An Act to add section 3a to 'An Act provided for the licensing of dogs and for the payment of damages done by dogs to sheep out of the license fee,' approved May 29, 1879, as amended, and to amend the title thereof," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill deals with the disposition of the dog license fund in the various counties. Substantially the same provisions are embodied in Senate Bill 457, which has been approved. Consequently, I have vetoed House Bill 356 and return the same herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 145, entitled, "An Act to amend sections 18 and 46 of 'An Act in regard to the administration of estates,' approved April 1, 1872, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill attempts to amend sections 18 and 46 of the Administration Act, and in substance permits heirs or distributees of an intestate estate, who are non-residents, to nominate administrators of estates. Heretofore, only resident heirs, next of kin or distributees were permitted the right of nomination, and in case all of the heirs, next of kin or distributees were non-residents, the right of administration went to the Public Administrator of the various counties.

This bill, if approved, would, I am informed, take away at least ninety per cent of the business of the Public Administrators of the various counties of the State. The office of Public Administrator is a necessary and indispensable office, and it seems to me unfair, and unwise to take away most of the business of that office and yet require him upon the depleted business and revenues of the office to continue to perform necessary public duties.

The Public Administrator, as a rule, can only administer upon estates where the deceased leaves no heirs or next of kin, who are residents of the State and in most of such instances as soon as death occurs, administration and attention are absolutely necessary. Valuable property must be looked after and the estate investigated almost instantly, otherwise, as is disclosed by experience, much of the estate is dissipated, if not stolen.

The Public Administrator also being a public officer of the State takes care that all taxes due to the State are promptly and fully paid. If this law were approved, it is believed that much of the taxes due to the State would be lost and the State would suffer an inestimable loss of public revenues.

For all of these reasons I veto and withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith House Bill No. 220, entitled, "An Act making appropriations for the pay of officers and members of the next General Assembly and certain officers of the State government."

I veto and withhold my approval from the following items therein contained:

Page 1, section 1, lines 25 and 26, both inclusive, from the top of the page "For Assistant Attorney General (Cook County), $3,500.00 per annum."

Page 1, section 1, lines 27 and 28, both inclusive, from the top of the page "For Assistant Attorney General (Cook County), $5,000.00 per annum."

Page 1, section 1, lines 29 and 30, both inclusive, from the top of the page "For Two Assistants Attorney General (Cook County at $4,000.00 each, $8,000.00 per annum."

I submit as reasons for vetoing these items the following:

Since the time that over $500,000 was eliminated from the Attorney General's appropriation bill and the veto of this amount was sustained by the General Assembly, more information has come into my possession convincing me that appropriations to the Attorney General are, wherever that officer has an opportunity, used in a wasteful and extravagant manner and for partisan and political purposes. Whenever he has a chance to use public moneys to build up a partisan political machine, the Attorney General of this State loses no opportunity to do so.

Early during the session, representations were made to the General Assembly that the sum of $75,000 was necessary to be appropriated to the Attorney General to enable him to prosecute violations of the law in Williamson County. Newspaper mouthpieces of the sordid political faction represented by the Attorney General were loud in their demand that money be appropriated for alleged enforcement of the law. The amount was appropriated.

At the time this sum was voted, Otis F. Glenn, was a member of the General Assembly. He was a member of the Legislature which passed the law authorizing payment for services which might be contracted in the Williamson County cases. By section 15 of Article IV of the Constitution, Glenn, as a member of the General Assembly was prohibited from being "interested either directly or indirectly in any contract with the State or any county thereof, authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected or within one year after the expiration thereof."

This section of the Constitution applies to contracts for personal services as well as to contracts for material, goods, wares or anything else. It applies to all contracts, whether express or implied, whether made directly or indirectly. If Senator Glenn agreed to perform any personal services to be paid out of this appropriation, such contract was void and the payments, hereafter mentioned, made to him were contrary to the provisions of the Constitution.

But I do not believe that Senator Glenn did any work in Williamson County after the passage of this Act. He was in Springfield spending most of his time making slanderous, untruthful, factional speeches against the Republican State administration, posing as an uplifter and pretending to be a reformer. He was termed a "Vigilante" by his associates, a term undoubtedly applied to him because of his vigilance in promoting his own finances out of the State Treasury, contrary to the Constitution.

There is another respect in which this payment to Senator Glenn, a member of the General Assembly, was unlawful and in violation of the Constitution. What services, if any, were performed by Senator Glenn in Williamson County were performed before the passage of the Herrin appropriation. He is said to have assisted the prosecution through part of the trials in Williamson County but when the time came for arguments to the jury, he was busy attending to political matters in Springfield, ineffectually attempting to organize the State Senate, presumably so that the appropriations from which he could benefit could be made larger than they were made.

When Glenn was therefore paid out of the so-called "Herrin appropriation" the payment to him, if it was for anything other than politics, was made for services performed long before the passage of the appropriation. The Constitution provides in section 19 of Article IV:

"The General Assembly shall never grant or authorize extra compensation, fee or allowances to any public officer, agent, servant or contractor after the service has been rendered and contract made, nor authorize the payment of any claim or any part thereof hereafter created against the State, under any agreement or contract made without express authority of the law; all such unauthorized agreements shall be null and void."

Knowing, as he should, that these two constitutional provisions existed and that each prohibited him from receiving any part of the moneys appropriated for the prosecution of the Williamson County law suits, Senator Glenn, while he was sitting as a member of the General Assembly, on the 18th day of April, 1923, received and accepted and retains the benefit of, a voucher against the Williamson County appropriation, in the sum of $5,000.

But, apparently, the vituperative utterances of Senator Glenn were so pleasing to his political masters that they decided he should receive additional compensation, contrary to the Constitution and the laws, and on the 13th day of June there was handed to Senator Glenn another check out of the State Treasury drawn against the Attorney General's Herrin appropriation for $7,500.

This is but one instance of the flagrant disregard of the Constitution and the laws which marks the expenditure of appropriations by the Attorney General whenever the opportunity is offered to him. In this case, under the guise of prosecuting law suits, none of which he won, the Attorney General received money from the State Treasury and instead of expending it in the manner in which the Legislature intended, he brazenly used the same contrary to the Constitution and very clearly for the payment of political services rendered by one of his henchmen in the Senate.

I have vetoed these items for the purpose of placing them beyond unlawful and political uses.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

The foregoing messages from the Governor, transmitting vetoes to House bills numbered 259, 356, 145, and veto in part to House Bill No. 220, were received and ordered placed on file.

The Clerk presented the further vetoes of the Governor, filed in his office since the adjournment of the House on June 19th, as per indorsement thereon, as follows:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 29, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 598, entitled, "An Act to provide for the creation, setting apart, maintenance and administration of State employees' annuity and benefit fund," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

Since this bill has been presented to me for consideration, a violent protest against its approval has been voiced by many State employees. One petition requesting that it be vetoed contains over 400 signatures. Other employees have complained of the bill to their Representatives. On the whole, I believe that a majority of State employees are opposed to this measure as it is now drawn.

This bill was designed in the hope of creating and establishing a pension system for State employees. I regret very much that I am unable to approve a measure providing some workable pension plan, as I realize that there are a number of employees of the State who have served for a long period of time, who are of advanced age and are entitled to consideration from the State. However, I have carefully studied this measure and find that the scheme outlined in this bill is impracticable and impossible of operation.

By section 1, the Act is made to apply only to the employees in the classified civil service. If a pension act is adopted for State employees, it, of course, should include all of those in the classified civil service, but there is no reason for excluding employees who are not within the provisions of that Act. In the Highway Department and in other divisions not under civil service, there are many efficient and faithful employees who are serving the State and who should be entitled to consideration under a pension law equally with those persons who are appointed by virtue of civil service. It seems to me unfair to limit the operation of a Pension Act to employees under civil service and deny the possibility of a pension to those who are engaged in departments which, by law, are placed beyond the scope of the Civil Service Law.

Furthermore, the Act provides that an employee on reaching the age of fifty-five years, if he has served for twenty years, is eligible to a pension, and in section 12 of the Act the burden is placed upon the employee to show why, on arriving at this age, he should not be retired. Fifty-five years of age is too soon to retire the ordinary normal person. There are many employees of the State performing excellent services whose age is greater than fifty-five years. Most of the elective State officers in the Executive Department are above that age; some of the Justices of the Supreme Court are older than that; and all are quite vigorous and perform the duties placed upon them by law. Besides, under the rules of the Civil Service Commission, persons are eligible to appointment in the State service up to the time of sixty years. Consequently, this Act provides for the retirement at a less age than is provided in the civil service rules for appointment.

The principal objection to this Act, however, lies in the fact that upon its face it presents a scheme which is doomed to financial failure. The pension fund provided for by this Act would be obtained by deducting three per cent from the salary of each employee under civil service. There is no other course or sources of revenue contemplated by this Act, except the remote possibility of receiving gifts or donations from third parties. At the end of twenty years of service, whether performed before or after this Act would go into effect, the employee would be entitled to a pension. Section 13 provides that the pension would be a sum per year obtained by multiplying the length of service of such employee by two per cent and taking this percentage and multiplying it by the salary earned by such employee during the year before retiring.

If, therefore, under this Act an employee would work for twenty years, which is the maximum time he would have to work, (unless he had not yet attained fifty-five years of age) he would have contributed during that period sixty per cent of one year's salary; if the employee worked for thirty-three years under this Act and had contributed his three per cent each year, he would have contributed ninety-nine per cent of one year's salary. During this period, in either case, the interest accretions would perhaps not more than double the amount of his contributions. In the first case supposed, therefore, there would be in the fund created by the employee's contributions an amount equal to one hundred and twenty per cent of one year's salary. Then, under the provisions of this Act he would be entitled to forty per cent of one year's salary for each year thereafter. This forty per cent annuity or pension fund would, therefore, exhaust the fund standing to the credit of an employee within three years. In the second case supposed, namely, the case of an employee working thirty-three years, the fund equitably standing to the credit of the employee would be exhausted in five years after retirement.

The pension fund contemplated by this Act would not have the advantage had by an ordinary insurance company, in which persons contribute and then withdraw before they are entitled to insurance, leaving the money contributed by them in the company; for this Act provides that when an employee is discharged or resigns, he shall receive back all amounts contributed by him into the pension fund. Likewise, when an employee dies his widow, children or dependent parents receive the amounts contributed by him into the pension fund.

These observations make it clear that the pension fund on its face would eventually become insolvent and inoperative. The pensions provided for by the Act could not be paid out of the contributions made by the individual employees.

But the financial condition which would develop in the administration of this fund is even worse than has been above suggested. It provides that when a person has served twenty years, whether a part or all of the time is before the going into effect of this Act, or thereafter, and the employee has attained the age of fifty-five years, he shall be entitled to a pension. The Act makes no provision (as do all other Pension Acts in force in this State) for contributions by employees to cover the period of service prior to the taking effect of the Act. There would be several hundred employees in the State service who would be entitled to a pension at once, and yet these employees would never have contributed one dollar into the pension fund. Other employees may have worked ten or fifteen years and they would contribute only for ten and five years respectively into the pension fund. The result of this would be that the young employees with no years of service behind them at the time this Act goes into effect, or with only a few years of service behind them on July 1, of this year, would be contributing their money to pay pensions to the older employees who, under this Act, would not be required to pay a dollar into the pension fund, or in other cases would be required to pay into the pension fund for only a few years. This is manifestly unfair to the employees who have worked only a few years; but in addition to this it clearly demonstrates that the fund would become bankrupt in very short order.

This, of course, is the principal objection to the operation of the pension fund. I am convinced that when the Act is studied by State employees in the light of the suggestions which I have made in this veto message, they will appreciate that the plan outlined in this Act is unfair, unworkable and one which will inevitably result in bankruptcy and a collapse of the entire pension system which might be established under the Act. If a pension system is desired among State employees, nothing worse could happen to them than to originate and begin the operation of a pension fund which would fail within a few years after it was begun. The utter financial failure of a pension fund would very likely discourage future General Assemblies from attempts to enact other pension laws.

Other minor objections could be pointed out in the Act, but they are not so vital as the ones to which reference has already been made. It may be suggested that under this Act employees have no election as to whether they will take advantage of the same or not. Three per cent is arbitrarily deducted from their salary every month and retained in the fund. It may be doubted whether such provision ought to be included in a pension law.

Attention also is directed to section 10, the meaning of which is not at all clear. This section is so drawn and is so ambiguous that after some study it has been impossible to understand what was intended to be done by this section.

Attention is also directed to one part of section 17 which provides "Neither the widow of an employee who married him after he became entitled to an annuity nor his children shall receive any annuity." This would bar his children even though they may have been born of a former marriage contracted long before the time that the employee became entitled to an annuity. Such children would not be upon the same basis as other children of other employees.

As I have above stated, I am very sorry that I must veto this Act, as I appreciate there are a number of older employees in the State service who are entitled to some assistance from the State because of their long and faithful service in the employ of this commonwealth. But a pension plan which is financially unsound would be a detriment rather than an assistance to these worthy employees.

I venture to suggest to the employees of the State that a careful study be made of the pension acts applying to school teachers, municipal employees and others which were enacted at the Fifty-second session of the General Assembly and amended at the present session. Those acts represent the most advanced development in pension laws and annuity systems, are the result of many years of experience and have been scientifically worked out by persons who have devoted many years of study to the drafting of pension systems. By following these methods it may be possible to devise a scheme for State employees which would be practicable in operation and financially sound.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 27, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 655, entitled "An Act to amend section 1 of Article V of 'An Act to provide for the incorporation of cities and villages,' approved April 10, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill as it has finally come to me for action provides for licensing and taxing practically every person or firm dealing at wholesale or retail in any goods, wares, or in any of the essentials of life. It confers as well power to license manufacturers and those engaged in the storage and warehousing of commodities. Under this bill the city council of any city, incorporated town or village in this State is given power to license and tax at not to exceed $1000 per year practically any business place regardless of size of character within the corporate limits of such respective municipalities.

This bill as it comes to me does not contain the provisions of the bill which passed the Legislature. It was the understanding of the General Assembly and of the public at large that this bill was effectively limited to the city of Chicago, and that it could not apply to any municipality having a population of less than 200,000 inhabitants. This was also my understanding before this bill was presented to me for approval or veto.

However, a careful examination of the provisions of this bill discloses that amendments have been made which greatly enlarge the licensing and taxing powers of municipalities, and that in only one paragraph is this power limited to cities having a population of more than 200,000. Consequently, this bill was not the bill which the General Assembly understood that it was approving and passing.

Moreover, the records of the Legislature disclose that paragraph 91a was amended in the Senate by an amendment limiting the powers in question to the city of Chicago. On the other hand, there was in the Legislature no amendment to paragraph 54 limiting that paragraph to Chicago. This is the situation disclosed by the Journals. The bill as it comes to me limits paragraph 54 to the city of Chicago but has no such limitation in section 91a. Consequently the bill as certified to me does not contain the same provisions as it was when it left the Senate and House of Representatives with their approval.

This in itself is a situation which should cause the executive to pause before placing his approval upon the bill. Certainly he should not lend his support to a measure which is different from the one passed by the General Assembly. I am, moreover, informed that in the case entitled County of Cook vs Healy, 222 Illinois, at page 310, the Supreme Court held that a situation similar to this rendered a bill invalid. It was there said:

"It was admitted that the defendant had collected and retained the fees sued for, and on his part it was proved that the sum of money named in section 2 of the act as his salary was $12,000 when the act was passed by the Legislature, but that said sum had been altered to $10,000 when the act was signed and approved by Governor Yates. A material provision of that section had been altered, and the legislature and Governor did not concur in the same provision as to the amount of compensation to be paid to the State's Attorney. Section 2 was therefore void and must be treated as a nullity."

I am informed that the Supreme Court of Illinois has at a later date held unconstitutional an Act which, when presented to the Governor, failed to contain amendments which were shown by the Journals of the General Assembly. This was the case of the People vs Leuders in Volume 283 of the Illinois reports at page 287.

The result of this situation is, I believe, that even were this bill approved, it would under the authority of these cases in our Supreme Court be invalid and of no force and effect.

In addition to the reasons above set out I veto this bill because it provides a method of taxation which is not fundamentally sound and which if carried to extreme uncurtailed as in the proposed Act might wreck and ruin many legitimate lines of commercial and industrial enterprises. Taxpayers generally throughout Illinois are decidedly hostile to greater and heavier taxes, especially for purposes for which the ordinary means of raising revenue should be adequate. They are opposed to more taxes to meet current expenditures, and for governmental projects not in the nature of permanent improvements which future generations may benefit from.

The County of Cook wherein the city of Chicago is located decreased the assessed value of its taxable property for the year 1922 by approximately $50,000,000; whereas, an increase of at least a corresponding or greater amount should have been shown. This is the year of the quadrennial reassessment of real estate. The city of Chicago with its stupendous increase of property values due to the completed new improvements should show an increase of several hundred million dollars in the assessed value of its real and personal property. This alone should be the source of largely increased revenues. There is no system of taxation which has yet been devised which in actual operation has lightened the burden of the taxpayer of small and moderate means and there is nothing in this bill which promises exception to this general rule.

I feel that the approval of this proposed measure would only supply another obstacle to the delay in the much needed revision of our whole State taxing and revenue system.

This bill by providing a maximum tax of $1000 without providing a system of gradation provides possibilities for taxing solely for the benefit of the rich and powerful, because a tax of $1000 upon the business of a millionaire corporation would be a very light tax; whereas, a tax of one-half or one-fourth of that amount would be very heavy when placed upon the moderate business of a storekeeper or small manufacturer.

For all of these reasons I veto and withhold my approval from said House Bill 655.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 26, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 230, entitled, "An Act to amend section 6 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to clerks of courts,' approved March 25, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill amends section 6 of the Act relating to clerks of courts by providing that the offices of the clerks of all courts throughout the State shall be closed on Saturday afternoon during the entire year. This bill, if approved, would seriously interfere with the service rendered by the clerks of courts to the citizens of all down-State counties. In all of these counties it has been the custom among the citizens for many years to transact most of their business at the county seat on Saturday afternoon. A visit to any down-State county seat on Saturday afternoon will demonstrate that there are more of the citizens who come to the county seat on that half day than at any other time during the week. If there is any time during which the offices of the clerks of courts should be open and ready to render service to the people of their respective counties, it is on Saturday afternoon. While I have no objection to the Saturday half holiday in and of itself, yet I feel that the clerks of courts are public servants and their first duty is to serve the people of their various counties in a manner most convenient and desirable to the people.

I therefore veto House Bill 230 and return the same herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

SPRINGFIELD, June 25, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 305, entitled, "An Act to add section 46a to Subdivision 2 of Article VI of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to roads and bridges,' approved June 27, 1913," and submit as reasons for vetoing said bill the following:

This bill would make it the duty of a township highway commissioner to execute a bond with two or more sureties in twice the amount of money that could be raised by the maximum tax levy for roads and bridges in his township, but not exceeding $10,000. It would require that this bond guarantee the performance of his duties and that he would not issue warrants in excess of 75 per cent of the amount that would be raised by a levy which he might make.

This is an unreasonable requirement to place upon a township highway commissioner. Under the Road and Bridge Act the highway commissioner is not the custodian of the road and bridge taxes. By section 42 of that Act, in counties under township organization, the supervisor is treasurer of the road and bridge fund, while in counties not under township organization the district clerk is such treasurer. Section 52 of the same Act provides that such officer, as treasurer of the road and bridge fund, shall execute and file a bond in double the amount of moneys which are likely to come into his hands as road and bridge taxes. Therefore, the present law provides for ample protection to the township in the custody of the road and bridge funds. The highway commissioner at no time has possession of the moneys of the township, but is the person who draws the warrant or order for the payment of moneys. To require him also to execute a bond serves no good purpose and merely adds a heavy and unnecessary burden and responsibility upon the commissioner.

The bill furthermore provides that the bonds should be conditioned that the commissioner would not issue warrants for more than 75 per cent of the amount which would be raised by a levy. There is no other provision in the law limiting the amount of warrants which may be drawn to 75 per cent of the amount of the levy. This implied prohibition would be the only statement in the law limiting a commissioner to warrants aggregating not more than 75 per cent. The amount of taxes which may be levied by a town has been established by law and this amount is proportioned to the needs of the townships. There is no reason why only three-fourths of this amount should be used or why the township should be limited to the expenditure of only three-fourths of its levies for building roads. The purpose of permitting a tax levy for roads and bridges, or indeed for any other purpose, is to permit the expenditure of the amount of money which can be so raised by such levy. If the Legislature desires to cut down the amount which may be expended by a town, it would seem that the proper way in which to amend the law would be to reduce the amount of the levy and not, as is attempted by this bill, to provide that only three-fourths of the levy may be spent.

Moreover if only three-fourths of the levy may be spent, there would be accumulated one-fourth of the levy of each year, and it is not clear whether or not this section would prohibit the expenditure of such one-fourth.

For all of these reasons I veto and withhold my approval from said House Bill No. 305.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.
STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 28, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 619, entitled, "An Act to amend section 1 of an Act entitled, 'An Act to provide for the setting apart, formation and disbursement of a police pension in cities, villages and incorporated towns in the State of Illinois, having a population of not less than 5,000 and not more than 200,000 inhabitants,' approved June 14, 1909, as subsequently amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill attempts to make it clear that the levy for police pension in cities of 5,000 to 200,000 is to be in addition to the general levy for city and village purposes. This same object is accomplished by Senate Bill 328, which also makes other important amendments in the pension law.

I have therefore approved Senate Bill 328 and return House Bill 619 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.
STATE OF ILLINOIS,

SPRINGFIELD, June 28, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 618, entitled "An Act to amend section 6 of an Act entitled, 'An Act to provide for the acquisition, equipment, conduct and maintenance of public playgrounds in and by cities, towns and villages having a population of less than one hundred fifty thousand,' approved June 24, 1921," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill attempts to amend section 6 of the Act providing for playgrounds in cities of less than one hundred and fifty thousand people. The purpose of the amendment is to make it clear that the tax levy provided in the Act should be in addition to the amount authorized to be levied for general purposes by section 1 of Article VIII of the Cities and Villages Act.

Senate Bill 229, which has been approved, amends and re-writes the entire Act providing for playgrounds in cities of less than one hundred and fifty thousand. It includes a provision making it clear that the playgrounds tax shall be in addition to the general tax authorized by section 1 of Article VIII of the Cities and Villages Act. The purpose of House Bill 618 is therefore fully accomplished by the approval of Senate Bill 229.

Moreover, with the approval of Senate Bill 229, section 6 is not worded the same as section 6 in the old Act. House Bill 618 would therefore form no connected part of the playground act as rewritten and amended.

For these reasons I veto this bill and return the same herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 27, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I veto and return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 572, entitled, "An Act to amend section 1 of 'An Act to tax gifts, legacies, inheritances, transfers, appointments and interests in certain cases, and to provide for the collection of the same, and repealing certain Acts therein named,' approved June 14, 1909, in force July 1, 1909, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill would reduce by 50 per cent the present rates of inheritance taxes upon estates in Illinois.

In my Inaugural Message to the Fifty-second General Assembly, I recommended "the amendment of our revenue laws so that rich tax-dodgers would be compelled to file honest returns just as they are compelled under Federal laws to make true and accurate returns of their incomes, and I further recommend that the State inheritance tax be materially increased." Upon that recommendation the Fifty-second General Assembly did materially increase the inheritance taxes to their present rates.

In my message to the Fifty-third General Assembly in January of this year, the following recommendations and statements were made: "A considerable portion of the funds required for State expenses are now being raised by indirect taxation. This method of providing funds is used by a number of other states, some of which raise all of the revenue they require by this means. With our present rate of 45 cents on the one hundred dollar of assessed valuation, we will raise about fifteen or sixteen million dollars. This is but a little more than the amount paid out by the State for educational purposes this fiscal year, which amounts to $14,500,000.

I would suggest that the General Assembly investigate other means of indirect taxation and give serious consideration to still further increasing the inheritance tax."

If taxes are to be reduced, there are other taxes in which reduction should be made before they are made in the inheritance tax rates. No tax falls more lightly or more justly upon the people and none should be more willingly borne than an inheritance tax. Other taxes are a direct and sometimes a serious burden upon the producer. A direct personal or real property tax taxes the property of a person who is engaged in business and whose property is the result of his own effort. An income tax takes from a person annually a part of the earnings for which he has labored and toiled. An inheritance tax, on the other hand, does not tax the person who has earned or accumulated the fortune, but falls rather upon the person who receives such property by bequest, device or descent. The person out of whose inheritance this tax is paid is not paying it out of his earnings, or out of his accumulations, but is paying the tax out of property which he receives gratuitously and in by far the large majority of the cases without having earned any part of it.

It is true that the inheritance tax falls more heavily upon those who inherit large amounts than those who receive smaller amounts by devise or bequest, but if because of the wonderful opportunities and the unbounded resources of this country an ancestor is able to accumulate great wealth, why should not his children willingly pay to the government in inheritance tax a part of the fortune which the protection of the government made it possible to accumulate?

It has been argued that the imposition of heavier inheritance taxes induces persons of wealth to evade the payment of such taxes by changing their places of residence, by the establishment of trusts, or by other devices. As to every tax imposed by any government the same argument in a different form could be made. There never was a tax which those upon whom it was imposed did not seek to avoid. If the fact that people seek to avoid a tax would mean that the tax should be repealed, then it would be necessary for the government to repeal all taxes and be without any revenue of any kind.

It is my feeling that the government is justified in taking a larger share from the fortunate person who inherits great wealth without having earned it and thus relieving, at least to some extent, the toiler who must pay his taxes out of the fruit of his own labor.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 27, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 559, entitled, "An Act to amend sections 14, 16 and 19 of Article XIII of 'An Act to provide for the incorporation of cities and villages,' approved April 10, 1872, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

The purpose of this bill was to provide that police magistrates in cities under the commission form of government be elected at the same time and in the same manner as mayors in such cities. A companion bill, House Bill 560, had the same purpose and that bill has been approved.

However, in the preparation of this bill a serious mistake was made with reference to section 19. At the present time that section provides for the manner of printing ballots for the general city election under commission form of government, the kind of ballots to be used, and for a non-partisan election of candidates. In amending this section so as to put in the sentence providing for the election of police magistrates upon the same ballot, there were omitted by inadvertence five or six paragraphs. If House Bill 559 were approved it would leave section 19 without any provision as to the ballots for the general city election and it might mean that the general city election in cities under the commission form would be subject to the general election laws. This would be inconsistent with the nominations at the primary, which are made on a non-partisan basis.

I have notified the proponents of this bill of this discrepancy and they agree with me that it would be unwise and undesirable to approve House Bill 559.

I have therefore vetoed and withhold my approval of said House Bill 559.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 285, entitled, "An Act to add section 12 to Article XI of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to township organization,' approved March 4, 1874, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill provides that every supervisor who holds a fund made up of dog license fees shall pay such fund into the general township fund. Two other bills were passed by this session of the Legislature disposing of the dog license fees, among them Senate Bill 457, which I have approved. The provisions of this bill are inconsistent with Senate Bill 457, and I am therefore obliged to return this bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 467, entitled, "An Act to amend sections 6 and 50 of 'An Act to regulate the practice in courts of chancery,' approved March 15, 1872, as amended," and submit as reasons for my veto the following:

This bill attempts to amend sections 6 and 50 of the Chancery Act. The amendments to section 6 are not considered objectionable, but the changes made in section 50, I believe constitute an undesirable departure from the existing law.

The amendment to this section provides that where any lands or any estate therein are subject to contingent future interests, legal or equitable, whether arising by way of remainder, reversion, possibility of reverter, executory devise, upon the happening of a condition subsequent, or otherwise, and whether a trust is involved or not, and it is made to appear that such lands or estate are liable to waste or depreciation in value, or that the sale thereof and the safe and proper investment of the proceeds will inure to the benefit and advantage of the persons entitled thereto, or that it is otherwise necessary for the conservation, preservation or protection of the property or estate or of any present or contingent future interest therein that such lands or estate be sold, mortgaged, leased, et cetera, the court shall have power, pending the happening of the contingency and the vesting of such future interests, to declare a trust, and to appoint a trustee or trustees for such lands or estate and to vest in him title to the property, and to authorize and direct him to sell such property at public or private sale, and upon such terms and conditions as the court may direct.

The effect of this bill, if approved, would be to place within the power of a court of chancery to rewrite and alter the last will and testament, or the deed of any man under certain circumstances. If by will or deed any person were to create a contingent future interest, legal or equitable, in his property and a petition were presented to a court of chancery, the chancellor might practically, at his whim, order the sale of the property contrary to the expressed intention of the testator or the grantor in the deed and in this way might effectually change, defeat, alter or set aside the expressed intention of the person making the will or the deed.

I do not believe that the courts desire, nor do I believe that it is desirable that they should have the power to rewrite a will, or to change a deed, of a citizen. It may be true that some provisions made in a will are unwise or improvident, but on the whole, the self interest of the testator, or of the grantor of the deed, will more often reflect sound business judgment than would the opinion of the court, because the court would necessarily not be familiar with the details of the business of the person making the will or the deed. It would, no doubt, be safer to leave to the owner of the property the question of its disposition than to leave that question to a court which could not be familiar with the details and the facts relating to the property in question.

I have therefore vetoed and withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

LEN. SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

The foregoing messages from the Governor, transmitting vetoes to House bills numbered 655, 598, 229, 230, 305, 619, 618, 572, 559, 285 and 467, were received and ordered placed on file.

At the hour of 4:40 o'clock p. m., Mr. Little moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And, in accordance with Senate Joint Resolution No. 29, the House stood adjourned sine die.
